

Chapter 961: An Xiaohui's Family Matters

An Xiaohui held the phone and listened to her father's loud voice shouting at her. She had a headache and felt wronged.

She rubbed her temples and explained to Father An, "Father, it's not that I rejected An Yang. It's the company. You should know better than me what kind of person An Yang is.

"Why did he get rejected in the first round? First, his character isn't up to par. Not only is he lazy, but he's also overly ambitious. He wants to be a manager the moment he joins the company. Father, do you think a person like An Yang can be a manager?"

Father An didn't listen to her explanation and said, "I don't care. It's your fault that An Yang can't get into your company. Now that your uncle is making a scene at home, all my relatives and friends know that I have a daughter who isn't filial. She has a good job but looks down on her relatives." Speaking up to this point, Father An ordered, "An Xiaohui, let me tell you. Immediately arrange a job for An Yang in your company. It better be a department manager or something. Otherwise, I'm not your father anymore. I don't have a cold and heartless daughter like you!"

An Xiaohui called out helplessly, "Dad, can you not be unreasonable? I don't own this company.

"Dad, let me tell you, I don't have such great authority. Do you know what kind of qualifications are required for a department manager in our company? There are many people with PhDs and Masters that are rejected too.

"What kind of qualifications does An Yang have? He is just a third-rate university graduate. But that is fine. After all, our company doesn't place much emphasis on qualifications, only on ability.

"But Dad, is An Yang capable?"

"After graduating from university, he couldn't find any kind of job for long. He either complained that the work was tiring or that the salary was too little. He also complained that the company didn't directly arrange a manager position for him. Later on, he didn't go to work for a long time. He played games at home and stayed idly at home for two years.

"For a person like An Yang, not to mention our company, even some small companies wouldn't want him.

"Dad, don't make things difficult for me. I won't use my work for personal gain and arrange for An Yang to work for our company. Unless he wants to work as a vegetable farmer on the plantation."

"Vegetable farmer?" Father An was a little puzzled.

Then, a voice from the side was transmitted to the phone.

“Vegetable farmer?” A female voice shouted, “An Xiaohui, it’s fine that you look down on poor people, but An Yang is your cousin. You both graduated from university, but you actually criticized him and looked down on him. In other words, you’re saying that my Yang ‘Er is inferior to you. It’s clear that you look down on us, and that’s why you won’t do us this simple favor.”

“An Xiaohui, I can see that you’re a cold-blooded and heartless bitch.” On the phone, An Xiaohui’s aunt cursed at her. Then, An Xiaohui heard her aunt say to her parents, “Big Brother and sister-in-law, in the future, our two families should stop interacting with each other. We’re not worthy.”

“Sister-in-law, don’t be angry. Let’s talk things out!” Mother An quickly comforted her.

“What’s there to talk about?” Aunt An said angrily, “In the future, our two families will not come to visit anymore. We are really not worthy of your daughter who looks down on us!”

The last sentence was like a stab to the heart of Father and Mother An, especially An Xiaohui. She felt even more wronged and helpless.

Then, An Xiaohui heard the sound of a bang. It was probably the sound of her second uncle and aunt slamming the door as they left.

Then, An Xiaohui heard an angry roar. “An Xiaohui, I’m not your father anymore. This isn’t your home either. We don’t have such a cold-blooded and heartless daughter!”

With that, the other party directly hung up the phone.

An Xiaohui held the phone. She looked like she wanted to cry, but there were no tears. She was also extremely sad.

She didn’t know what to do with her parents, who didn’t support her.

Her parents only had her as a daughter. Their family preferred sons, so her parents always wanted a son.

But this wish never came true.

Gradually, they got older and stopped trying.

However, because they did not have a son, they placed their hopes on their nephew. They hoped that when they were old, their nephew would look after them.

They even promised that their family’s property would be given to An Yang in the future.

It was really funny.

They gave their property to her nephew, but they asked her for everything.

An Xiaohui felt very sad, but she also felt helpless.

Her parents were old-fashioned. As her daughter, she could not really ignore them. They were furious that she had failed An Yang this time. They would ignore her for a long time.

This was also good. She could be quiet for a period of time. Her parents’ health was still fine, so she did not have to worry for the time being.

Thinking of this, An Xiaohui rubbed her red eyes, and then she paused.

“What’s wrong?” Xiao Lingyu walked into An Xiaohui’s office and saw An Xiaohui’s red eyes. “Are you crying? Have you been under too much pressure at work recently?”

An Xiaohui shook her head and said, “This has nothing to do with work. It’s just my family matters.”

Xiao Lingyu had heard about An Xiaohui’s family matters. She pulled a chair over and sat directly opposite An Xiaohui, “Your family matters? Could it be that your parents called again and asked you to arrange a job for one of your relatives?”

An Xiaohui’s expression was a little surprised. “CEO Xiao, how did you know?”

Xiao Lingyu said, “Almost everyone in the company knows about your family matters.” She spread her hands and said, “Of course, I’ve heard about it.”

“Huh?” An Xiaohui’s expression was a little stunned. She never expected that her matter would be known by everyone in the company. This was... too embarrassing.

Looking at her expression, Xiao Lingyu found it funny. She said, “Alright, I won’t tease you anymore. I’m the only one who knows about your matter.”

An Xiaohui let out a sigh of relief when she heard that. Then, she reacted, “President Xiao, how did you know?”

“Xiao Wang told me!” Xiao Lingyu said.

An Xiaohui, “...”

Xiao Lingyu sighed softly and said, “Don’t blame Xiao Wang. He told me about your family issue because he was worried about you. He wanted me to advise you! If you don’t mind, tell me about your family in detail and see if I can solve it for you.”

Chapter 962: Prioritizing Boys Over Girls

Xiao Lingyu stared into An Xiaohui’s eyes and said seriously, “Why don’t you tell me about your problem, and maybe I can help you find a solution. Otherwise, if you continue like this, Xiao Wang will be worried, and so will I.”

Xiao Lingyu and An Xiaohui were in a superior-subordinate relationship. However, in private, they were friends, and Xiaohui was Xiao Wang’s girlfriend. The relationship between Xiao Wang and An Xiaohui was facilitated by Elder Gong.

Therefore, Xiao Lingyu was very concerned about An Xiaohui.

“Moreover, if you continue in this state, it might affect your work!” Xiao Lingyu said sharply, “So, you must solve your current problems as soon as possible!”

After hearing this, An Xiaohui calmed down and finally sighed deeply, “Okay.”

Then, she told Xiao Lingyu that she was born into a family that prioritized sons over daughters. Then, because they did not have a son, her parents would give her nephew whatever he asked for. What was even more unbelievable was that in the future, she would be the one who would provide for her parents in their old age. However, all the property in the family would go to her nephew.

