

The First Heir novel Chapter 2411 - 2421

Chapter 2411

Immediately, someone presented the data about Fennel, but the content was very brief.

The corners of Rikes' eyes turned cold as he asked, "Is there no other information?"

The subordinate behind him shook his head and said, "No."

Rikes looked at the blonde woman and asked, "Any monitoring data?"

The blonde woman shook her head as well and said, "No. He doesn't seem to have any disciple energy fluctuations in him. He's just like a normal person."

"A normal person?"

Rikes sneered and said, "Impossible. Get a few people to go in and play with him."

After that, someone arranged for three tattooed prisoners in orange vests to enter the secret room where Fennel was.

The three prisoners were all burly guys and half a head taller than Fennel.

They were more than twice as brawny as him. As soon as they entered the chamber, they approached Fennel, who was sitting down, with ill intentions.

The bald guy in the lead approached Fennel arrogantly and said with a sneer, "Hey, stupid pig, stand up! That's not where you should sit!"

"Damn it, stand up, you stupid pig!"

"Haha! Look, this kid is so skinny that he's not even enough to pleasure me!"

They kept mocking and provoking Fennel with all kinds of vulgarities.

The bald guy in the lead with a vicious snake tattoo on his arm grabbed Fennel's collar with one hand.

With wide eyes, he pointed at Fennel's nose and said provocatively, "Hey, stupid pig, I want you to stand up, kneel on the floor, and crawl around here. Do you understand? Now, do as I say! Otherwise, I'll put your head on this piece of iron and kick it like a ball!"

Fennel snorted, looked down at the guy's hand that was holding his collar, and said, "You have three seconds to let go of me and kneel down and apologize to me. Otherwise, say goodbye to your hand."

"What? Fck you! What did you say? You want me to kneel down and apologize to you? Oh sht, I can't wait to crush you on the ground and trample you to death, you damned pig!" The bald man cursed, his eyes full of disdain for Fennel.

This was discrimination.

Fennel shook his head helplessly and sighed.

Bang!

He suddenly struck out, and before anyone could react, they saw that the arrogant bald guy was already grabbed on the wrist by Fennel. His head was pressed on the square iron table!

"Ow! F*ck, let go! You stupid pig!" the bald guy shouted.

However, Fennel just looked at him coldly and said, "You reap what you sow. You crossed the line!"

Bang!

Fennel grabbed the man's head and slammed it heavily on the iron table!

With a muffled noise, the table was dented.

The man's nose was bleeding, and his teeth were broken.

He fell to the ground while clutching his head and groaning.

"F*ck! Kill him!"

In an instant, the remaining two tattooed brawny men waved their fists and cursed as they rushed at Fennel.

Fennel's face was indifferent as he threw a kick!

Bang!

He kicked one of the burly men and sent him flying several meters away!

Chapter 2412

The other party's back crashed into the black glass wall!

Crack!

The entire black glass wall cracked as if it was going to shatter. The burly man fell to the ground and rolled around in pain.

With just that kick, he felt that several ribs were broken.

When the remaining burly man saw that both his buddies had fallen, he panicked and was frightened.

He put on a fighting stance and looked around.

Swish!

Suddenly, he drew a dagger from his waist, held it in his hand, and yelled, "F*ck! Go to hell!"

Seeing the dagger stabbing toward his chest, Fennel reached out with two fingers.

Clang!

With his two fingers, he clamped the incoming dagger.

The burly foreigner was completely shocked.

'He actually clamped the dagger with two fingers?'

This was horrifying!

Was he still human? Was this martial arts?

Immediately after, in the next second, Fennel moved his finger and broke the dagger crisply.

At the same time, he kicked the burly man in the stomach, sending him flying back and hitting a wall heavily.

The entire wall cracked!

Everything only took about a minute, and Fennel easily took down three burly foreigners.

Rikes and the others naturally saw this scene from the outside.

