Chapter 16

Lily was in so much pain, the ice water wasn't enough, her wolf had gone quiet. There was a knock at the bathroom door, she sat in the tub hugging her knees.

There was more knocking this time more frantic. Lily didn't hear it anymore she was in the throws of pain, screaming and scratching at herself trying to get it to stop. The door was shattered, as two of her guards came into the room.

"What is wrong with her?"

Sam looked at the little she wolf, she was clearly in pain almost insane with it. The worst of it though was all the blood from her trying to scratch it out.

She looked up at Sam, "Please..leave..I can't take much..more."

"What do you need?"

"Ice"

Sam looked to his partner, "Go get as much Ice as you can find, send someone out to get more." His partner took off at a run. Sam sat on the 9:07 AM | 1.1KB/ edge of the tub, he wanted to help but he was afraid that touching her would make it worse.

"Do you know what is wrong, little wolf??"

Yes

"Well are you going to tell me?"

"No"

*There is no point in you being stubborn, you clearly need help. So come clean are you on drugs or something?"

"No"

"Little Wolf I can't help you if I don't know what is going on. So spill it already."

"I'm not going to tell a bunch of idiot werebears about personal female stuff."

"Oh my, I think I know what is going on, your in heat aren't you?"

She gave him what he was sure was her best death glare. Which told him he had a bingo. "What needs to be done, you need more ice to cool down, what else."

"There is nothing else you can do, I need my mate for this."

9:07 AM 1.3KB/s O

Tell me where I can find him and I will bring him to you."

"He is dead."

At that moment the other guard brought in several buckets of ice." I emptied out the ice machine, it is making more and I sent out Mika and two others out to get what they could find."

"Good, now go to the forest spring and bring back some of that ice cold water, Sam emptied the Ice into the bath and the little she wolf calmed down some." Handing the buckets back to the other guard with instructions to keep gathering it.

Sam also brought the shower curtain out at an angle, so no one will be able to see her. Giving her some sense of privacy anyway. Poor little wolf has to be mortified.

He also brought out all the softest towels he could find, not that there was many soft anything in this house. Sam had to contact his Leader and tell him what was going on with their guest. This was some crazy shit. Good thing that she is a wolf and not a bear. Other wise we would have males in here hanging from the rafters.

He stepped out of the bathroom mind linking

9:08 AM 0.7KB/ Jack

Marco and Jack were sitting on the porch of the little cabin, both of them were disheartend. "What kind of messed up piece of shit pack is this? How do you get so bad that your wolves leave. What makes someone do that?

lack ran his hand through his hair, "I don't know if there is a good reason for that. There is no excuse for it. They are pure evil. At first I just thought we'd mess around with them, piss them off a bit."

"Now I am declaring war. I go to the King tomorrow to report, I am going to ask to be the enforcer and executioner, I know that is Duncan's Job but he can't leave Adira and I would never ask him. I am free right now and my boys have been itching for a good fight. I always take car of my boys"

"No one should ever suffer like that, I told Sam to take care of Lily the best he could and Duncan sent one of his elder healers and a mage to help. Let's hope that we can all get this mess sorted."

"Jack, don't forget that Duncan is going to want a piece of that shit pie too."

9:08 AM 0.0KB/s 0 "Oh, he will. You see I forgot to get him a present for his birthday. I think this year I'm going to give him his very own punching bag named, The Alpha Micheal Punching Bag, it is a top of the line model. The perfect gift for those friends with a more eccentric kinda taste, Duncan will love it."

"Maybe pick one up for me too, since finding out about all this crap, all I have wanted to do was play beat up the asshole."

"This brings me to another thing Jack, once we clean the house so to speak, what are we going to do with all the victims?"

"Marco, I don't know yet. I have a feeling there is a lot more victims than we suspect."

Jack stood up and stretched, "Well I am going to go home and get ready for my audience with the King. See how my guest is doing, see if any of my guys are mortified yet."

"Yeah, I got pack business to get caught up and a prisoner to interrogate some more. Duncan's sister Marnie is here now and she will help them as much as she can. The Doc and the mages will all be coming and going. It's best that I take as much as the load as I can, our Luna is priority."

9:08 AM 10.0KB/s Right then they heard a gut wrenching scream coming from inside. Both Marco and Jack were sad and angry at the same time. Marco looked at Jack... Promise me that you make it hurt before you kill them." Jack nodded and faded into the forest, just as Marco silently shifted into wolf form and ran off into the forest. In the distance Marco let out a single howl for his Luna.