Actually, An Xiaohui did not really care about the property in the family.

However, what she cared about was that her parents didn't value her as much as her nephew. It was only because she was a daughter and her nephew was a boy.

What made her even more disappointed was that everything An Yang did was right, and everything she did was wrong.

When she got first place in the exam, she didn't see her parents' smiles or receive their praise, but when An Yang got a second place from the bottom, her parents were very happy. They even spent a lot of money buying gifts for An Yang.

When she was young, she never understood why her parents liked her cousin more than her. So, she was sad.

However, she gradually got used to it.

It wasn't until the college entrance examination that she found out her parents had hidden the offer letter that allowed An Xiaohui to sit for the exam, which made her desperate and sad.

Her parents hid her offer letter so she wouldn't go to university. If she went to university, they would have to spend money to pay for her tuition. Wouldn't it be good to keep this money for An Yang?

She exploded when she found out that her parents had hidden the offer letter.

She held a pair of scissors to her neck and threatened her parents that if they didn't give her the letter, she would die right in front of them.

That day, she caused a ruckus. When the neighbors heard the ruckus, they immediately rushed over. They found it unbelievable that the parents had hidden their daughter's offer letter. After that, they tried to persuade the parents and also blamed them.

Father An was a person who cared a lot about his face. He did not expect the consequence to be so serious when he hid the offer letter. His daughter had used her life to threaten them, and he had lost face in front of so many people.

He had no choice but to take out the offer letter.

After An Xiaohui received the letter, she thanked the neighbors and rushed to school. However, time was too tight. She could not make it in time.

A neighbor's older brother found out and drove her to the exam room. At the last minute, An Xiaohui finally arrived at the exam room.

After the first exam, An Xiaohui was afraid that her parents would hide her letter again or lock her at home. She didn't dare to go home and simply stayed at her classmates' homes. She waited until the exam was over before she dared to go home.

However, when she returned home, she was beaten up by her parents.

If the neighbors had not rushed over, she would have been beaten to death by her parents.

Hearing this, Xiao Lingyu, who had always been calm, showed faint anger on her face. She said angrily, "What era is it now? Why are your parents still so patriarchal?"

In order to give their property to their nephew, she almost beat her own daughter to death. In the past, she had only seen it in television dramas. She did not expect it to happen to her subordinates.

An Xiaohui smiled bitterly, "My parents used to live in a very feudal village. They believed that if they did not give birth to a son, they would die without a son. Then, the family roots would dry up. Therefore, families that did not give birth to a son would be criticized by the villagers.

"After I was born, my parents were criticized by the villagers. They thought that they would be able to give birth to a son in two or three years. However, after five or six years, there was no news. They were thin-skinned and did not dare to go to the hospital to have a look. However, my grandmother believed that my mother could not give birth, and my mother also believed that she could not give birth, so she looked for folk prescriptions everywhere. As long as there was a medicine that could give birth to a son, she would drink it.

"Later, a skilled doctor came to the village to give free consultations to everyone. When he diagnosed my parents, he suggested that my father goes to the hospital for a check-up. My father thought that he was suffering from some serious illness, so he quickly went to the doctor for a check-up. The result of the check-up was that my father's sperm count was too low already. He had already missed the best time for treatment. Even if he were to receive more treatment, the effect wouldn't be ideal.

"When my parents learned of this result, it was like a bolt from the blue. After that, when my grandmother and grandfather learned of this result, they immediately suggested that my parents adopt my nephew. In exchange, their family property would be given to my cousin in the future.

"Since I was a girl, I would be married off in the future. I was just an outsider. The assets of the An family would never be given to an outsider.

"My parents were guilty of not giving birth to a son for the An family. Therefore, they naturally accepted the suggestions of my grandparents. From then on, An Yang ruled our family. My family bought new clothes for him, paid for his schooling, and bought all kinds of toys and sweets for him. As for me, I could only watch as An Yang ran amok in my house."

Xiao Lingyu furrowed her brows. "Then did An Yang become your adopted brother?"

An Xiaohui shook her head. "No. My uncle only has one son and two daughters. How could he be willing to pass his only son to my father?"

An Yang was the source of all her tragedies.

She had often resented An Yang, but when she grew up, she knew that An Yang was just a child spoiled by a group of people.

In fact, the root of all this was caused by feudalism.

This time, she directly rejected the request to arrange An Yang to work in the company. She did not know how the family would react.

Her father might be serious when he disowned her.

Ever since they were young, An Xiaohui's parents had never treated her as their own daughter. They would always beat and scold her.

But they were still her parents. No matter how her parents treated her in the past, she couldn't ignore her parents and abandon them. It was even more impossible for her to sever her relationship with them.

"Sister Lingyu, even if my parents treat me like this, I won't be able to ignore them. Isn't that a little foolish and filial?" An Xiaohui asked in a self-deprecating manner.

Chapter 963: Son Preference

There were many scenes on the news or television on the Internet similar to An Xiaohui. Once these girls grew up and had the ability to make their own money, they would disown their primary families and disappear without any news. When their parents wanted to see them for the last time, they would ask someone to help them find them, and then the Internet would be bustling with noise and excitement.

Some people called these girls really heartless. No matter how bad the primary family treated you, they were your parents, your closest family members, and the people who raised you from a young age. She abandoned her family. What an ingrate.

There were also those who sided with the girls.

In short, there were all kinds of people.

A situation like An Xiaohui's was actually the result of backward feudal thinking in the countryside. However, An Xiaohui's parents only had one daughter. Since she was young, they disliked her. At least, they fed her and clothed her so that she could go to school like other people.

Although they stopped her from entering university, after she entered university, her parents still paid for her tuition. However, she had to work part-time to pay her living expenses.

An Xiaohui's parents only beat her when it involved An Yang.

Therefore, An Xiaohui would never be heartless to her parents.

Xiao Lingyu shook her head and said, "Oh, I don't think you're a filial fool. They are your biological parents, after all. They raised you up. Although they were biased and even unfair, they did what their parents should have done and fulfilled their obligation to raise you. When they are old, you will naturally have to fulfill your responsibility to take care of them."

“Moreover, what is foolish filial piety? Foolish filial piety means doing everything possible to win their favor. You will not reject any request from your parents. However, you are not. You are very clear about your principle. You rejected your parents when they violated them. You are a filial daughter.” Xiao Lingyu said.

An Xiaohui felt slightly better when she heard Xiao Lingyu say this.

In fact, it was true.

Her current salary was two million a year, but she did not give all this money to her parents. She gave her parents living expenses every month, three thousand a month. Then, during the holidays, she would also give them more.