With eyes full of chills, he looked at Fennel as he approached the glass wall.

A trace of hatred flashed in the corner of his eyes as he said, "Interesting. What does the monitoring data say?"

The blonde woman looked at the monitoring equipment and said in bafflement,

"Commander Rikes, the data still shows no fluctuation."

"What?"

Rikes was shocked!

It was impossible that such skills did not use any disciple power.

He turned and stared at the monitoring equipment. Indeed, the data showed zero.

How was this possible?

Rikes was startled and turned to look at Fennel, who stood in front of the glass wall. Only a glass wall separated him from Fennel.

At this time, a woman with a hot figure wearing a black professional suit walked in briskly.

Her body was perfect, and her face was of typical beauty.

It could make people's hearts flutter at a glance.

"Commander Rikes, the lord envoy is here to see you," the woman said.

Rikes nodded in response before he turned and left.

Soon, he saw a woman in a red dress in the meeting room.

The woman had a perfect S-shaped figure, long dark brown hair, blue eyes, a high nose bridge, and a queenly poise.

“Honorable Lord Envoy, I’ve arrested them as you instructed.” Rikes bowed slightly and said respectfully to the woman.

The woman turned around, and her face was totally the image of a goddess who could charm everyone.

She nodded and said in a very sexy voice, “You did well, Rikes. They’re the people Lord Hades wants. Where are they now? Take me there.”

Rikes respectfully replied, “Lord Envoy, this way please.”

Chapter 2413

Soon, the female envoy followed Rikes to the glass wall where Philip was.

Talina looked at Philip who was sitting in the secret room with an indifferent expression and asked Rikes, “His details.”

Rikes quickly and respectfully took out the information about Philip. He said, “His name is Philip Clarke from Orienta. According to the investigation, he’s the son-in-law of a small family in Riverdale, the Johnston family. His wife, Wynn Johnston, owns a pharmaceutical company called Beacon Group. The company has recently been planning to develop a branch in our country. He also has two kids. According to the current monitoring data, he should possess the strength of a disciple in the third zone.”

Talina looked at the information in her hands and asked with a frown, “Is that all? Nothing else?”

Rikes shook his head and said, “My lord, this is all the information we could find out about him so far.”

Talina nodded and put the document down.

She crossed her arms and looked at Philip sitting inside the secret room.

With a seductive sneer, she said, “A mere disciple in the third zone isn’t enough to make Lord Hades pay so much attention to him. Immediately use our secret contacts and personnel over there to find out all his identity and information!”

“Yes, Lord Envoy!” Rikes immediately responded.

Then, Talina turned to Rikes and asked, “What about the other one?”

“This way..” Rikes led Talina to the glass wall of the secret room where Fennel was.

Talina saw Fennel who was locked inside and the three burly men who had fallen to the ground. With a hint of coldness in the corners of her eyes, she asked, "What's going on?"

Rikes quickly replied, "Lord Talina, we wanted to monitor his data, but for now, he seems to be normal person."

"Normal person?"

Talina looked at the three burly men on the ground inside, and her shapely eyebrows furrowed deeply.

Then, she shook her head and said, "He can't be a normal person! Lord Hades once told me to be careful of him! Continue the test and make sure to get me the real data!"

Rikes quickly responded, "Yes, Lord Talina. We'll immediately arrange for the disciples to go in! If you're interested, you can stay and watch.

With a hint of a smile, Talina said, "Very well. I'd love to watch."

Soon, two disciples from the Hall of the Underworld barged into the secret room.

The moment Fennel saw them, he smirked and asked, "Wow, two disciples. Which hall are you from?"

The two disciples said with cold faces and wicked sneers, "Damn you, stupid pig. You don't have the right to know that! Now, go to hell!" With that said, one of the disciples struck out at Fennel!

Fennel shook his head helplessly, glanced at the black glass wall, and said, "If you want to test my strength, there's no need to find these pieces of rubbish to deal with mr. You're just sending them to their deaths!"