Eric Williams had the perfect plan to rid himself of his mate once and for all. He went to a herbalist for the perfect poison. It kills in about an hour, an hour of agony but the perfect thing about it is it takes away your ability to speak.

Now all he had to do was get it into her food or wine at dinner and bingo he can be the merry widower.

Joann Williams just came back from a very expensive Herbalist, the poison she bought killed the victim in about an hour, it is a slow and painful death. Best yet is it takes away your ability to speak or in this case call for help. Now all she had to do is bake that idiot his favorite cherry pie and just like that she will play the role of the merry widower. 3 9:08 AM 0.8KB/s When Eric came through the door of their little apartment, he could smell his favorite dessert, Cherry Pie.

Joann came out of the kitchen wearing an apron, "Hello Eric, the Mayson's have invited us out for dinner tonight, after that I made you your favorite Pie. I noticed how stressed you have been of late with everything that is going on and I thought you would like to have your favorite dessert.

I have it all ready to go for when we get home, some wine, pie and candle light. Just the two of us like it used to be.

Eric thought, well how about that she did a splendid job at planning her own murder scene. Perfect.

The prince was at his favorite resort, he had to stay away from the royal court. He found out yesterday that his father was investigating Rising Moon. He hoped to the goddess that he was kept out of it, no telling what his father would do if he found out his role in it all.

He was not a fool, he knew what his father would do if he knew, that not only was he involved in the activities of Rising Moon but also one of it's founders.

He did have some money tucked away for a rainy day, it wouldn't be enough to get far though. He had a feeling no amount of money would be enough to help him hide from his fathers wrath.

He knew he has to let Spare go and get rid of any evidence that will tie him to any of this, it is the only way for him to come out of this smelling like a rose. Even if he has to marry the ugly princess at least he can still have his side action. That is why he contacted his spy within Rising Moon, he will take care of the evidence and put it all on Alpha Micheal. He also informed his spy to get the formula for the Aphrodite's Kiss. That will come in handy for future profits.

##WARNING: SOME STRONG LANGUAGE AND SITUATIONS}##-

Duncan bit down hard tasting his mates blood, in an instant he could feel all of her pain, it was unbearable. He called out for Apollo for help, instead he got Artemis surrounding him with warmth, that was when he passed out.

Adira was floating on a wave of pain, she couldn't get away from it. She felt so alone in the wave. She could hear Duncan in the dark distance but she couldn't make out what was being said. She lay on the dark ground hugging her knee's, that was when she felt light by her side, she looked up and there was Artemis, wrapping herself around Adira.

Adira could hear her heart beat, as she listened the pain became less. There was a lonely sounding howl in the distance, it was getting closer and closer. Adira wasn't afraid of the howl, she thought that it sounded beautiful, it made her feel calm and warm inside.

With each howl the pain lessened more and more.

"Adira?"

9:08 AM 2.0KB/s

"Yes, Artemis?"

"Open your eyes."

"There isn't anything to see but inky blackness.

"No little one, look it is no longer dark at all."

Adira opened her eyes, before her was the single most wonderful place, there were little fairy lights dancing lazily around, a gentle wind carried the scent of the blooming flowers. There was a little brook running through the middle giving the sound of moving water to the back ground

The sky was the brightest blue and the sun rays danced in and out of the little clouds. Then she saw them, a man and a wolf standing side by side. Looking at them in the distance, Artemis danced around Adira's feet and then took off at a run towards their two visitors. Adira couldn't help herself she took off running too.

The closer she got the more she realized who the visitors were, Duncan and Apollo. She ran even faster till finally she was leaping into Duncans arms, laughing in complete happiness. The pain was all forgotten, as Duncan twirled her around and around.

Once their joy subsided a little, Adira asked

9:08 AM I 1.9KB/

Artemis.. "Where are me, Arty?"

"We are in my realm little one. This is where I stay when I am apart from you."

"You couldn't take any more of the pain, I think whomever gave us that poison ment to kill us eventually. Duncan and Apollo saved you by marking you and I took everyone here. We will all be here till the sun rises again. Then we go home, we have to follow the rules of the Goddess though to do so, I will explain that later and don't be alarmed if time moves slower here than out there."

"Now we play, relax and then learn each other." Artemis backed away and then came at Adira at a full run , knocking her down. Adira was laughing so hard, Artemis was using her snout and teeth to tickle her.