Her parents had a house in the county and did not have to repay the loan. They did not have any other debts. The living allowance of 3,000 RMB per month was enough for them to use.

Of course, her family did not know how much her salary was.

They only knew that she worked in a very famous big company and her monthly salary was over 10,000 RMB.

Therefore, her parents felt that their monthly allowance was not enough. Under the instigation of some people, her parents kept asking her for money and making all kinds of excuses.

However, the most common excuses were sickness. They would ask every few days for several thousand because they had the flu, caught a cold, or so on.

An Xiaohui was also unable to confirm whether her parents were sick or not. Moreover, An Xiaohui was also unable to refuse to give them the money. However, An Xiaohui knew very well in her heart that even if her parents were really sick, her money would go to An Yang.

Otherwise, An Yang wouldn't be unemployed for the past two years and spent all his time at home playing games and sleeping.

An Xiaohui knew this in her heart, but she couldn't do anything about it.

It had been like this since she was young. Everything in her or their hands would be in An Yang's hands the next day.

Xiao Lingyu said, “Xiaohui, haven't you ever thought of hiring a nanny to take care of your parents? This way, you can take care of your parent's health, and you can also know their condition at any time. It's not a good thing for them to keep using the excuse of being sick. They don't know that you earn two million a year. If they knew, they would definitely think of ways to squeeze all the money out of you.”

Xiao Lingyu felt sorry for An Xiaohui for having such a pair of parents. However, when a person was born, they could not choose their own parents. As children, we had to respect our parents. However, that didn't mean that parents could make endless demands from their kids.

An Xiaohui smiled bitterly. "I thought about it too, but they rejected it. They felt that instead of spending the money to hire a nanny, it would be better to save this money and give it to An Yang directly."

Xiao Lingyu was speechless.

An Xiaohui's parents were so devoted to An Yang.

Xiao Lingyu thought for a moment and said, "Xiaohui, your parents have always regretted that there was no one to carry on the family line. Haven't you considered solving the problem from the root?"

An Xiaohui heard this and asked with confusion and surprise, "Sister Lingyu, what do you mean?"

"Haven't you talked to your parents before? If you promise to give your first boy the An surname as their grandson, they will have someone to continue the family line." Xiao Lingyu suggested.

"Huh?" An Xiaohui was a little dumbfounded.

They had indeed never talked about this before. Her parents had placed all their hope on An Yang, and she had never considered other alternatives.

In the mind of father and mother An, they had already determined that An Yang was their only choice.

As for An Xiaohui, she had been deeply influenced by her family since she was young, so she had never thought about this either.

Looking at An Xiaohui's expression, Xiao Lingyu was sure that they had never thought about it or talked about it.

Xiao Lingyu sighed and patted her hand, saying, "Xiaohui, maybe you can talk to your parents about this. After all, your parents will be happier to have a grandson than to rely on a nephew."

An Xiaohui's expression was obviously a little unimaginable. She asked, "Sister Lingyu, is this okay?"

Xiao Lingyu said, "You'll have to talk to your parents to find out."

The crux of An Xiaohui's parents was that they didn't have a male child to carry on the family line. This could be solved by giving An Xiaohui's son the An surname.

But An Xiaohui still some hesitation, "But Sister Lingyu, how many men will allow that to happen, to have their first boy carry his wife's maiden surname? Wouldn't that make the man a live-in son-in-law?"

Chapter 964: Countermeasures

"In our place, being a live-in son-in-law in the family is looked down upon," An Xiaohui said hesitantly. Even the girl's family would be criticized by the villagers.

Perhaps it was because of this that father and mother An never talked about this.

An Xiaohui and Xiao Wang were currently in a relationship. She knew that Xiao Wang had an elder brother and younger brother. If she proposed this to Xiao Wang, he would definitely be willing. Xiao Wang was such an honest and kind person. Moreover, he loved her so much.

However, An Xiaohui's heart ached for him. She also loved him, so she was not willing to mistreat Xiao Wang. So, she didn't mention this matter.

Xiao Lingyu smiled and shook her head. "No, I'm not talking about a live-in son-in-law. I'm talking about giving a child the surname An."

She paused and said, "However, I have an idea. Maybe I can persuade your parents." An Xiaohui's eyes lit up and she immediately asked curiously, "What Idea?"

Xiao Lingyu said, "I had a friend who didn't have a son, but she didn't want her husband to be a live-in son-in-law. After some discussion, their policy was like this. She had a big wedding. Two months later, she bought a house for her parents, and she and her husband bought another house in the same neighborhood. Before they got married, they had discussed giving birth to a child with the woman's family name.

"This way, she cared for both parties' face. No one would gossip at all."

Of course, the premise was that a woman could find a good man, a man who loved her very much, and a reasonable family.

After all, many people thought that after a woman got married, the man should not take care of the woman's parents.

However, in today's society, there were many single daughters. Many women were self-reliant and independent. After getting married, they did not need to rely on their husbands to take care of their families.

However, that was still a minority, and most of these women were in big cities. It was difficult to reach a common balance in rural areas where people had backward thoughts.

Of course, these questions were not too big of a problem for An Xiaohui.

Her current problem was how to communicate with her parents and persuade them.

An Xiaohui's eyes lit up when she heard this, and her face flashed with excitement as she said, "I've never thought of that! Then I'll try to communicate with my parents."

Xiao Lingyu nodded, but she reminded her, "You have to discuss these things with Xiao Wang first. Then, you can talk to your parents about this!"

After all, the child was a matter that concerned two people or even two families. An Xiaohui definitely could not take matters into her own hands. Otherwise, the consequences would be hard to say.

An Xiaohui nodded and said, "Yes, I know, Sister Lingyu!"

Xiao Lingyu smiled and asked, "Are you in a better mood now?"

"Yes, much better!" An Xiaohui's face was a little red, and she looked very embarrassed.

Xiao Lingyu nodded, then stood up and patted her shoulder. Her expression immediately became serious as she said, "An Xiaohui, you have to work hard in the future, understand?"

An Xiaohui nodded and replied, "Yes, President Xiao!"

Then, Xiao Lingyu left.

She had specially come to look for An Xiaohui because she had heard that An Xiaohui had been facing problems with her family. Xiao Lingyu cared about her. However, she had no idea An Xiaohui's parents were so backward in thinking. They had given everything to An Xiaohui's nephew when they had a biological daughter.

Xiao Lingyu was a farmer, so she naturally knew how severe the preference for sons was. This situation was quite common in Taoyuan Village in the past too.

Xiao Lingyu felt that she was very lucky. Her parents didn't have such thinking. On the contrary, girls were also precious.

