

First Glance, Forever Love by Maria Xavier Chapter 10

Chapter 10 A Slap

“What?”

Everyone looked in the direction of the servant’s finger, and they saw a snake spitting and hissing.

The snake was different from ordinary snakes. Its head was so big, and the two sides of its neck expanded. And it seemed to attack immediately.

The servants didn’t dare continue forward, and they retreated in horror.

“Quick Run.” The servants retreated one by one and rushed out of the room.

At that moment, Drake and Rosemary arrived.

After seeing this scene, Drake took two steps back and didn’t dare go forward.

Rosemary’s face was livid. She trembled and said, “What happened... How could there be a snake? How could Erin be bitten by a snake? What are you still standing there for? Hurry up and kill that snake.”

The servants looked at each other, but none of them dared go forward.

Was anyone willing to deal with the cobra that looked very poisonous at first glance? What kind of joke was this?

Laura, who came late, saw this scene, and her expression looked complicated Wasn’t this snake that Laura placed in Laila’s room? How did it come here?

When Laila put the snake in Laila’s room, she felt her legs tremble while holding the transparent box containing the snake. Now, she didn’t dare go forward at all because she was very clear about the poison of this snake.

If Erin didn’t get the serum within an hour, she would be dead.

It just so happened that Laura couldn’t tell anyone about this.

Rosemary saw that no one dared go forward, so she could only go to Drake. “Drake, kill that snake.”

Drake didn’t dare to step forward either.

But in front of so many people, he didn't want to lose the clignity of a family head...

There would be rumors about this. His daughter was bitten by a snake, but he didn't dare go up to save his daughter. Drake would lose his reputation.

He blamed this dilemnina on these dain, timid servants and Rosemary wlio had pulled him out.

If not for them, how could hic lave stepped into such a dilemma?

Drake braced himself and picked up a broom. And he was about to walk forward. Sudd enly, a clear voice sounded. "Dad, what are you doing here in the middle of the night?"

As soon as Drake turned his head, he saw Laila wearing pajamas. Laila's hair was messy, and she looked sleepy. And Laila seemed to have just woken up.

Drake said awkwardly, "A snake crawled into the rooin. Your sister was bitten unconscious by a snake. I have to go up...."

"How can that be?" The sleepiness in Laila's eyes suddenly disappeared. She grabbed Drake and said, "It's too dangerous. Dad, you can't go over."

When

Rosemary heard this, anger rose from her heart, and she raised her right hand to slap Laila in the face.

Laila could have easily avoided the slap, but she hesitated for one-tenth of a second and decided not to avoid it.

There was a crisp slapping sound, and the slap landed solidly on Laila's face.

The slap was forceful.

Laila's fair and tender cheeks instantly swelled up, and five finger marks were left on her face.

Alter Rosemary finished the slap, she started to curse, "Little bitch. You just want your sister to die here, don't you? You vicious woman, get out of here. Butler. Throw her out immediately."

The butler at the side didn't know what he should do. He could only shoot a glance at Drake.

without waiting for Drake to speak, Laila blinked as her tears slowed down. She said aggrievedly, “Dad, I am just worried about your safety. You are the head of the family. If something happens to you, what will happen to our family? I just got together with you. I don’t want to lose you. You are the closest person to me.”

These words were just what Drake wanted to hear.

Yes, he was the head of the family, and the whole family was waiting for him to feed.

If something happened to him, wouldn’t this faintly be gone?

It turned out that only his treasured daughter could understand him.

Drake frowned and glared at Rosemary.

“Why did you hit her? she was just worried about my safety.”

“But she wanted Erin to...”

“Rosemary,” Laila interrupted Rosemary and said. “Why do you always doubt me? Please. I will prove that I don’t want anything to happen to my sister.”

As Laila spoke, she took the broom in Drake’s hand and fearlessly walked toward the snake.

“Miss Laila, be careful. That snake is very poisonous.” The servants who couldn’t stand it reminded Laila kindly.

Drake couldn’t help but hesitate. Compared to Erin, Laila was his more precious daughter.

“Laila, don’t go.” Drake wanted to stop Laila, but Laila pushed Drake’s hand away and walked toward the snake.

The cobra seemed to be enraged. As Laila walked forward, it flew over.

Laila arduously avoided the snake’s attack and quickly turned to sweep the snake’s tail with the broom.

The cobra became even more furious, and the sound of its spitting became even more terrifying.

Everyone was so scared that they didn’t dare move, or they just hid far away. Only Laila was fighting the cobra in the large room.

In everyone’s eyes, Laila was now a warrior,

A brave warrior.

After more than ten minutes, Laila finally grabbed the snake's head with difficulty.

"Give me a pair of scissors or any knife."

Laila quickly took it, closed her eyes, and cut the snake's head with a look of fear.

The terrifying cobra's head was removed, and it could no longer move.

Only then did Drake dare step forward and ask Laila with concern, "Are you alright?"

Laila looked terrified. When she saw Drake, she ran straight into Drake's arms...

"Dad. I'm so scared..."

"My good girl, don't be afraid. It's alright. The snake is dead."

"With you here, I'm not afraid... Dad, don't worry about me for now. Hurry up and send my sister to the hospital..." Laila raised her head with a delicate and pitiful expression. But she was determined and tenacious.

Drake was touched.

It was his great fortune to have such a daughter.

When he saw the palm print on Laila's face, his anger emerged. He glared at Rosemary and said, "Look at what you have done. To protect Erin, she even risked her life. How could you still think that she wanted to harm Erin?"

"Since you can't tell right from Wrong, I don't think you have the right to take care of the family business. In the future, I will take care of the family's financial expenses myself."

Rosemary's face immediately darkened.

"Darling, I just..."

Rosemary quickly tried to defend herself, but Drake interrupted her.

“Shut up. I don’t want to hear it. From today on, you should go back to your room and reflect on yourself. If you can’t change your thinking way, then don’t go out.”

A servant came in to report, “Mr. Harmon, the ambulance is here.”
