

First Glance, Forever Love by Maria Xavier Chapter 15

Chapter 15 Shine in the Spotlight

Erin and Rosemary did not do anything. Rosemary did not mention anything about letting Erin out. She even took good care of Laila. This made Drake feel better.

The incident about a viper was also forbidden to talk about, and the manor was quiet as if nothing had happened.

After sleeping in the study for five days, Drake went back to his bedroom and slept with Rosemary.

On the sixth day, when Drake went out again, he was in good spirits. When he looked at Rosemary, his eyes were gentle. Anyone could guess what happened last night.

Rosemary picked up a chicken leg for Laila during dinner.

"Thank you, Rosemary," Laila said with a sweet smile.

"Now you should call me mom," Rosemary said, "I will take care of you like your mother, child. Erin is not my biological daughter, but I also take care of her as my own. In the future, you can tell me if you need anything."

Laila sneered in her heart. She would not believe Rosemary's words no matter what.

Erin was only a few months younger than her, which meant Drake cheated on her mother with Rosemary while her mother was pregnant.

Drake naturally would not believe such a scandal be known.

Rosemary suddenly said this, so she must have some plans.

Rosemary wanted Laila to call her "Mom".

Laila knew she only had two mothers, a biological mother and an adoptive one, and she would not call another woman her mother.

Laila looked at Drake with a pleading gaze. "Dad, sorry. I need time to get used to it."

Her eyes were bright and gentle, carrying a bit of softness.

Laila was lying on purpose and she felt that no one would not be struck by the look in her eyes at that moment.

Sure enough, when Drake looked at her, he became soft-hearted.

Even though he was Laila's father, no man could resist such a look

He coughed and said, "It doesn't matter. There will be plenty of Lime. Take your time to get used to it. We don't need to be in such a hurry."

"Thank you, Dad. I'm sorry, Rosemary. I have to get used to it slowly." Laila said to Rosemary apologetically.

Rosemary was furious. Laila was not even willing to call her mother!

However, Rosemary was much calmer than Erin. Rosemary smiled and said, "This is difficult for you. I was in too much of a hurry. You don't have to apologize to me, and I should apologize to you. You can get used to it slowly. After all, we are family from now on."

"Thank you, Rosemary."

"It's nothing."

Both of them had gentle smiles on their faces, and the atmosphere seemed to be harmonious.

Drake looked at them, and his exhaustion at work disappeared.

As long as the family was harmonious, everyone would feel setene. And he was relieved that they didn't make more Trouble

However, just as Drake thought this, Rosemary said, "Hubby, there's something I haven't told you. It's about Erin."

As soon as he heard the name of Erin, Drake's good mood was ruined. He slapped his knife on the table and said angrily, "Are you going to speak up for that damn girl? she made such a big mistake. Being locked up for a month is good enough! Don't think of speaking up for her again!"

Laila looked at Rosemary suspiciously. Rosemary was usually so cunning, but why did she suddenly bring up this matter? She was very good at judging people's expressions and she definitely knew that it was best not to speak up for Erin for the time being

What was Rosemary up to?

Rosemary looked very embarrassed and said, "Darling. I don't want to speak up for Erin, but there is something that I don't know whether I should tell you."

When Drake heard that Rosemary wasn't going to speak up for Erin, Drake felt a little more comfortable, but his voice was still cold as he asked, "What is it?"

Rosemary sighed and took out a piece of paper from her pocket, saying, "Actually, I just received a notice letter today. It says that Erin won the championship of the coffee competition held by the Royal College Academy."

"What?"

Drake knew about this competition. The winner would get an endorsement from the Midnight Coffee House. The Midnight Coffee House was a world-famous coffee chain!

Drake was overjoyed and carefully looked at the notification. When Drake saw the honored guest and Vincent's name, his hands seemed to tremble.

He revealed a greedy look on his face.

"Why didn't you tell me about this? The ceremony will be held tomorrow afternoon!" His hands were trembling

Rosemary said – reproachfully. "Erin made a mistake when I told her about this today, she said that she didn't want to go to the ceremony. She just wanted to stay at home."

"No!" Drake blurted out.

It was rare to have a chance to show in front of top bigwigs, so how could she not go?

What was Erin thinking?

When Drake met Laila's Innocent gaze, he felt that his evil thoughts had been discovered.

He coughed awkwardly and said, "I believe Erin has realized her mistake. We don't have to keep her at home all the time. Ella, what do you think?"

Laila snorted in her heart

He really was a good fatlice!

However, Laila never showed her true feelings. She smiled gently and said understandingly, "Dad, In fact, I wanted to say it a long time ago. We should not keep Erin locked up all the time. Let her out. After all, she's not a kid and will definitely distinguish between right and wrong. If she makes the same mistake again next time, you can punish her."

"Which Rosemary, who was sitting opposite Lalla, Nicard this, she was so angry that she slipped her hand hard

Now that Laila said this, if Erin made another mistake again, Drake would definitely not let her off so easily!

Drake frowned and said, "That's right, there won't be a next time. Rosemary, tell Erin that if she makes another mistake, she will be thrown out by me."

Rosemary was resentful, but she had to say, "I will tell her. Erin also knows she did something wrong. Ella, thank you for forgiving her."

Laila smiled. "After all, we are family. I should be forgiving, even if she wanted to kill me before."

Rosemary's smile disappeared. She couldn't take it anymore, so she stood up and said, "Then I'll pack up the luggage and go to Houston tomorrow."

After Rosemary finished speaking, she stood up and was about to go upstairs, but when she thought of her plan, Rosemary stopped and said, "Hubby, it's the weekend tomorrow. You don't have to go to work. Why don't you go with us together? Of course, Ella can come with us."

Drake remembered the relationship between Laila and Vincent and nodded without hesitation "Of course! You pack Erin's luggage as well and buy her some clothes. We will go to Houston together."

"Okay." Rosemary forced a smile on her face.

Laila would watch her daughter shine in the spotlight!