Duncan was laughing at them both as he was hit from behind by Apollo, next thing he knew Apollo was doing the same thing to him, all you could hear were giggles and playful growls.

Eric was excited with anticipation all through dinner with the Mayson's. He was the perfect gentleman, he thought he was funny and the life of the dinner party. Mostly though the

9:09 AM 2.5KB/S Da

Mayson's thought he was a bit creepy, his sense of humor was a bit too dark.

Joann was the quiet one, she barely spoke more than five words all night. She did laugh at all her husband's jokes though. Which seemed to encourage his over confident attitude.

They were very happy when the evening came to an end and it was time for them to part ways. They said their good byes, and when they got into their car both of them gave a sigh of relief.

Eric and Joann drove home in silence, it wasn't unusual for them it was how they preferred it. When they reached their place, Joann got out of the car. "I will go get us a bottle of our favorite wine, remember the one we drank at our wedding? I will get everything set up for just the two of us."

When Eric entered their little dining room it was lit with candles, Joann was waiting for him in one of the chairs, she was wearing the red silk teddy he loved so much. He had to admit, that even at this age she still had a great body.

She got up with the bottle of wine and handed it to him, She kissed him. "Why don't you pour us each of glass, while I go get the pie for us to enjoy.

9:09 AM I 1.7KB/S He watched as she went into the kitchen, he poured them both a glass and then added the poison to hers. She came in with the pie, this time only wearing an apron. She smirked at him as she sat his piece in front of him. Together they toasted each other, she drank all her wine down in one gulp and he smiled.

He picked up his fork and ate his piece of pie plus another, in anticipation of waiting for the poison to kick in. It didn't take too long and she was doubled over in pain, rolling on the floor in agony. He started laughing at her when it hit him, the pain was horrible, before he knew it he had joined Joann on the floor writhing in agony.

She saw him fall and though she was in terrible pain she laughed maniacally.

By morning both were dead, their bodies lay there for weeks stinking with decay, till the land lady found them because they were late on their rent.

When Jack got back to their Den house, his second came to him to report on the she wolf.

"She had a rough time of it for a while there, now she is sleeping normally and her heat is all but gone now."

9:09 AM | 0.0KB/s 0

Thank you for taking care of it Sam, it couldn't of been easy." Sam laughed, it was NO dang picnic

I'll tell ya!

"On a more serious note, what do you plan to do with her Jack. I know she isn't innocent but I have a feeling there is more to her story than meets the eye."

"I know Sam there are a lot of things that are finally adding up, still though, there are so many questions unanswered."

"Have her ready to go in the morning, I want her hands bound though. I want her to know she still has to face the consequences for her the part she played in all this."

"I will take her to the King, and see if she has anymore information to tell us. I will let him decide her fate."

When Jack got to his room he sat on the end of his bed in sheer exhaustion, running his fingers through his hair. His thoughts went to the things he found out about the royal house. He found it strange that the Prince was off on some island, when he was scheduled for Royal Guard duties.

0:09 AM 127.OKB/S

Something just isn't in the picture fully yet and he was determined to find it out. There is no way that Alpha Micheal could of come up with the money to fund the opening of such a big scheme.

He hoped to find the Alpha 's account books, the real ones this time. Find out who is all tied to this. Every pack, every human, every where. He wants to find other pack members of Rising Moon. To see how far the abuse goes, he has a feeling he wasn't going to like the answer.

Alpha Micheal was in his own apartments in the second pack house, playing nice with some big time drug dealers who were really interested in Aphrodite's Kiss. How to mix it for both shifters and humans.

Alpha Micheal realized that tomorrow night was the full moon that his wolf had mentioned. He wondered if anything would happen. Probally not, his wolf was always a righteous prick and a coward.

Micheal smiled in the darkness, thinking of his father and wondering what he would think of what Micheal did to his pack. He could still hear him yelling at him, ((What did you do this time. I simply don't understand what is wrong with 9:09 AM 0.1KB/s you boy.))

Right now his guests were enjoying themselves with a couple of his females, a little demonstration on how it works with females. He will know their decision in the morning. The Prince decided to play the role of the coward and backed out of his deal, he didn't get refunded what he paid up front but Micheal wasn't going to gain any more money either.