After Xiao Lingyu left, An Xiaohui fell into deep thought. However, she suppressed the excitement on her face. The more she thought about it, the more she felt that perhaps this idea could solve the problem.

If her parents were no longer focused on her cousin, then she could bring them to Taoyuan village to enjoy themselves. In the future, their family could live happily together.

Previously, she had never planned to bring her parents over. It was because of the way her parents treated her. She was afraid that if she took them over, not only would it cause trouble for her, but it would also cause trouble for the company. It was also likely that it would cause her boyfriend Xiao Wang great trouble.

Xiao Lingyu was right. She was only filial, but she was not stupid. She could not be so selfish.

An Xiaohui was very excited. She really wanted to rush out and have a good talk with her boyfriend Xiao Wang about this matter. Then, she would try to communicate with her parents about this matter.

However, she quickly realized that they were still working, so they definitely couldn't talk about personal matters during working hours.

An Xiaohui pressed her chest and let out a deep breath. Then, she buried her head into work.

However, when it was time to get off work, An Xiaohui couldn't wait to contact Xiao Wang. The two of them met in the cafeteria to eat.

When Xiao Wang heard what An Xiaohui said, he first had a look of surprise on his face, then he said decisively, "Xiaohui, don't worry. These things are not a problem. Let alone a child with the surname An, even if you want me to be a live-in son-in-law, I won't have any objections."

An Xiaohui was very touched and said, "Thank you!"

Xiao Wang smiled and said, "Silly, do we still need to thank each other?" At this point, he thought of something and said, "Xiaohui, why don't I come with you to talk to uncle and auntie? This will be more persuasive!"

An Xiaohui shook her head and said with a smile, "There's no need for that for now. I'll communicate with my parents first to see their reactions. Don't worry. In the future, you'll have plenty of chances to communicate with them."

Xiao Wang nodded with a smile and said, "Alright then!"

An Xiaohui spoke her mind to Xiao Wang and said, "If my parents can really accept this, we'll definitely be happy in the future."

"Well, we will be happy in the future!" Xiao Wang echoed.

Chapter 965: A Greedy Family

Because of the large number of people the Green Fresh group recruited this time, the HR department was swamped. Resumes came from all over the country. From several ten thousand people, only a few hundred were selected.

Therefore, the human resources department had to scan and select thousands of resumes every day.

The higher-ups had given the order, and it was better to have quality over quantity.

An Xiaohui, who was mainly in charge of human resources, was so busy. She wished that the twenty-four hours could be turned into forty-eight hours.

On the other hand, she was also troubled by the troubles at home.

Although her father had cut off relations with her, An Yang and her second uncle's family would definitely not be willing to give up on her because An Xiaohui was a gold mine.

On the surface, An Xiaohui's second uncle and aunt criticized An Xiaohui for being cold-blooded and heartless. However, when they saw their relatives and friends now, they cried and complained that father and mother An looked down on their family and looked down on An Yang. This was because their daughter was working in a big company, became rich, arrogant, and so on.

In fact, they did not blame An Xiaohui. Instead, they blamed everything on father and mother An. This was because they knew very well that father and mother An would feel guilty. Then, they would think of ways to squeeze more money out of An Xiaohui.

An Xiaohui was a daughter, so why should she be more valued than An Yang. An Yang was a boy, and he was the root of the An family. They had to firmly trample An Xiaohui under their feet. They absolutely couldn't let An Xiaohui rise above An Yang. Otherwise, An Yang's parents' property might be snatched away by her.

They had been able to constantly get money from Father and Mother An, but when they proposed Father An to transfer their county house to An Yang, he hesitated. He said that he would do it later in his life.

When grandfather and grandmother An were still alive, they also persuaded father and mother An to transfer the house to An Yang. In any case, their house and property would all belong to An Yang in the future.

Fortunately, An Yang's parents were not soft-hearted on this point. This was because they had seen a lot of such situations on television. Many sons would be obedient before they got their hands on the houses. However, after the house was transferred, they immediately turned hostile and chased their parents out.

Father and mother An were also worried about this situation. Moreover, the person they wanted to transfer the house to was not their son but only a nephew.

Although they treated this nephew as their own son, they knew very well in their hearts that An Yang had his own biological parents. He would not treat them as his parents at all. He would only treat them as ATM machines.

Moreover, An Yang usually did not treat them very well. Even when he asked them for money, his tone was very bad. He did not treat them like his step-parents.

Therefore, An Xiaohui's parents were very firm about the fact that they would only transfer the house after they died.

After An Xiaohui rejected An Yang's parents' request to arrange for An Yang to work in the company, they wanted to force Father and Mother An to pressure An Xiaohui to compromise.

Fortunately, An Xiaohui, under Xiao Lingyu's advice and after discussing with her boyfriend, Xiao Wang, immediately called her parents and told them about her idea.

After receiving the call from their daughter, Father and mother An calmed down to think about this problem.

Mother An asked in disbelief, "Old man, what did she say on the phone?"

Father An smoked a cigarette. After a moment of silence, he said, "Xiaohui said that in the future, the first boy she gives birth to would be surnamed an. In the future, this child will take care of us."

After hearing this, mother An also fell silent.

After a moment, mother An became a little hesitant. She said, "Could it be that Xiaohui wants to find a man to be a live-in son-in-law?" As she said this, she immediately shook her head, "No, this is not only embarrassing for us but also for the son-in-law."

Father An took a puff of his cigarette and said with a slightly disapproving expression, "If we don't agree to this, what other choices do we have?"

If they didn't have any descendants with the surname An, their lineage would be cut short.

Even if they might be looked down upon by others, they would rather have a descendant to continue the family line.

Father An thought for a moment and said, "Previously, we placed our hope on An Yang, but we forgot one thing. What if we have a grandson with the surname an?"

Mother An asked hesitantly, "Why don't we ask Sister-in-law? In the future, perhaps An Yang will let us adopt one of his sons."

Father An shook his head and said, "With the character of second brother and sister-in-law, they definitely don't allow that."

The rural ideology was that the more descendants, the better.

An Yang was the only child of the An family. They valued him very much. Unless An Yang gave birth to five or six sons in one go, they wouldn't be able to let An Yang's son be adopted by them as their grandson.

Mother An fell silent again.

Then, she said, "Then how about we agree to Xiaohui's suggestion? At least in the future, we'll have a grandson to take care of us and continue the family line."

After mother An finished speaking, the two of them fell silent again.

Just then, someone knocked on their door.

Mother An asked, "Who is it?"

"Sister-in-law, it's me." It was second aunt An.

Mother An frowned slightly and opened the door. Then, mother An smiled and said, "Sister-in-law, why are you here?"

