

The First Heir Chapter 3083 -

Chapter 3083

However, the two held back with their attacks. Otherwise, this cave would have collapsed!

“Since you refuse to work with me, I won’t force you, but you must complete the task of opening the stargate for the Lovelace family. Otherwise, Wynn will stay in the Lovelace family for the rest of her life!” Shane said coldly.

This was a warning!

Philip scowled and said, “If the Lovelace family dares to do this, I’ll obliterate you!”

“Hahaha...” Shane sneered and said, “You don’t have the strength and qualifications yet. With your current strength, it’s a fool’s errand to want to obliterate the Lovelace family.”

Philip’s expression darkened as he said, “The day will come.”

Shane scowled as a trace of killing intent flashed in his eyes, but he finally held back and said, “The chance has been given to you. You should make the right choice.”

Philip said coldly, “The stargate will be opened in a month, and enough talents will be selected to enter the other shore for training. Hasn’t your Lovelace family heard about this?”

Shane smiled and said, “Of course, we have.”

“Then why do you need me to open the stargate?” Philip asked.

Shane replied, “Because we want to open the stargate in advance and send the people of the Lovelace family to the other shore.”

“In advance?” Philip frowned and said, “I can’t do that, and I can’t get to the stargate either.”

Shane smiled and said, “Don’t worry. I’ll make the arrangements. For the sake of your wife and children, you should think about it carefully. Send the guest out!”

With that said, several guards walked over.

Philip’s expression darkened.

He looked at Wynn and said, "Are you sure you don't want to leave with me?"

Wynn shook her head with a smile on the corner of her mouth. She took a few steps forward, hugged Philip tightly, and said, "Phil, trust me..."

After doing this, Wynn turned around and left with Shane. Philip was also taken out of the cave.

After leaving the cave, he was sent back to the training camp dormitory by the guards.

Back in the dormitory, Philip's expression was very ugly, but he held a note tightly in his hand. It was stuffed by Wynn when she hugged him in the end.

Fennel and the others already knew that Philip went out. They gathered around nervously and asked, "Did you see Wynn?"

Philip nodded, looked at the note in his hand, opened it, and saw beautiful handwriting.

[Phil, I'm sorry. Please forgive me. I can't leave the Lovelace family for the time being. But don't worry, the Lovelace family won't do anything to me. You must remember that no matter how the Lovelace family coerces you, you mustn't do anything for them. They want to make use of you and invoke the anger of everyone in the world against the Clarke family. Don't fall into their trap.]

After reading this, Philip's face darkened.

A flame appeared in his hand and burned the letter to a crisp.

Then, Philip took a deep breath, got up, and walked out of the dormitory.

"Where are you going?" Fennel chased after him and asked.

"I want to look for Marquis Fulmore to enter the stargate," Philip said coldly.

The First Heir Chapter 3084 -

Chapter 3084

Soon, Philip found Marquis Fulmore.

"What did you say? You want to enter the stargate?" Marquis Fulmore's face was solemn, and he looked at Philip in confusion.

Philip said earnestly, "Yes, I want to enter the stargate to take a look."

After a moment of silence, Marquis Fulmore said, "Okay, I'll show you."

After saying that, Marquis Fulmore took Philip and Fennel through the Death Canyon and arrived at the vast land where the broken walls and ruins came into view. The altar stood right in the middle.

Marquis Fulmore led Philip and Fennel to the altar and used special means to open the altar, which was a deep and dark abyss.

As they stood above the altar and stared at the abyss under the altar, they could feel the terrifying vibes that wafted over them. It was a bottomless pit that leaked heart-pounding pressure.

Marquis Fulmore jumped down, and Philip and Fennel followed suit.

After almost half a minute, they finally landed on the ground.

Philip looked around the pitch-black space like an underground world with sporadic flames on the surrounding stone walls. Magma flowed around them, red and bubbling with scorching temperature.

Marquis Fulmore led Philip and Fennel through the long and narrow corridor in front of them. They reached a stone arch that was full of sword and ax marks, which should be the traces left behind during a fierce battle. Many surrounding buildings had turned to ruins on the ground.

It could be imagined that maybe several palaces once stood here in the past, but everything had turned into dust and ruins now.

They passed through the stone arch and saw a fractured abyss that formed a cliff. There was boiling magma flowing beneath the abyss. An irregular stone bridge stood in front of them.