Now that his search for that little bitch wasn't so urgent, he could take his time to get his revenge. Fucking Werebear's, they messed everything up by getting involved. It doesn't matter anymore anyway because he now know's where the female really is. They thought they were so clever, I will show them how to be sneaky and clever.

I should know, I have pulled the wool over so many inspectors eyes.

Speaking into the darkness of his room.... "The Game is up assholes, time for round two."

Chapter 18

##WARNING sexual situations and content###

Duncan, Apollo, Adira and Artemis were finally all played out, they sat in silence watching the clouds roll by. Artemis let out a contented sigh, *Well everyone I think it is time I explain how we get home.

Everyone looked at Artemis, they all were aware that she'd kept that information for later.

"We have to mate. Apollo and I, Adira and Duncan. In the traditional way of the Goddess."

"Adira you will go off with Duncan, when you find a spot you like, then you run and Duncan gives chase. Once he catches you, well I think you have the idea."

"Apollo and I will do the same thing somewhere else. We will continue until the third and final climax. Once that has happened we will merge once again and return to your realm. Whole again."

Adira was red as a tomato, she sensed that Artemis wasn't telling the whole truth, she'd left something out

9:10 AM 3.3KB/s "Artemis, What are you not telling us.?"

Artemis, Looked around at everyone and sighed. "I was hoping that I wouldn't have to get to this part till we are on the other side, I suppose I should tell it all, just don't get mad at me Adira."

"ARTEMIS, OUT WITH IT." |

"OOOK, fine. If we, umm, mate here in this realm we will become pregnant, there is no way out of it. I know that I didn't think things through before, I was too concerned with the thought of losing you, that I did the only thing I could think of to keep you alive, that was to bring you here.

"Oh, Arty it's ok. You had me worried there for a bit, I was thinking we had to sacrifice something in order to leave. I want to mate with Duncan, yes I am a little scared by it but mostly because it is an unknown thing to me. I don't mind having Duncan's pups. I did plan on waiting a little before I took that step, if it is to be now, then lets get it going."

"After all Artemis, we will still have to do a sacrifice, I believe the Goddess wants us to spill our virgin blood. Eww, forget I said that. It did not come out right." Duncan didn't think Adira could get any redder, but she did. She was 9:10 AM 10.1KB/s 0 beautiful as a ripe strawberry.

Artemis didn't say anything more, instead she took off in a full out run into the nearby forest. Apollo looked stunned for a second and then bolted off after her. Leaving Dunan and Adira alone.

Duncan just sat there for a moment with a really happy stupid looking smile on his face.

"Well, little wolf aren't you going to run? I will give you a head start."

He was so excited it was like he was a young pup, staring at the christmas tree waiting to open the presents.

Before Duncan realized it she was off and running, he could hear her laughter in the distance. He counted to five and took off after her.

They ended up in a field of flowers, flowers of every kind. The scent they gave off was Adira's and his, depending on which way the breeze was blowing. The fairy lights seemed to be brighter here, they gave off a soft glow when mixed with the sunlight.

Duncan finally caught up to her and pounced, grabbing her around her waist and pulling her 9:10 AM 0.3KB/s down on top of him into the flowers. "Hello, my little wolf." was all that was said as he pulled her head down to kiss her.

At first it was playful then it turned into heated passion, they were trying to get their clothes off while still kissing. Neither wanting to let go of the other, a back and forth war of the lips as they finally achieved their goal, both were completely naked now. It only fueled their frenzy, into something wild and primal.

One couldn't tell where one began or the other ended. Duncan couldn't get enough! Her scent was a drug he would gladly stay addicted to forever, her body was incredible, her milky white skin so soft and responsive to his every touch.

Adira couldn't get enough, his body was that of a god. His skin was a soft covering for a very hard body. His scent drove her higher and higher. His lips and nibbling teeth on her breast drove her insane. She could feel his manhood long and hard against her leg, He was a big bad wolf for sure.

Duncan flipped them so he was on top, his weight encompassed her and she felt safe and surrounded by his love for her. He started to kiss her down her body, he lingered over her belly button licking and kissing it. Moving lower

9:10 AM | 1.2KB/s and lower till he was teasing her petals with his tongue. When he found her little bundle of nerves he sucked on it and it drove her to a new level of pleasure as she arched her back in pleasure.

His low growls of pleasure, were vibrating on her most sensitive places. Making it impossible to even think. He moved so he was kneeling in between her thighs, he positioned himself at her opening, then moved fully on top of her, whispering in her ear, "Ready or not, here I come."