Second aunt An looked around and frowned slightly. She said with slight dissatisfaction, "Sister-in-law, what do you mean by that? Can't I come to visit?"

Mother An immediately smiled apologetically and said, "That's not what I meant. Sister-in-law, you've misunderstood."

Second aunt An walked in and said directly, "Big Brother and sister-in-law, it's like this. Yang 'Er took a fancy to a girl yesterday. The girl is also satisfied with our Yang 'Er."

When mother An heard this, she smiled and said, "Is An Yang getting married? This is a good thing."

Second aunt An looked around and rolled her eyes, "As if. The girl's condition is that she wants 180,000 Rmb in betrothal gifts. She also wants to buy a new house in the county town and a car. But you know, our family is very poor. We can't afford to buy a house and a car."

Mother An frowned and asked, "Sister-in-law, what do you mean?"

Chapter 966: Green Fresh Will Win

An Xiaohui's expression had a hint of anger when she received the call from her parents.

Xiao Wang picked up a piece of vegetables for her and asked in puzzlement, "What's wrong? Did uncle and Auntie say something again?"

An Xiaohui was simply angered to death.

She said to her boyfriend, "They are really trying to anger me to death. An Yang wants to get married, but the girl wants a dowry of 180,000 RMB. She also wants to buy a new house in the county town and a car."

Xiao Wang frowned and immediately guessed the truth. He said, "So, they want Auntie and uncle to pay this sum of money?" In short, they wanted An Xiaohui to pay this sum of money.

An Yang's family was getting more and more unreasonable. They were coveting their girlfriend's property more and more brazenly.

Although uncle and Auntie promised that their property would belong to An Yang after they died, now they were asking for it outright. It was obvious that they were a bunch of greedy people. Moreover, these greedy people were a bunch of ungrateful wolves.

An Xiaohui nodded and said, "That's right. My second uncle and his family hope that my parents will pay for all the money."

"Then, what is aunts and uncles' response?" Xiao Wang asked a little worriedly.

He didn't worry about the money. He and An Xiaohui did not lack money. They did not care about the money at all.

What he was worried about was that An Xiaohui's parents would agree like usual. To An Xiaohui, this was another major injury.

After all, An Xiaohui's daughter had worked so hard for them, but they were hurting their biological daughter for the sake of a nephew.

An Xiaohui's anger dissipated a lot when Xiao Wang asked this question.

An Xiaohui smiled and said, "Fortunately, my parents didn't agree to it like before."

No matter what the reason was, she felt comforted that her parents didn't agree to An Yang's matter readily.

At least his parents still retained some rationality.

Perhaps the matter that she had told her parents on the phone earlier had also had some influence.

The money An Yang needed was nothing to An Xiaohui.

However, what annoyed her was why should she pay for An Yang to get married?

After Xiao Wang heard An Xiaohui's words, he thought for a moment and said, "Xiaohui, why don't we go back and explain this matter to your parents? As long as the two of them have thought it through, we will immediately bring them to Taoyuan Village. This way, they won't be brainwashed again or have to worry about other things."

He knew what had been bothering Mother and Father An. Once that problem had been solved, Xiaohui would definitely regain the love of her parents.

However, An Xiaohui's second uncle and aunt had been fed lazy by Mother and Father An. If they knew that mother and father An had started to change their mind about An Yang, they would not be getting their money and real estate anymore.

How could they allow such a thing to happen? They would definitely brainwash father and mother An, or they would constantly find trouble for them. In this way, father and mother An would never be able to have peace.

An Xiaohui thought about it and felt that what Xiao Wang said made sense.

It was just that she was too busy with work at the company right now, so she couldn't get away from home.

She couldn't just abandon work for her own personal matters.

An Xiaohui thought about it and said, "I'll go back after this period."

Xiao Wang also knew that An Xiaohui was too busy with work. He thought about it and said, "Okay. The fact that uncle and Auntie didn't agree on everything this time is good. Perhaps they were affected by what you said earlier. Therefore, we need to work harder now and continue to reason with them. When their thoughts are completely on our side, we will cut off their connection to the family of leeches."

They couldn't let other people influence Father and Mother An.

After An Xiaohui heard this, she nodded and said, "Yes, we'll do as you say for now. I'll try to communicate with them more."

The recruitment event of the Green Fresh Group lasted for seven days.

After seven days, the recruitment event finally ended. They had enough people and would take their time to recruit for the remaining posts.

"I've been so tired these past few days!" A group of people from the human resources department sat in front of their desks and stretched. "I really didn't expect that one day, I would get tired of looking at resumes."

They were just scrolling through the resumes. However, scrolling through tens of thousands of resumes was a challenge.

"How many people were recruited for this recruitment event?"

"It seems to be 530 people."

"They are for the management posts."

“Most of them will be there to develop foreign markets.”

“This time, we have recruited so many people. The company is going to a big expansion overseas!”

“That must be it!” Someone said, “I heard that the higher-ups are planning to open branches and supermarkets all over the world!”

“It seems that the future of our company is very good!” Someone said excitedly, “Based on my prediction, our company will definitely become a globally famous company in the future.”

“I agree,” someone said with a smile, “Our company only took a short four years to develop into a big national company. With our products, I believe we will soon occupy the international market.”

Everyone was optimistic about the overseas market development of Green Fresh Group. They even looked forward to the green fresh group becoming a big international company in the future.

“In the past, country F’s Royal Forest International Group was the leader in the global industry. I believe that our green fresh group will soon replace it!” Someone said in high spirits, “Just look at how they had fared in our country. They have been defeated, and we have been placed in the lead.”

“The Royal Forest was courting death by using underhanded methods to frame us. Otherwise, they might still be able to stand firm in our country for a period of time, instead of going down in such an ugly manner.”

“Now our company might be competing with the Royal Forest group for the international market.”

“That’s a certainty! The sales route of our Green Fresh Group’s overseas market will focus on the rich and famous. Royal Forest has the same market. The high-end market is only so big. We will have to fight them.”

“Green Fresh Group will win for sure!”

Someone suddenly shouted.

Chapter 967: Figured it Out

An Xiaohui was especially happy today. It was the happiest and most exciting day since she was born.

It was not because her recruitment work had been completed, but because her parents had finally stopped blindly listening to and trusting her second uncle’s family. They decisively refused their family’s request to be responsible for An Yang’s dowry money, house money, and car money. Second Uncle An’s family was so angry that their faces turned livid.

To them, An Yang’s parents and An Xiaohui’s money were actually An Yang’s money. It was just that they had used it in advance.

In their village, the son would obtain all of the deceased’s property.