After that, Fennel moved.

When the disciple threw a punch, Fennel did too!

Boom!

A thunderous explosion!

The disciple's entire fist and arm shattered under Fennel's punch.

His bones were crushed inch by inch!

Boom!

His entire body flew back and crashed into the electronic iron door of the secret room. A dent in the shape of a human form instantly appeared on the door!

Everyone outside the glass wall gasped. With one punch, a disciple of the second zone was knocked out!

“Is anything detected?” Rikes quickly asked the blonde woman at his side.

The woman who had been monitoring the data still shook her head and said, “No, there’s no fluctuation of any disciple’s energy. He’s still relying on his physical strength.”

Hiss!

Rikes and Talina were shocked by those words. Just relying on his physical strength, he defeated a disciple of the second zone with one punch!

Chapter 2414

Impossible!

At this time, in the room, Fennel approached the remaining disciple. With a face full of anger, a tall disciple roared, “F*ck, I’m going to crush you!”

After saying that, that guy’s figure suddenly swelled and became bigger, just like the Hulk.

His head reached the ceiling of this secret room. His body was full of bulging muscles like blocks of hard rocks!

A stone giant!

“Go to hell, you stupid pig!”

The disciple threw a punch at Fennel.

However, Fennel merely glanced at him in contempt before he raised his hand nonchalantly and caught the stone giant’s fist!

Boom!

The collision caused a muffled explosion, and a huge burst of pressure suddenly scattered in the secret room.

The instruments and equipment outside quickly analyzed the monitoring data.

The disciple power of the second zone.

However, it was from the disciple they had sent over!

The crowd outside was filled with shock and disbelief as they looked inside the secret room at the man who had blocked the stone giant's punch with his bare hand.

Scary! Horrifying!

Meanwhile, when the disciple saw that Fennel had easily blocked his punch, he suddenly became furious and threw another punch with his other fist at Fennel.

Fennel snorted and grabbed the stone giant's other fist as well.

Then, under everyone's astonished gaze, he violently tossed the stone giant away!

Rumble!

The stone giant blew the ceiling away, and at the same time, he was heavily smashed by Fennel onto the black glass wall!

Crack!

In an instant, the black glass wall shattered into pieces.

The people behind the glass wall also quickly ran away.

The stone giant fell into the corridor outside and crashed into another wall, cracking the entirety of it.

The corridor billowed with smoke and dust.

Fennel stepped out of the secret room indifferently.

Talina and the others waited for the smoke and dust to clear before they saw Fennel, who was already standing three meters away in front of them.

"Wow, it's a beauty too. Can you tell me who's trying to arrest me? Is it Hades of the Hall of the Underworld or Vataco of the Hall of Evil?"

Fennel grinned with an innocent look on his face.

Talina was very angry when she saw Fennel walking out. She yelled to Rikes, "Arrest him! Bring him to the lab and dissect him for research!"

Hearing this, Rikes quickly pressed the alarm button! Instantly, alarms blared in the entire Sendona branch of the SPEAR Bureau!

At once, dozens of heavily armed combatants poured out from both ends of the corridor!

Talina looked angrily at the unbridled Fennel in front of her and said, "Do it!"

Fennel looked at her coldly and said, "Beautiful, it's not very friendly to play rough. There's no human right."

Chapter 2415

With a cold face, Talina looked at Fennel resentfully and said, "You're not worthy to talk to me about human rights! Catch him!"

In an instant, this group of fully armed guards rushed at Fennel.

Under such circumstances, a normal person would definitely kneel down and beg for mercy.

After all, there were so many heavily armed guards and those special intelligence agents in black combat uniforms who only ever appeared in Hollywood movies.

However, Fennel merely sneered and said, "You just want to see how strong I am. Why go through so much trouble?" With that said, Fennel moved.

In everyone's line of sight, they saw a figure with flickering red lights.

Then, the sound of wailing and screaming could be heard throughout the long corridor.