With one swift thrust he was in her fully, she let out a scream of pleasure and pain. He stayed still inside her for a little bit, while her body adjusted to his, then he began to slowly move out and back in, she wrapped herself around him holding on tight.

He began thrusting faster and faster till she was mindless with pleasure, her nails raking down his back. He was kissing her deeply while she moaned into his mouth. He was so fully in her it felt like he was touching her belly button. Just when Adira didn't think she could take anymore, she climaxed with a scream of his name and took him with her over the edge of pleasure and beyond.

Just as she was coming down from her climax,

9:10 AM 3.6KB/s) she reached up and bit him where his neck met his shoulder, they both climaxed again as he screamed her name again and again as he emptied his hot seed deeply inside her. 2)

Apollo chased Artemis through the forest, he would catch up to her then she would rub herself all over him, swish her tail in his face and then she would take off again.

This went on like this for what seemed like hours, till finally they both fell to the age old need of mates.

Adira lay exhausted on top of Duncan's chest, she didn't think it possible that they were able to do it again so soon. Duncan moved to sit up holding her to him. Their skin was cooling in the breeze of the glade. Duncan looked around and then smiled.

In one swift movement he had her in his arms and started to walk in the direction of the trees. They walked for a little while, Adira kissed Duncan everywhere she could reach him, from her perch in his arms, she was also leaving marks all over him claiming her territory.

9:11 AM O.OKB/S

Adira wasn't paying attention to the surrounding area, it was too late when she heard Duncan give out a giggle. As she felt herself flying through the air and then landing in a big splash of warm water.

She came up laughing, when she stood up drops of water glittered in the rays of the sunset, as they ran lovingly down her body. Duncan stared at her like a wolf that just captured his prey. He started to walk into the pool of water with a purpose. Adira just laughed and swam away splashing him as she went.

He gave her a predatory smile as he dove in after her. She managed to avoid him for a little while, mostly because he was enjoying the chase and her laughter. He was so happy that she was so receptive to his love, after all the crap she'd been through.

He let her control the situation a little longer and then he dived deep into the pool and came up right under her. She went flying backwards into the water as he caught her in the water, waisting no time he took her mouth in a passionate kiss, her lips already swollen from their previous love making. 2

He backed her up slowly till they were at a rocky 9:11 AM 1.7KB/S wall of the pool, he wrapped her legs around him and drove himself home in one carnal thrust of pleasure, He pounded into her over and over as she was screaming his name, he growled when they came again.

He should be exhausted but he found he couldn't get enough of her. He smiled into her neck giving her yet another mark, He will always want more of her, always.

Just as he was thinking of going for one more, there were two big splashes from the other side of the forest pool. It was Artemis and Apollo swimming over to them, both looked like they were very happy.

"Well, is everyone ready to go home now?" Artemis asked happily and a little smugly.

Everyone reluctantly nodded.

They swam to the center of the pool, then the full moon rose into the night casting a light on them as the water began to swirl under them. They were caught in the whirlpool and merged wolf to human becoming werewolves once again. Then they knew no more.

When Duncan woke up to the sun rays of high noon coming in the window, he looked down into his arms at Adira lovingly.

9:11 AM 2.7KB/S He then called to Apollo to see if they were all back where they belonged. "Apollo answered sleepily and grumpy, "Yes, I am here, now let me sleep."

Duncan laid back down and lost himself in thought of what he'd just experienced. It was real alright, then he looked at Adira, could she be carrying his pup already?.

That was when he heard a laugh inside his mind, it was Artemis!!! "What the hell, how are you in my mind just as if you were Apollo?"

She laughed again. "Silly male, we four are joined together now. I can be in you and Apollo can be in Adira, or both wolves and join with one or the other. There are a lot of combinations I don't know everything about it yet."

"To answer your question though, yes, we carry our pup." I

Chapter 19

Jack Dawson was like any other werebear he preferred the deep woods. He didn't go into the bigger cities and towns. He kept to the smaller towns if he had a need for something, he would venture out if ordered but usually in his realm that didn't require bigger populations.

Ordering online was his thing, They kept apartments in different little towns to stay in, if there was a need when traveling. Each apartment was fully furnished and had internet and television to keep up on the times. WereBears did not ever stay in hotels..too many people, too many smells associated with people.

