

The First Heir –

Chapter 1748

Once he heard that she was alone and was also Philip's girlfriend, Hector's sneer turned malicious!

“Hehe, I didn't expect that kid to have such a beautiful girlfriend. I'm sorry, then. He provoked me so you can go to hell for him, b*tch!”

With a roar, Hector raised the baseball bat in his hand and smashed it on Anne's head!

Boom!

The bat landed right in the middle of Anne's head. She directly passed out from that, blood gurgling from her hair, instantly streaking her pale face with blood.

“F*ck! Why is this b*tch so weak?”

Hector was taken aback and cursed while kicking her.

Wynn, who was resting in the bedroom, heard the commotion in the living room outside. She called out, “Anne, what's wrong? What's that noise?”

Immediately after, Wynn stood at the bedroom door while supporting her big belly. She saw Hector and Angus with his men standing at the entrance of the suite, as well as Anne, who had fallen into a pool of blood at this moment!

“Ah..!”

Seeing this bloody scene, Wynn instinctively yelled before covering her mouth tightly!

Swish!

She and Hector locked eyes!

Hector and Angus saw Wynn with her pregnant belly. They were furious. They rubbed their heads while laughing and cursing. “F*ck! That damn b*tch actually lied to me! This is the real one! She’s even pregnant! Since the deed is done, I’ll kill you too!”

While cursing, Hector’s eyes were already red. He carried the blood-stained baseball bat and rushed at Wynn!

However, at this moment!

Not long after Philip and a few bodyguards chased after the two thugs, they successfully got away.

Philip was still puzzled about this when he suddenly heard Wynn’s screams from the suite!

“Sh*t!”

Philip shuddered and quickly ran back!

Suddenly, he saw several figures standing at the door of the suite.

“Who are you?” Philip roared.

As soon as Hector was about to rush toward Wynn, Angus saw Philip running back. He immediately grabbed Hector and said, “Let’s go, Young Master Hector. He’s back There are surveillance cameras here too! Run quickly!”

“What?”

Hector turned his head and saw Philip and several people running along the corridor.

“F*ck!”

In a flash, Hector yelled and threw the baseball bat in his hand to the floor. At the same time, he turned his head, gave Wynn a vicious look, and threatened, “Count yourself lucky! But don’t worry, I’ll definitely be back!”

After that, Hector, Angus, and the others quickly fled! At the same time, he looked back at Philip with a sneer and put up a middle finger at him.

Angus and his underlings dragged Hector out of the hotel. They got into the car and headed straight for Charbury!

There was not a moment’s delay!

Philip rushed to the door of the suite and was instantly stunned!