Ten years ago, they had already agreed that after An Yang's parents passed away, An Yang would obtain all of their money. Therefore, An Xiaohui's parents' and An Xiaohui's property would be owned by An Yang.

So, shouldn't they be the ones paying for An Yang's marriage? This was just An Yang using his money in advance.

However, their family never expected that their request would be rejected.

Second Aunt and Uncle An were rejected because they didn't agree to have An Yang's first son be adopted by Father and Mother An.

Of course, they wouldn't want that. This would be their eldest grandson. In fact, they wouldn't let Father and Mother An adopt any of their grandchildren. Having An Yang be there for them was already a show of mercy. Of course, they were just saying that. They didn't really want An Yang to take care of An Xiaohui's parents when they were old.

Father and Mother An suggested that they would adopt An Yang's second son. Second Aunt and Uncle An still disagreed. Mother and Father An got mad. They refused to pay for the marriage.

After hearing father and mother An's angry words, second uncle An and his wife and An Yang had to rethink everything. They were not going to give up this opportunity to scam An Xiaohui and her parents.

After a discussion, they decided to get the money first and talk about the future later. After all, An Yang wasn't married yet, right? The matter of this grandson would still take at least a few years. When the grandson was born, they would deny everything.

By then, the money would already be in their hands. Father and mother An couldn't do anything about it.

After all, the money demanded by the girl for a betrothal gift was more than 500,000 RMB.

All these years, because An Yang and his family had always been supported by Father and Mother An, they did not work that much. They had some savings, but they didn't have 500,000 RMB.

It was just that this time, Father and Mother An were smart.

When they heard that Second Uncle An had agreed to have them adopt An Yang's second son, they immediately hired a lawyer and drew up an agreement. They even invited a lawyer to be their witness.

The lawyer said, "This agreement has a legal effect..."

When second uncle and aunt An heard the lawyer's words, their faces turned ashen.

Their elder brother and sister-in-law had agreed to pay this sum of money, but the premise was that their second grandson had to be adopted by them. If they violated this in the future, they could be sued in court.

An Yang didn't mind, but Second uncle and aunt An didn't agree. They thought that An Yang's parents' money was already An Yang's money, so they didn't agree to sell their grandchild at all.

But now that the other party had hired a lawyer, and it had legal effect, they instantly hesitated.

When father and mother An saw this, their eyes were filled with disappointment.

They had actually done this as a test for their second brother's family.

They now understood that his second brother's family was only playing with them because they fancied their family's wealth. They were not really sincere in treating Father and Mother An.

Father and Mother An didn't flare up at the lawyer's office. They only asked his second brother's family to think about it carefully.

After everyone left, father and mother An's expressions instantly darkened.

Father An cursed angrily, "Bastard!"

Mother An's expression wasn't too good either. She remained silent as if she was deep in thought.

A moment later, mother An said, "Hubby, I feel that rather than relying on others, it's better to rely on our own. Hui 'Er told us that in the future, the first boy that she and her husband give birth to would have the surname An. He's our biological grandson. In the future, we can also rely on him to continue our family line.

"Most importantly, Hui 'Er's son will have our blood. He will be our own biological grandson. In this way, we wouldn't need our second brother's grandson to continue the family line. Moreover, Hui 'Er also said that she would have a glamorous wedding. After she got married, she would buy a house near our house. It will be convenient to take care of us and provide for our retirement! This way, we would have someone to take care of us in our old age."

They had no son, so they had placed all their hope on An Yang. However, reality slapped them hard. They realized that their second brother's family and An Yang were openly using them. They were constantly demanding money.

In the past, they had placed all their hopes on An Yang, so they were very willing to spend money on An Yang.

But now, they suddenly had an alternative.

Father An was silent. After taking a puff of his cigarette, he said, "Xiaohui's idea is good. But what if they can't give birth to a son in the future?"

Mother An immediately said, "Hubby, Xiaohui is still young. Why can't they give birth to a son? Besides, the technology is so developed now. Even if they can't give birth, they can still be IVF babies. I heard you can choose the gender for IVF babies."

Father An's eyes immediately lit up, and he said, "Honey, is what you said true?"

"Yes, of course, it's true!" mother An said, "I especially looked it up on the Internet."

With that, she took out her phone and showed father An the information she had found.

Father An slapped his thigh and said happily, "Then why are we still hesitating? If we have to choose between An Yang's son and our Xiaohui's son, of course, we have to choose our own daughter. Our daughter's grandson is our biological grandson."

Mother An smiled and said, "I think so too."

An Yang was still an outsider to their family, but Xiaohui was their biological daughter.

Any smart person would know what to do.

Then, they decisively called their daughter An Xiaohui.

Chapter 968: The Anger of An Yang and His Family

After receiving a call from An Xiaohui's parents, An Xiaohui and Xiao Wang rushed back and brought them to Taoyuan Village.

In order to prevent those people from contacting their parents, An Xiaohui secretly changed her parents' cell phone numbers. She also deleted all the contact information of those greedy relatives and friends.

Once her parents stopped being brainwashed by those people, she knew she could get through to them. An Xiaohui didn't want to miss this rare opportunity.

After An Xiaohui took her parents to Taoyuan Village, they were shocked by the beauty of the village.

This place was really beautiful, and it was very lively.

"Xiaohui, is this where you work?" Father An asked incredulously. "Didn't you say that you work in a big company? Green Fresh Group, right?" They only knew that their daughter worked in a big company. As for the fact that she worked in the green fresh group, it was because they had heard An Yang mention it before.

An Xiaohui said, "Yes, this is where I work. Isn't it very beautiful?"

"Yes, it's very beautiful!" Mother An nodded.

An Xiaohui looked at her father's expression. Then, she said tentatively, "Mom, why don't you and dad live here from now on?"

"Live here?" Mother An narrowed her eyes and looked forward. A group of elderly people seemed to be leisurely fishing, playing chess, and doing other things.

Father and mother An were not that old. In fact, they were only in their forties or fifties. They were in their prime.

However, because they had only given birth to a daughter, they did not have any hope for life. Therefore, after they provided for their daughter to finish university, they stopped working.

Fortunately, not long after An Xiaohui graduated from university, she found a job. Moreover, the job was not bad. After that, she would send them living expenses every month, from one thousand in the beginning to three thousand now.

That was enough for the old couple. However, that was not enough for An Yang and his parents. No matter how much An Xiaohui gave them, it was not enough.

Therefore, An Xiaohui's parents kept calling her to send them money. It was as if the only use of their daughter was to earn money for them.

Father An frowned and thought for a moment before saying, "Let's stay here for a few days first!"

An Xiaohui did not say anything.

In a small county town, second uncle An's family knocked on the familiar door once again. The person who opened the door was a stranger.