He looked over at the shewolf sitting next to him in his jeep. Her hands were bound in front of her and she sat with a resolve, it was like she was going to her executioner. Maybe she was, she had done some pretty bad things, some of which he believed she might of been tricked into at first, that didn't explain her later actions though.

He didn't talk to her, he felt no need to do so. If his silence add's some anxiety to her punishment than so be it.

9:11 AM I 1.BKB/S

They arrived in good time, two of the Kings guards and a servant met them at the back entrance. The guards took the female and the servant took the one bag that

Jack allowed her to have He would not see her again till the morning when the King will sentence her.

Once he was inside, one of the Kings personal servants motioned for Jack to follow him, to the Kings private chambers. Once there he bowed and then sat next to the King by a large fireplace.

"Now Jack please show me the evidence and tell me all you know. I will go to the female personally, to gain the rest of the information, if she has any more I will find it." Jack flinched a little, the King has a special ability to look into your heart and soul. It can be very invasive and can even be very painful, if it met with resistance.

Jack began with the physical evidence and then they talked for two long hours before the King was satisfied that he had enough evidence to clean out the Rising Moon Pack.

"Your Highness, I do have to say that I feel there is a lot more to the situation than meets the eye, I still feel that Alpha Micheal had or still has an benefactor."

9:11 AM 3.5KB/S

"I looked at the financials before, there was no way he could get something this complex and lucrative off the ground, not without an original loan or at the very least a partnership with a more wealthier person."

"Jack I want to tell you this again so we are very clear on this, I want everyone guilty party punished in that pack, I want those who knew but did nothing, I want those that did the smallest of things right up to the ring leaders. That Alpha Micheal shit smear brought directly before me, unharmed."

"Yes my King it will be done as ordered. What of the innocent?"

"If there is any, escort them here or if there is another pack they wish to go to then take them there."

"Now, if you will excuse me Jack I have to talk to a shewolf and see if we can get some more answers."

Lily was taken to a small cell of a room. The guards pulled her inside put her suitcase at her feet and then locked her in the room.

The room consisted of a small bed, just big 9:11 AM 1. OKB/S enough for one person, a small dresser and a mirror. There was one small shelf under the barred window the glass in the window was milky, it would let light in but you couldn't see out of it. Everything was grey. The floor was hard stone of a slightly darker grey.

When she sat down on the bed, she had a feeling she was going to be here a long time. With a sigh she started to put the things she was allowed to bring away. There was a hook on the back of the door, other than the small dresser there was no where else to put clothing. Not that she brought a lot with her anyway.

When she opened the top dresser drawer, she found two towels, two washclothes and three candles and a candle holder. Nothing to light them with though. Once she was done, she kept the suitcase under the bed for extra storage. She sat down on the bed with nothing else to do. She did take note of the fact that the room had no other light source other than the window.

She heard the key in the lock and stood up, in came a small old woman. She carried a tray, it had a cup of tea, a bowl of soup and a sandwich of some sort. She placed it on her bed and left locking the door behind her.

She went to the door and knocked on it, another key in the lock and a guard came inside.

9:11 AM 2.1KB/s 0

"I was just wondering about using the bathroom.?"

The guard looked at her without emotion on his face. All he said was, "Eat first" without letting her say anything more he was back on his side of the door, locking it.

With a sigh she sat down to eat.....

The spy sat down in the woods just outside of the borders of Alpha Duncans Pack territory. Waiting for the informer to meet him. He almost was caught once when he got a little to close. He gets the creeps when he is here, this pack is a tough one and always on alert. One miss step and he will have a lot of explaining to do,

The informer well not really an informer, more like they were holding his son hostage for a little while. He didn't hear the guy come up next to him, the informer was silent as a ghost.

"I don't have anything to report other than there is something going on with the wearbears. Their leader is a good friend of our Alpha. He has been here twice, usually he doesn't travel this far south of his own clan unless it is important."

"The female you seek is with our Alpha. No one in the pack has seen either one of them for almost a week now." Marco the Beta is doing all the work for the Alpha in his absence."

"That is all I have for now." Then he disappeared into the forest as silent as he came.

The spy didn't waste any time getting out of there. The informer was on the verge between saving his son and his loyalty to his Alpha and pack. He knew that the informer was going to get more difficult, his son was always in trouble that is how they found out about his father, kid was always blabbering away about everything and anything.

The problem was, if they kill the kid they lose the father, however they could only use the kid so long. If that father starts to suspect that his son is not in any danger and is in fact the one who thought this up, then the father isn't going to be happy.