In one face-off, heavily armed guards of the SPEAR Bureau fell to the floor.

These people were knocked unconscious without even knowing what went on.

Fennel had shown mercy.

After all, he was not in the country now, so he had to show some courtesy.

Besides, these guards did nothing wrong and only acted upon orders.

All this happened in just one minute.

Seeing this amazing scene, Rikes' face was full of shock.

This was too awesome.

It was like the Fantastic Four of the SPEAR Bureau.

Talina also had a surprised look on her face, but there were no signs of fear. It was because she was from the Hall of the Underworld and one of Lord Hades' great envoys!

Her identity and appearance had already predetermined things.

She was a character who did not need to be afraid wherever she went.

Moreover, the Hall of the Underworld was such a famous organization in the West that controlled the underground forces of several Western countries.

Its members did not need to worry or fear anything.

Furthermore, Sendona was also the home base of the Hall of the Underworld.

The Hall of the Underworld was in charge of eight regions in Country M, and its pOwer allowed it to be proud and arrogant.

"Hmph! How dare you show off with just that tiny bit of skills?" Talina snorted coldly, looking upset.

Fennel waved his hand and said, "Beautiful, your words are a little hurtful. You wanted to see my strength and I've already showed it to you. Now, shouldn't you release me and my buddy?"

"Dream on!"

Talina said coldly, "What I'm going to do now is capture you and bring you back for dissection and research!"

Fennel smirked and said, "Beautiful, your request is quite strange."

Talina glared at Fennel and said to Rikes beside her, "Send the disciples over immediately. I want to capture him alive and personally dissect him. I want to know what kind of body structure he has!"

While saying this, Talina smiled excitedly.

Fennel was exasperated.

He seemed to have met a slightly perverted woman, and a beautiful one at that.

This made Fennel, who was biased toward beautiful people, was very aggrieved.

He originally wanted to play out a romantic drama with this beauty, but now, it seemed he could only end this fight quickly.

Here, Rikes quickly used his headset and said,

“Mobilize the Seventh Condor Squad immediately!”

Soon, there was an unusual movement in the corridor.

The First Heir novel Chapter 2416 - 2417

Chapter 2416

Seven foreigners of different builds-tall and short, male and female,fat and thin-arrived.

As soon as they appeared, they carried invincible auras with them.

Fennel looked over and immediately judged from their auras that these seven people were mainly disciples of the third zone.

Three of whom had even reached the strength of the fourth zone.

There was one with the peak strength of the fourth zone.

Such combat power would form a very strong squad in the disciple world of any country. They were enough to destroy a battalion of 10,000 soldiers!

“Hahaha..” Fennel snorted as he looked at the seven disciples and said, “Wow, what a big lineup. Is this your show of hospitality? Beautiful, isn’t it a bit too much?”

Talina revealed a smile that was enough to make any men submit and said, “Since you know to be afraid now, put your hands on your head and kneel down. Let me adore you tonight.”

Talina was a very forthright and outspoken woman. Thus, whatever she wanted, she would always pursue it.

For example, right now, she had a very strong urge to bring Fennel back to dissect and study him.

Advertisement

She was a medical doctor and also a human body research scientist with a strong interest in the anatomy of disciples.

Although she had dissected the bodies of many disciples, she had never done so on someone like Fennel.

Therefore, She was So excited that there was an uncontrollable impulse in her.

Fennel shrugged and said with a light smile, "Then it seems a fight is inevitable."

With that said, the seven disciples from the Seventh Condor Squad unleashed their auras. In an instant, this area was filled with terrifying energy pressure. The combined combat power of these seven disciples was enough to kill a disciple who had just entered the fifth zone.

There was a huge difference in strength between the disciples of the fourth and fifth zones.

It was a renewed comprehension of the rules and matter. Thus, to kill a disciple of the fifth zone with their combat power was staggering.

"Lord Talina, let us teach this ignorant boy a lesson for you!"