"Who are you looking for?" The stranger asked.

When second aunt An saw a stranger in the house, her expression immediately turned ugly. She asked loudly, "Who are you? Why are you in my big brother and sister-in-law's house? Where are my big brother and sister-in-law?"

She thought to herself, 'Since when did his big brother and sister-in-law have such a friend? How dare they invite a friend over? This house belongs to An Yang. An Yang should have the final say on who should be invited to the house.'

Second aunt An pushed the strange man away as she walked into the house. She was immediately stopped by the strange man. He said, "Who are you looking for? This is my house. Don't barge in!"

"What? Impossible!" Second Aunt An's sharp voice sounded. "This is clearly my house!" An Yang's house was her house.

The strange man frowned. He said with some dissatisfaction, "What do you mean by your house? This is the house I bought two days ago. The procedures are complete." At this point, he looked at the three people who came, and he asked, "Who are you?"

There wouldn't be a problem with his house, right? However, he had asked a friend of his from the Housing Administration and said that there was nothing wrong with this house.

The reason why it was sold cheaply was that the owner's daughter was in a hurry to take them to other places.

Second uncle An said with an unsightly expression, "You said that you bought this house two days ago?"

The strange man nodded and said, "Yes, that's right!"

"How is that possible? How could they dare to sell the house?" Second aunt An said in disbelief, "This is Yang 'Er's house. How could they dare to sell the house?"

The strange man looked at her with a puzzled expression. He didn't know what she meant.

However, no matter what she meant, it didn't matter to him.

Second uncle An frowned and immediately took out his phone to make a call. Then, a cold voice came from the other end. "Sorry, the number you dialed is unavailable!"

When second uncle An heard this, he thought that it was the wrong number. Then, he checked again and found that he was correct. He called again. The call was not connected.

Second uncle An immediately said to An Yang, "Yang 'Er, immediately call your uncle."

Then, An Yang got the same answer.

"Give your aunt a call!"

The result was the same!

Second aunt An also gave it a try, but the result was the same.

Looking at the phones in their hands, the three of them looked rather grim.

Second uncle An then looked at the person who bought the house. "Then do you know where their family went?"

The strange man said, "I heard that his daughter came to pick them up and sent them out of town!"

Then, he ignored them and closed the door.

Second uncle An and his family looked gloomy.

Seeing that they had lost the money and house, second aunt An felt very uncomfortable.

"How can they sell the house? This is Yang 'Er's house. How can they sell Yang 'Er's house?" Second aunt An kept nagging.

"Shut up!" Second uncle An shouted sternly, "We must think of how to find them now."

If they couldn't find them, they would lose a large amount of money.

An Yang was very angry at this time, "The man said that they were taken away by that bitch! The bitch is really shameless! Once she took them away, she cut off their contact with us!"

Second Aunt An was furious when she heard that. She scolded loudly, "An Xiaohui, that bitch, is really vicious. What an ingrate..."

An Yang revealed a worried expression at this time. He said, "Dad, Mom, uncle and aunt won't run away because they won't give us the money for my marriage, right?" If they really ran away, who would he ask for money from in the future?

Chapter 969: Second Uncle An and His Family Come to Visit

An Yang brought his parents to Taoyuan village, which was often seen on the news.

“Mom, this is Taoyuan Village!” An Yang put both hands into his trouser pockets. His parents were each carrying a woven bag filled to the brim. It seemed that they had come from afar.

Second uncle and second aunt An looked at the crowded square in front of them. Their expressions were a little timid, but they were also a little excited.

Second aunt An asked, “Yang ‘Er, there are so many people here.”

An Yang said impatiently, “Taoyuan Village is now a famous scenic spot in the country. It’s very popular. Of course, there are many people here.”

Second uncle An asked curiously, “An Xiaohui, that bitch, works here?”

An Yang said, “She works at the Green Fresh Group. The headquarters of the Green Fresh Group is in Taoyuan Village.”

Hearing An Xiaohui’s name, second aunt An frowned and said unhappily, “That wretched girl works here? Then, are your uncle and aunt also in there?” At this point, second aunt An kept complaining, “An Xiaohui, that wretched girl, why did she suddenly bring Big Brother and sister-in-law here? Big Brother and sister-in-law cut off contact with all of us. This must be the doing of that bitch.” Father and Mother An still had need of them so they wouldn’t be so heartless.

When An Yang heard this, he said impatiently, “Mom, you’ve said that countless times these past few days. I’m tired of listening to it. Can you stop saying it? If you really want to scold someone, you can wait until we find that bitch first.”

Seeing her son’s impatient expression, second aunt An shut her mouth embarrassedly.

Second uncle An looked at the crowd and asked curiously, “Son, how are we going to get in?”

An Yang thought for a moment and said, “We can either buy tickets to get in or we can just tell them that we’re An Xiaohui’s relatives and see if they can let us in.”

As soon as An Yang finished speaking, someone beside him said, “I wonder if there are still tickets.”

.....

“The tickets are only 58 yuan, which isn’t too expensive. But there’s a limit to the customer flow. A lot of people are buying tickets to become scalpers. But many people are still buying from them!”

“But, didn’t they say that the Taoyuan village is cracking down on scalpers?”

“Yes. But scalpers are everywhere!”

This was not like a ticket for a plane or train, where one could book the ticket in advance.

Listening to the conversations of the tourists, second aunt An’s sharp voice rang out, “Isn’t it just a village? 58 is such a high price! How can they charge people so much?”

Their wages for working outside were only 30 to 40 RMB.

When a tourist heard her sharp dissatisfaction, he immediately said sarcastically, “If you can’t afford the ticket, then don’t come.”

An Yang's face instantly turned red, feeling very embarrassed.

Second aunt An did not have such self-awareness. She pointed at that person and scolded, "It's none of your business!"

That tourist looked at them. He did not scold her but only sneered and said, "One look, and you can tell that you're a country bumpkin from the countryside. How vulgar."

Second aunt An couldn't take it anymore and said loudly, "Who are you calling a country bumpkin? Who are you talking about? I think you're the country bumpkin!"

The tourist who was scolded didn't fight back. He just showed a contemptuous look at them and left!

Second aunt An wanted to follow him, but An Yang's face was flushed red. He shouted at his mother, "Enough! Mom, aren't you ashamed? If you don't feel ashamed, I feel ashamed!"

Seeing her son get angry, second aunt An immediately withdrew her imposing manner and shrunk like a quail. She said in a low voice, "That person was obviously insulting us. Why shouldn't I scold him back?"

In their village, no one dared to talk to her like that.

Second uncle An glanced at her with an unhappy expression. He scolded her in a low voice, "Just shut up! Do you think this is our village? Here, we listen to our son."

