

Wanda's POV

There she was. She was beautiful. Her name I didn't know, but I wanted to know everything about her. I could hear her screams as they experimented on her, and all I wanted to do was rip their throats out for hurting her. We slowly got to know each other, and I learned that HYDRA had kidnapped her and killing her family, well, what was left of it. I knew she was so family oriented and it hurt her to be away from them with them worrying. I learned that she was from Minnesota and she loved it. I learned that she wanted to be a veterinarian. I also learned that her cousins were the most important thing in her life and she wanted to go back to them if she ever got away. I knew she blamed herself for her mom and sister's death, and she hated herself for that. She also thought she was a monster and not worthy of love, but I was going to prove her wrong. I will show you what love is Skylar Moss. Just you wait.

a<sup>18</sup>

Continue reading next part □