"Let me personally present him to you as your birthday gift!"

In a flash, the seven disciples displayed their prowess. One of them raised his hand and unleashed a long flaming whip at Fennel.

The flaming whip that looked like it could tear the space apart was extremely hot and seemed like it could melt the entire corridor.

Fennel looked at the incoming flame whip coldly, shook his head helplessly, and said, "Have I been away from the West for too long?"

Then, Fennel grabbed the flaming whip with his bare hands!

Snap!

The crisp sound and churning energy were enough to overturn everything.

However, Fennel merely grabbed the flame whip just like that!

The face of the disciple who used the fire attribute immediately tensed as he swung the whip vigorously, trying to withdraw his weapon.

However, the flame whip remained motionless in Fennel's hand.

"Damn it! You're seeking death!" The disciple was furious.

At the same time, a tall disciple with tanned skin beside him suddenly stomped on the floor and jumped up.

His hands turned into steel-like fists and smashed on Fennel's head!

A disciple with mental attributes!

The two steel-like fists of the tall disciple were about to hit the mark. This punch was enough to destroy any battle tank.

Chapter 2417

At the critical juncture, when the tanned disciple saw that his fist was fast approaching Fennel, a cruel smile appeared on his face.

No one could survive his steel-like fist.

However, abruptly, the walls on both sides suddenly crumbled.

The steel bars in the walls were like swimming snakes, struggling to burst out of the walls before turning into a cage and trapping the disciple in the air!

The sudden turn of events shocked the other disciples, including Talina and Rikes. This was a disciple with the same metal attributes!

Thud, thud, thud!

Sounds of footsteps were heard from the other end of the corridor.

A tall figure reached out his right arm and grabbed at the tanned disciple who was trapped in the steel cage in midair!

Creak!

Bang!

The steel cage suddenly shrank in mid-air and crushed the tanned disciple trapped inside into a bloody mist.

Terrifying!

Very strong!

With just one move, a disciple with metal attributes from the third zone was easily killed.

The remaining six disciples focused their attention on the man who approached from the other end of the corridor.

It was none other than Philip!

With a cold expression on his face, he walked to Fennel's side and asked with a frown, "What do you plan to do?"

Fennel shrugged and loosened his hold.

The flame whip in his hand was quickly retracted by the other party.

Then, he looked helplessly at the remaining six disciples and the envoy named Talina on the opposite side.

Fennel had heard of Talina, the envoy under Lord Hades. She was a female pervert with a passion for studying the human body.

He did not expect to meet her here.

However, the other party did not know him.

At this moment, when Talina saw that Philip had easily taken down a metal disciple in the third zone, instead of anger, There was excitement and thrill on her face.

"Oh my, a metal disciple from Orienta. I'm so excited. It's too rare! What's your attribute level?" Talina asked feverishly.

Philip frowned and asked Fennel, "What's wrong with this woman?"

Fennel shook his head and said, "A lunatic who loves to study the human body and disciples. Be careful not to be targeted by her. As far as I know, anyone who has been targeted by her has been turned into a specimen."

Philip frowned and looked at Talina with a hint of disgust in his eyes.

He abhorred these lunatics who studied the human body now.

The Lovelace family was one of them.

Over here, Talina became more excited and agitated as she shouted to the remaining six disciples in front of her, "Quick! Catch the two of them for me. I want to study them!"

The six remaining disciples were still a little shocked that Philip had killed their comrade with just a simple move!

Rikes also had a foreboding and quickly decided to get the defense team to surround the entire SPEAR Bureau in Sedona.

At the periphery of the building at this moment, batches of heavily armed guards had assembled.

Countless armored vehicles and battle tanks also blocked all entrances and exits.

Fighter jets circled the building, while all cannons and missiles were aimed at the main entrance of the SPEAR Bureau.

Meanwhile, far away in the jungle somewhere on the outskirts of Sedona.