As it is already, he suspected that the informer was holding back information, only telling them enough to be interested and not enough to do any damage. Alpha Micheal isn't going to be happy about this. He has a feeling that his next orders regarding the informer are going to be

9:12 AM | 1.2KB/s 0 to kill him.

When Lily was done eating, the guard kept his promise and took her to the toilet. That is what it was a small hole in the wall, with a curtain for a door, no sink. Nothing but a toilet and a lightbulb on the ceiling with a string,

One small roll of toilet paper sat on the floor next to the toilet. The curtain didn't go all the way down to the floor, she could see the guards boots just on the other side.

When she was done, she thought she was going back to the room. Instead the guards brought her to a double door, they knocked once and the doors opened, inside was another guard this one looked at her in pity. She held her head up higher she didn't need anyone's pity.

The guard brought her into a big circular room made of stone, There were windows but there wasn't any glass in them just long white with gold trim curtains. The only thing in the room were two chairs facing each other in the very center of the room, there was a huge fire roaring in the fire place on the other end of the room.

There was another door on the opposite of the one she came through, the guard sat her down in one of the chairs and vines came out of no where, restraining her to the chair so she couldn't move.

9:12 AM | 1.7KB/SD

She sat in the chair straight like a lady, she didn't have much left they'd taken everything they could from her, all she had left was her defiance to live, no matter what. No one is going to take that away from her or her wolf Zinnia.

Zinnia had been quiet of late, they both were resigned to the fact that it was time to tell everything and let the chips fall where they may, she knew she was messed up and did some really terrible things, Zinnia went crazy there for awhile after they killed their mates, Leo and his wolf Zack.

She started to tear up again and forced it back, the guard had left and she was alone in this room, the only sounds that could be heard were the cracks and pops of the fire place. She closed her eyes and waited for whatever this was to begin.

###WARNING!!!!!! Strong sexual situations, Language and triggering subjects about abuse. Caution is advised.####

Duncan and Adira moved back into the pack house right after Adira's Luna ceremony. Duncan had felt a little uneasy all day, it was as if he was being watched and yet there wasn't anyone there. It was setting Apollo off too, making him uneasy as well,

Duncan mind linked Marco, "Could you come up to the office for a few.?" Duncan went out into the hall to meet Marco. He still couldn't shake the feeling of being watched which ment it was here in the hall as well. m.

As Marco came up the stairs, Duncan mind linked him again, "Act normal, Do you feel like you are being watched?"

"Yes, I thought it was just me."

"We need to have our security system checked to see if someone has hacked it."

"Marco, check everything to do with our security, but keep a low profile while doing it if you can. I don't want to spook our peeping tom."

Closing the link they walked off in different directions , Duncan went to his bedroom to see if there was a camera in there, if there was then it wasn't part of the security system, it was the peeping tom.

If the system has been hacked that is one thing. If there are camera's in places that never should have them, then that can only mean one thing, they have a traitor amongst them.

He entered their bedroom, he made it look like he was looking for something he had forgotten. It didn't take long to find it, the camera had full view of the bedroom. He went over to the dresser and grabbed his keys and left the room, Mind linking Marco what he found.

Marco and Duncan went outside to discuss this latest development and find out who it was that did this, the spy has to be found.

Lily sat in the chair waiting, she was pretty sure that it was intentional, she didn't care anymore though, she stopped caring a long time ago, She has for years vented her anger on her parents, pieces of shit that they are. Betrayers.

She heard a faint click and then the King walked into the room, she wasn't expecting the King to 9:12 AM 32.8KB/s show up. She didn't feel she was worthy of that, some lower ranking official perhaps but not the King

He sat down in the other chair facing her, he didn't say anything, just looked into her eyes. She started to feel like she was sleeping but she was still awake, her wolf Zinnia came to the front pushing Lily away.

That is when she heard the King's mind speaking to her wolf." Alright it is time to share everything, I want the whole story. I will know if you hold back or lie, there will be pain if you do."

Zinnia wasted no time in telling everything, telling all their secrets..." My name is Zinnia and I am the wolf to Lily. We were born to that piece of shit pack, Rising Moon."

"At first things were good, it wasn't until we shifted our first time that things went from ok to bad and then a shit storm of pain. That is when the Alpha took an interest in Lily, that piece of shit took a 14 year old girl and forced her to do all kinds of disgusting sexual things with him."