After all, his son was a university student who had seen the world.

Second uncle An turned around and asked, "Son, how are we going to find that wretched girl now?"

Chapter 970: Second Uncle An's Family Finds Out

An Yang glanced at the crowded ticket sales plaza and frowned. "There are so many people lining up. I don't know if we can get a ticket. Let's go and ask them first. Tell them that we're looking for An Xiaohui."

Second uncle An asked suspiciously, "But with so many people and such a big company, can we find that bitch? Even if we do, how are we going to get in?"

An Yang gritted his teeth and said, "How would I know? Let's go and ask first. If we really can't get anything, we'll just buy the tickets to get in. If we can't find her today, we'll come back tomorrow."

Second uncle An thought for a moment and said, "Alright, we'll listen to you first."

They were just villagers and didn't know anything. It wasn't wrong to listen to their son, a college student.

Then, the three of them went to ask the patrolling security guard.

"I'm looking for An Xiaohui, that bitch..." Second aunt An was pushed out to ask, "We're looking for An Xiaohui. Does she work here?" The tone of the question was high and mighty, without the slightest bit of courtesy, but the expression on her face was a little timid.

The security guard glanced at her with contempt and said without thinking, "I don't know."

Second aunt An saw his gaze, and a surge of anger rose in her heart. She questioned loudly, "How could you not know her? That bitch is working at the Green Fresh Group."

Actually, anyone in the company should know the name An Xiaohui. After all, she was the director of the HR department and the confidant of Big Boss. Even if he had never seen her before, he had heard of her.

There were many people who came to look for An Xiaohui every day, and no one was as rude as this auntie. She looked like she was looking for trouble.

The security guard thought for a moment and asked, "Who are you guys to An Xiaohui? Why are you looking for her?"

Second Aunt An's eyes lit up when she heard this. Her expression immediately became arrogant. This was her attitude toward An Xiaohui, "I'm her second aunt, this is her second uncle, and this is her cousin. We heard that she works here, so we came over to see her."

The security guard looked at the three of them suspiciously. "Oh, is that so?"

Second uncle An knew how to behave. He immediately pulled out a low-quality cigarette from his pocket and wanted to pass it to the security guard, "That's right. We are her second uncle, second aunt, and cousin. She said that she works for the Green Fresh Group and invited us over to have some fun. That's why we're here. But now that we're here, we can't find her."

The security guard didn't take his cigarette and was very suspicious of his words. He said, "Then you can call her."

What was more convenient than a phone call to find a person?

Second Uncle An's family, "..."

An Yang reacted faster. He said, "It's like this. Our phones are out of battery."

The security guard said, "How about this? I don't know if there's An Xiaohui, but you can go to the security booth. There, you can charge your phones for free. After your cell phones are charged, you can contact An Xiaohui. Isn't that convenient?"

Second Uncle An's family, "..."

The security guard looked at the family of three. They didn't go to the security booth directly to charge their cell phones. Instead, they went elsewhere and looked very suspicious.

These three people didn't look like director An's relatives, no matter how he looked at them.

The security guard thought for a moment, then took out the company's internal contact number and reported this situation.

After the head of the Green Fresh Group's security department received a call from his subordinate, he immediately contacted An Xiaohui.

“Director An, Xiao Li, who is on duty outside, said that three people came to the ticket sales plaza. They claimed to be your second uncle, second aunt, and cousin. However, Xiao Li got a bad vibe from them, so he didn’t let them in.”

When An Xiaohui heard this, her expression immediately turned ugly. She said to the head of the security department, “Director Zhang, if they want to come in, have them buy tickets.”

The head of the security department immediately understood what An Xiaohui meant. He nodded and said, “Okay, I understand.”

After An Xiaohui put down the phone, Xiao Lingyu raised her eyebrows and asked curiously, “What’s wrong?”

An Xiaohui shook her head and said with an unsightly expression, “My second uncle, second aunt, and cousin are here.”

“So soon?” Xiao Lingyu said with a little surprise.

An Xiaohui thought for a moment and said, “Although I cut off my parents’ contact with them, An Yang knows where I work. I guess the information was leaked when I sold the house. They couldn’t get in touch with my parents, so they came straight here.”

She remembered that when she went to sell the house, she told the agent to tell anyone who asked that the owner had gone out.

That was probably why her second uncle’s family came over to Taoyuan Village.

Xiao Lingyu asked, “They’re here. What are you going to do now?”

“Of course, I’m going to stop them from meeting my parents!” An Xiaohui said firmly.

Her parents had stayed in the peach blossom village for a few days, and they enjoyed the leisurely life here. Moreover, they had been in contact with the Xiao family. They were shocked that the Xiao family had spoiled their daughter like a treasure. Plus, Xiao Lingyu had opened such a big company and a big farm. This had been a big shock to them, who valued sons over daughters.

Most importantly, they learned that their daughter’s son had always had his mother’s surname. The in-laws had also moved in with them. The two-in-laws had become a family, and they were very happy. This was also a great shock to An Xiaohui’s parents.

Xiao Lingyu thought for a moment and said, “Xiaohui, I feel that your parents’ views have changed a lot. In particular, their love for you and your boyfriend has deepened day by day. Why don’t you tell your parents about your second uncle’s visit and see what they say?”

An Xiaohui looked hesitant as she said, “But sister Lingyu, I don’t dare to gamble!”

What if her peaceful days were once again disturbed by those troubles?

Xiao Lingyu said, “Then what do you want to do? Cut off your parents from your second uncle’s family? However, with your second uncle’s family’s character, you know they won’t stop coming to harass you.”

An Xiaohui frowned and thought for a moment.

That was indeed the case.

Xiao Lingyu looked at An Xiaohui and thought for a moment, "How about this? Since they've found the company, I'll instruct my subordinates to try their best to reject them from coming to the company and not to leak your information. During this period of time, you can discuss it with Xiao Wang and see if you want to hide this from your parents or not."

An Xiaohui thought for a moment and said, "Alright then. Thank you, Sister Lingyu!"

Then, Xiao Lingyu made a call and gave her instructions.

After An Xiaohui left, Xiao Lingyu took a look at her disappearing figure and lowered her head to look at the various documents.

This was An Xiaohui's family matter. An Xiaohui's family would naturally decide how to handle it. If An Xiaohui really needed help, she would definitely help.

In a few days, the first shop in the foreign market was about to open.

The first batch of team members had already been transferred over.

The shop had not yet opened, but it had already received many orders. Most of the orders came from Count Wright and the guests at the party.

They had stolen a lot of business from the Royal Forest Group. Who knew how angry the Royal Forest Group would be?