Two huge stone statues stood on both sides of the stone bridge as if guarding the stone bridge.

Marquis Fulmore walked on the stone bridge, and Philip and Fennel followed him while watching the surroundings. This stone bridge was a thousand meters long, and the three of them looked very small walking on the stone bridge.

From time to time, the magma below would burst dozens of meters high with hot airwaves.

After crossing the stone bridge and walking for a while, the space in front of them suddenly became vast. As they were underground, the surrounding space appeared deep and dark. It was a very vast area, full of bones, ruins, and tombstones with no end in sight.

“These were the disciples who died during the battle outside the stargate back then. They sacrificed their youngest and most precious lives for this world. They can only spend the rest of the time here, unable to tell the outside world or be hailed as heroes.”

Marquis Fulmore glanced at the tombstones and bowed slightly. Philip and Fennel also bowed in memory of these predecessors.

They could only stay here forever, never to see the light of day.

Next to each tombstone, there was a sharp sword inserted into the ground, symbolizing the never-ending war!

The swords were on the verge of collapse. Then, Philip and Fennel followed Marquis Fulmore forward and saw some huge bones.

The First Heir Chapter 3085 -

Chapter 3085

“That’s an extraterrestrial beast that came here from the other shore through the stargate. The bones of every beast you come across were taken in exchange for our human predecessors’ lives and blood. If not for them, those beasts would have rushed into the outside world and wreaked havoc long ago.”

After Marquis Fulmore finished speaking, Philip and Fennel were filled with emotion.

Especially Fennel, who had been here before. He had fought and trained here, so his feelings were more unsettled.

Marquis Fulmore turned around, looked at Fennel, and said, “You should know better.”

Fennel took a deep breath and said, “Yes, I once went through a bloodbath here, and nothing has changed, except for more tombstones.”

Marquis Fulmore sighed and said, “Three years ago, a small riot happened here. A few extraterrestrial beasts trapped in the abyss escaped and caused some casualties. They were all heroes...”

After saying that, Marquis Fulmore continued to walk forward with Philip and Fennel.

Soon, they reached a broken space, which seemed to form another space from the space where Philip and the others stood.

The space in front of them looked more like a galaxy with a lot of floating rocks and some huge skeletons drifting in space. In the depths of the space, roars could be heard from time to time as well as sounds of chains.

“This is the Graben Abyss, a fragmented extraterrestrial space behind the stargate, so everything here is suspended in the air. In the depths, there are extraterrestrial beasts captured and trapped by the supreme beings of the past. There should also be a royal beast sleeping in the deepest part, waiting for an opportunity.”

As Marquis Fulmore said that, he clenched his fists slightly, and his eyes showed fighting intent.

Philip looked at the floating stones in the space in front of him and stretched out his hand. In an instant, his palm seemed to have entered another layer of space and was surrounded by a layer of shining stars.

“What’s this?” Philip asked in confusion.

Marquis Fulmore said, “This is the special thing about this space that none of us has been able to figure out yet.”

Then, Marquis Fulmore left this place with Philip and Fennel and entered another place.

As soon as he stepped into this place, Philip felt a huge energy storm and the power of rules coming at him!

Then, he saw a huge black stone door right above a stone stairway about 100 meters away in front of him. This huge black stone door exuded an ancient and weather-beaten vibe as if it had traveled through the ages. It carried a heart-pounding atmosphere.

The stone door was so huge that Philip and the others were as puny as ants in front of it. The stone door was filled with all sorts of gray patterns as if depicting a bloody battlefield with several earth-shattering extraterrestrial beasts and unknown ancient palaces.

Standing under the stone steps, Philip was so shocked by the black stone door that he was unable to avert his gaze.

“That’s the stargate,” Marquis Fulmore said as he looked up at the huge stone door.

In Philip’s eyes, bright rays of light that seemed like they wanted to break free slipped through the cracks of the stargate.

The patterns on the door started wiggling and morphed into a projection that came alive in Philip’s eyes.

It was a shocking battlefield with blood everywhere.

Extraterrestrial beasts filled the sky, and there were bones on the ground as well as collapsed cities. Then, the sky shattered, and nine huge extraterrestrial beasts with monstrous might descended from the sky, quickly quelling the battlefield.

Philip also saw the White Marsh, the snake, and the chimera.

Were those the royal families of the other shore?