"I got sick of it, I bit him and we were punished for it , five lashes for our first offense. It wasn't our last. When Alpha shit found out that pain

9:12 AM 0.1KB/s was no longer a good way to control us, he moved on to my friends.

"He started out slow, he would send me pictures of them in their bedroom, twice he sent me pictures of them in the shower. It was plain to see that if I didn't do what he wanted he would do something to them."

"He started stalking all of us, he would watch outside the windows at school. He would be there to pick them up from school, their parents thought the Alpha was being so kind to take time out of his busy day to make sure the girls get home safe. He made me want to puke. I told my parents but they said that it was an honor to be chosen by the Alpha.

"Lily took the brunt of a lot the crap that he did, we did everything we were supposed to and he still hurt our friends. Lily changed after she found out the he used her to capture her friend Anne, he flaunted it in front of us, tied us to a chair to make us watch what they did to her. They are so sick they called what they did that night, Anne's breaking in ceremony."

"Lily was never the same again, she wouldn't even talk to me anymore. She was always angry and hateful. She tortured Spare something terrible, I think she did that because it seemed like no one bothered with her. Lily stopped, 9:13 AM 2.0KB/s 0 when she found out what was really going on with Spare.

"I couldn't reach her for a long while, that was until we found out mates, Leo and Zach. Leo was a beta he was almost done with his training, he was visiting from the North Moon Pack. We had to keep everything a secret, it worked for about six months. Leo was done with his training and was summoned home, we were going to go together."

"I would be free of my pack and join his. It was the only happy time in my life. I didn't know that we were being spied on, when they told Alpha Micheal what we were planning, He went crazy. Next thing we knew, they barged into our room, and shot us both with a dart gun. We woke up naked tied to chairs in an empty room."

"Alpha Micheal came in with two others, they circled Leo but Leo and Zach did not cave into their intimidation, They....."

"The King let her rest for a minute, "They what? Zinnia. What did they do?"

Lily and Zinnia doubled over in pain, "Please don't make us relive it." 2

"I am sorry, but I told you in the beginning you have to tell me everything. So you are going to 9:13 AM 1.7KB/S have to relive this memory one more time. I have to know everything."

"He couldn't fight back, they kept punching and kicking him. We both tried to shift but we couldn't. Then Alpha Micheal took a small Knife and said that because Leo looked at what wasn't his that he will no longer see anything again, HE TOOK OUT HIS FUCKING EYES, HIS BEAUTIFUL EYES....."

Lily started talking in almost a whisper, "Then his lips and tongue because he kissed me, then his ear's because he listened to me, then his hands because he touched me, finally they cut off his genitals because he fucked me. I kept screaming at them to stop. It was as if I wasn't even in the room."

"Everytime they would cut off one of his parts they would throw it at my feet."

"When he was done, Alpha Micheal gagged me and turned my chair to face what was left of my lovely Leo. They left the room as I watched Leo bleed to death. I was in that room alone with him for two days."

"Once they let us go, we couldn't feel anything anymore, nothing we were nothing. Alpha Micheal had us do things, we did them without any emotions. He would rape us, we didn't care 9:13 AM 0.9KB/s anymore. He destroyed everything that we were, he took everything we had.”

“He would have us find virgins for him, most of the time in our pack but he was running short, so he sent us off to find more in other packs or even rogues when we could find one.

“I did defy him though when it came to the children or babies. One time he gave me a baby to deliver to this pedophile scientist, that got off on experimenting on babies. I stopped off at another pack and dropped the baby off in the night.”

“He would force me to deliver drugs and guns to humans, once in awhile he would send me as a present, to one of his men as a reward.”

“When the Prince would come to visit, I was his personal toy slave. I would have to wear this out fit he brought with him, it was a silver mini skirt, no panties and I had silver tossed pasties. He would drop things so I had to expose myself for him to pick it up. I had to stand by the bed holding a towel while he fucked all the little girls and boys. He would get really excited when they brought him little boys...”

The King shouted.....” STOP!”

“Zinnia, Tell me about this prince, who is he?,

The King shouted.....”STOP!”

“Zinnia, Tell me about this prince, who is he?, What is his name?”

Lily was gone, only Zinnia was there, there was no deceit in her voice, nothing held back.

“Are you sure you want me to answer that?”

“NOW!”

“It was your son, Prince Adam. He is one of the benefactors of the whole operation.”