The First Heir novel Chapter 2418 - 2419

Chapter 2418

This was the base camp of the Hall of the Sun that belonged to the 12 Sacred Halls of the West. It was a large green training field with some building facilities hidden in the dense forest, as well as some battle tanks, armored vehicles, and fighter jets parked on the airfield.

At this moment, extremely strict training was being conducted with nearly a hundred shirtless men on the training ground.

At the forefront of this group of people, a man in a green combat uniform was lying on a beach chair.

His face was covered with a hat, and his eyes were closed in rest. A golden badge that symbolized the sun hung around his neck. His figure was not too tall but full of bulging muscles that deterred others.

Suddenly, his walkie-talkie picked up a signal. A woman's voice was heard, sounding serious. "Hans, come to the electronic warfare room!"

The tanned man with closed eyes said in a lazy and impatient voice, "Hey, Georgina, don't disturb my rare time under the sun, okay? Besides, you don't have the right to order me around!"

Advertisement

"Sh*t! Get over here at once! The boss is back!" On the other end of the line, Georgina was obviously impatient and angry, so she broke out a curse.

Swish!

The man named Hans suddenly sat up straight from the beach chair.

He abruptly took off the hat on his face, smiled foolishly, and asked in surprise, "The boss is back? Are you sure? I'll be right there!"

Advertisement

Then, Hans immediately got up and shouted to the nearly 100 people who were training, "Give me extra 500 push-ups!"

After saying that, he ignored the wails from the group and hurried to the electronic warfare room.

Meanwhile, in a square building, three Walls were full of electronic display screens.

In the middle, more than a dozen computers and high-tech equipment were placed. The surveillance footage covered various streets in Sedona and drone surveillance.

This was the electronic warfare room.

In this room, there was a sexy woman with fiery red and wavy hair dressed in a black leather outfit.

She sat in front of a central computer, tapping away on the keyboard. This woman was none other than Georgina, who spoke to Hans earlier.

Her hot figure and perfect face were better than certain celebrities!

At this moment, three men and one woman had gathered around her.

Advertisement

Hans rushed in from the door and shouted happily, "Georgina, where's the boss? Tell me quickly!"

When Hans rushed in, several people merely glanced at him before they silently focused their eyes on the electronic screen.

A frail man with black-rimmed glasses looked serious and composed.

He looked at everyone before he pushed the frame of his glasses and coughed. He said, "Okay, except for the marshal who's on a mission, everyone is here."

His code name was Strategist.

He was the brains of the Sun Hall.

His knowledge and strategies were unmatched.

Generally, when the boss was absent, he was the one who commanded the operation of the Sun Hall.

Once, he destroyed three dark forces under the 12 Sacred Halls of the West at a very small price. The strength of those three forces was ranked below the 12 Sacred Halls, and they had always wanted to join the 12 Sacred Halls to become the 13th Hall.

However, they once offended Fennel by mistake.

Hence, they were wiped out by the Strategist overnight!

In that battle, the Sun Hall became so famous among the 12 Sacred Halls that their ranking suddenly jumped to the top five.

It was because to be able to wipe out three forces capable of becoming the 13th hall overnight was enough to shock the entire West.

Chapter 2419

Hans was a little confused and asked, "Strategist, what's going on? Isn't the boss back? Why are you standing here?"

The strategist looked at Hans and explained, "We just received news that the boss was taken away by the people of SPEAR Bureau in Sedona, and the Hall of the Underworld is operating behind this."

"What? Those bastards from the SPEAR Bureau actually captured the boss? dare those bastards capture the boss? Do they want to die? "

Hans took off his hat in fury and roared, "Damn it! bring my men and destroy them!"

After saying that, Hans turned his head and was about to leave.

However, the strategist said, "Hans, come back! Listen to Georgina about the current situation!"

Hans was so angry that he could hardly wait and shouted, "Why listen to her? The boss has been captured by the SPEAR Bureau. We'll just fight our way in and demand his release!"

