

The First Heir Chapter 2991 -

Chapter 2991

“Hah!” Philip bellowed, jumped into the air, and punched the approaching huge stone pillar!

Boom!

His punch turned into a chimera fist that slammed into one of the huge stone pillars. In an instant, the surface of the stone pillar rippled with cracks with his fist as the center and shattered with a bang.

The moment the stone pillar burst, Philip spun and jumped in the air. He turned his body around and kicked the other stone pillar that came from the side!

Boom!

That kick turned into a chimera leg and shattered the stone pillar with one kick. Everything happened in a split second.

Rumble!

However, in a flash, Ignis had gotten close to him. His fists turned into hundreds as they bombarded Philip intensively.

Philip went into full battle mode and fought Ignis in the air, on the ground, and in the ponds!

The whole area exploded in flames!

Hundreds of shadow punches from Ignis blasted on Philip like rapid cannonballs. Philip also countered with his chimera fists, each punch colliding with the other party's fists. A terrifying flame storm erupted.

Boom, bang!

Many people from the major families nearby came over when they heard the commotion and watched nervously.

“What a strong offensive! Young Patriarch Clarke has grown to such heights and shouldn't be underestimated!”

“Hmph, so what? His opponent is the oldest disciple of the Fire Element! He's a powerhouse who has almost reached a half-step to the other shore!”

“This time, I think Young Patriarch Clarke is going to lose! Ignis’ attacks are too fierce and domineering!”

The crowd chattered as they watched the intense fight between the two in the huge area. Among them, those who had an understanding of the Five Elements also spoke about their history and background. However, everything was not within Philip’s scope of consideration.

He was fully focused on his fight with Ignis!

“Chimera!” Philip roared angrily and fell from the sky.

He threw a punch at Ignis who stood there looking up at him. In an instant, Philip’s chimera fist roared. The punch that blasted Ignis at full speed turned into a ferocious chimera that pounced on Ignis with a roar.

Ignis’ eyes turned into flames as he frowned at this moment. He suddenly lowered his body and spread his arms, which turned into the wings of a fire phoenix!

“Fire Phoenix!” With a roar, Ignis jumped into the sky, and the ground beneath his feet shattered under the huge impact.

In an instant, he turned into a fire phoenix that was screeching as it rushed toward the huge fire chimera swooping down from the sky.

Roar!

The chimera roared!

Screech!

The phoenix responded!

Rumble!

In an instant, the fire chimera and the fire phoenix collided and exploded in a huge and bright flame storm. The huge flame storm rippled and spread out. The mighty and scorching heat wave swept across dozens of miles. Within a one-mile radius from the middle of the storm, everything was reduced to ashes. Even the stones at the bottom layer of the ground shattered by the scorching heat.

In this area, the rainstorm also turned into a temporary vacuum and formed water vapor!

Philip landed on the ground, surrounded by white water vapor with a scorching wave of heat.

Whoosh!

Suddenly, a woman formed by water vapor appeared in front of Philip and stabbed Philip with a transparent water sword in her hand.

Philip took two steps back and spread his arms wide.

Flaming swords appeared out of thin air and launched at the woman.

Bang, bang!

The flaming swords missed the mark and hit the ground instead, crashing into the shattered ground.

“Did that person disappear?” Philip frowned and unleashed his rules of insight, which enveloped the surrounding area.

Someone was moving in the water vapor, but they were impossible to locate. That was because every drop of water vapor seemed able to transform into that woman.

Buzz!

Suddenly, hundreds of water swords formed by the vapor hung in the air vertically and fell abruptly.

Chapter 2992

In the sky, all the raindrops turned into rain swords and hung in the air with terrifying might.

Swoosh, swoosh!

In an instant, these hundreds of rain swords shot down like a rapid line of fire. The attack was indiscriminate, fast, and intense. No one could escape such a heavy attack.

Philip frowned. Tremendous energy pressure and the power of rules poured out from his body. He raised his fist and punched the hundreds of rain swords in the sky.

Roar!

A dragon's roar shook the world.

Philip's punch turned into a huge water dragon with its jaws wide open. It swung its tail and slammed into the hundreds of rain swords!

Clang, Clang!

Hundreds of swords stabbed the dragon's body, forming rainwater and ice crystals. The huge water dragon crushed the hundreds of rain swords in the sky in an instant.

At the same time, a big water cannonball blasted from the dragon's mouth toward a certain location on the ground.

Boom!

That water cannonball engulfed that place in an instant. The white water vapor around Philip dissipated!

However...

Boom!

A blazing wave of heat attacked Philip from behind.

Ignis lowered his body and rushed forward. His arms spread out and turned into the wings of a fire phoenix.

He roared, "Explode!"

Hundreds of fireballs burst out from the pair of huge fire phoenix wings and blasted at Philip like rapid cannonballs. With raging energy and scorching airwaves, hundreds of fireballs shot right at Philip!

Hiss!

The people watching in the distance gasped aloud.

"This is the secret technique of Fire Element! Phoenix Facing the Sky!"

"Unbelievable! The envoy of the Fire Element is so powerful!"

"What are the Five Elements planning to do? I thought they've washed their hands off worldly affairs years ago. Why did they appear so suddenly, and they have such strength too!"

Everyone chattered, their eyes full of disbelief.

Claus Motley, whose injuries had recovered by now, stood on the high ground in the manor and watched the fierce battle in the distance worriedly.

People from the Five Elements actually possessed such terrifying strength.

Were they planning to make a comeback?

On Philip's side, he frowned as he faced Ignis' powerful attack. He raised his hands and formed a flame barrier in front of him.

Boom!

In an instant, hundreds of fireballs bombarded the flame barrier. Philip retreated with every attack!

The fire cannon hit the target with rapid attacks and forced Philip to retreat hundreds of steps before he could stabilize his body. However, Ignis gave Philip no chance to rest at all. With flames all over his body, he raised his hands, formed a hand seal, and conjured two flaming figures.

"Fire Clone!"

The onlookers suddenly shouted, their eyes full of astonishment.

"That's right! It's the clone technique of the Fire Element! This envoy has mastered this secret technique! How scary!"

"It was rumored that the strongest person in the Fire Element back then once formed eight clones and attacked a powerhouse with the pseudo-realm of the other shore until he was unable to fight back!"

As everyone was still amazed by the fire clones, the two flaming men approached Philip and attacked him with their hands and feet!