The strategist's face darkened as he barked, "Hans Gooding!"

Hans finally stopped. After all, the prestige of the Strategist in the Hall of the Sun was second only to the Sun God Apollo, Fennel Leigh.

Then, the Strategist signaled Georgina to report the situation.

Georgina retrieved the surveillance footage, as well as the footage before and after Fennel and the others were taken away. She said, "As of now, it has been more than 20 minutes since the boss and his friends were brought in. The manpower we arranged in the vicinity has been taken out by the Hall of the Underworld in advance, which is why we just received the news."

While saying that, Georgina pressed a few keys, and the electronic display screen switched to the real-time surveillance footage outside the SPEAR Bureau.

The screen was full of heavily armed guards, various combat vehicles, battle tanks, and even fighter jets!

Georgina pointed to the screen and said, "This is the current situation at the SPEAR Bureau. From the looks of it, the boss is fighting with them inside."

After listening to Georgina's report, the Strategist's face darkened.

He analyzed the strength of the armed forces on the surveillance screen and said to everyone, "How many people can we mobilize now?"

After they made their reports, Hans said, "Strategist, I have all my men! Let me go! I'll wipe them out in one fell swoop!"

The Strategist frowned and said, "You're too rash and can't hold back your temper. How about you go with Georgina? Remember, don't clash with them readily. Any action can only be taken at my order!"

"Do you want me to go with this big-as*ed woman? No, I'll do it alone!"

Hans looked at Georgina, who had stood up with a face full of reluctance.

He and Georgina had never been on good terms because he did not like Westerners.

When Fennel brought Georgina back in the past, Hans had strongly objected.

Georgina stood up, her face full of chills as she stared at Hans. She squeezed her fist and said, "Hans, do you want to spar?"

"Let's do it! Do you think I'd be afraid of you?" Hans answered.

Seeing that the fiery Georgina was about to fight with Hans, the Strategist glared at Hans and said angrily, "Stop arguing and make a move!"

With that command, Hans snorted coldly, turned around, and left, Georgina followed closely and walked out of the electronic warfare room.

The Strategist looked at the departing backs of the bickering pair and sighed helplessly as he said, "When will Hans accept Georgina?"

On one side, another woman with a sexy figure and shoulder-length black hair smiled faintly and said, "He's still a child at heart."

The Strategist shook his head, looked at the remaining few people, and said, "You should make a move too. If the Hall of the Underworld makes any movement, eradicate them at all costs!"

"Yes!"

Several people responded and walked out of the electronic warfare room.

The First Heir novel Chapter 2420 - 2421

Chapter 2420

In the Hall of the Sun, the five great envoys under Sun God Apollo sprang into action!

The Strategist remained in the base camp of the Sun Hall.

Their actions and lineup were enough to shock the entire West.

Back then, when Fennel first entered the West, he established the Sun Hall and led the seven great envoys to eradicate ten dark forces.

With that achievement, he was promoted to one of the 12 Sacred Halls of the West and obtained the title of the Sacred Hall of the Sun.

After that, Fennel clashed several times with the Hall of Evil, Hall of the Underworld, and Hall of Death.

He caused severe damage to the Hall of Evil and Hall of Death.

Since then, the Hall of the Sun became an existence that others look up to in the West.

The legend of Sun God Apollo was also widely circulated in the West.

They only knew that he was a mysterious man from the East.

Back to the SPEAR Bureau.

At this moment, the six remaining disciples stared coldly at Fennel and Philip.

Abruptly, they sprang into action!

The six disciples from the West used their attribute abilities and unleashed deadly killing moves upon Fennel and Philip.

A dazzling fight broke out in the corridor, which collapsed the walls.

From the outside of the SPEAR Bureau building, walls started to crumble and glass started to shatter starting from below the first floor.

Then, the destruction kept spreading up the floors. Within a few seconds, the walls and glass on the first floor were all shattered.

Boom!

Advertisement

At the same time, several figures smashed through several walls as they flew out and crashed heavily on the ground.

They blasted several scorched pits!

Rumble!

On the seventh or eighth floor, behind a shattered wall, a roaring fire chimera suddenly bit a man wrapped in a blue barrier and soared into the sky!

Roar!

A deafening roar resounded in the area!

Outside the SPEAR Bureau, the fully armed guards on standby saw the disciples being knocked away by the fire chimera.

They showed expressions of horror!

“Go, go, go!”

“Get ready to fire!”

In an instant, under the leadership of the commander, all the fully armed guards of the SPEAR Bureau stood ready for battle.

All the muzzles, including the armored vehicles and battle tanks, were aimed at the hole in the wall on the seventh or eighth floor.

Anyone who appeared would be subjected to heavy artillery attacks!

Indiscriminate firing all around!

Suddenly, a figure flew out from that hole.

“Fire!”

Rat-tat-tat!

Boom!

Dozens of heavily armed SPEAR Bureau guards, seven or eight battle tanks, as well as the fighter jets hovering in the sky aimed and fired indiscriminately at the figure at once. Such intense firepower was enough to destroy any disciple in the fourth zone!

The sky was full of bullets and missiles.

The moment Philip jumped out, he instinctively sensed great danger. He turned his head and looked at the rapidly firing bullets and missiles launched from the ground and the sky.

A biting chill appeared in the corner of his eyes!

Chapter 2421

Faced with such intensive firepower, even a disciple of the fourth zone would choose to evade or launch defense.

However, at that moment, Philip faced the firepower head-on and raised his arms.

Boom!

Endless raging energy pressure surged around him, and a steel wall half a meter thick suddenly appeared in front of his hands. At this moment, the steel bars and some metallic objects in the walls of the surrounding buildings flew toward the steel wall at high speed.

They merged into the wall that was now the size of half a basketball court.

Boom!

Rat-tat-tat!

Rapid firepower bombarded that steel wall and caused an explosion that blasted into the sky.

The scene was like modern warfare and looked very shocking.

At that time, several tracking missiles went around the steel wall and blasted right at Philip.

Philip's eyes were cold as He raised his hand and grabbed the missiles with flaming tails.

The speeding missiles swayed in midair, changed their flight trajectory, reversed their direction, and headed toward the battle tanks on the ground as well as the fighter jets in the sky.

Rumble!

Instantly, the battle tanks on the ground were hit by the missiles and exploded in flames.

Many heavily armed guards were also blasted into the sky.

Even the two fighter jets in the sky were not spared and got hit by the missiles.

With thick black smoke and soaring flames, they lost control and fell from the air while spinning in circles.

Boom!

The fighter jets crashed to the ground and triggered a large sea of flames.

The missiles on the fighter jets also exploded like fireworks.

Such combat power stunned the heavily armed guards on the ground.

At the same time, a red dragon halberd pierced through the SPEAR Bureau building and penetrated the body of a disciple with the peak strength of the fourth zone, flung him into the air, and tore him apart.

Roar!

The red halberd soared into the sky like a dragon, raging with incomparable pressure.

Immediately after, a figure walked out from the main entrance of the SPEAR Bureau.

With A raise of his hand, the red dragon halberd in the air flew back to Fennel's hands, spinning with a dazzling red glow.

Swish!

The red dragon halberd in his hand formed a beautiful arc of red light.

At that moment, all the guards of the SPEAR Bureau, including Commander Rikes and Talina, who were hiding behind the crowd were dumbfounded.

The red dragon halberd! It was actually the red dragon halberd!

In that case, that man could only be the legendary master of the Hall of the Sun,

The Sun God, Apollo!

Hiss!

The place went dead silent.

Rikes felt as if a big stone was weighing heavily on his heart.

He could hardly breathe.

Talina was also full of horror and shock.

Her beautiful eyes were filled with disbelief.
