

Love At First Night Chapter 101

Chapter 101

It had to be said that the reason why Frank's company could rise in three years and become the biggest listed company in Mayfield lied in that he had attached great importance to every producing procedure and all his workers.

The efficiency of the company was very high. Therefore, working there was a big relief for Judith. After checking the colors, Judith used her phone to take a picture of the color plates. This was for later confirmation. Seeing this, Myla realized that Judith was meticulous. Yet Judith did this not only for being meticulous but also for not to be framed. She had been framed by others many times after coming to work in the company. She had already learned her lessons. And she was a quick learner in this aspect for she had been cautious since she was a child, and it was not a bad thing. Judith seldom cared about others' criticism for she knew what she wanted, and it took courage and decisiveness. She believed that actions and perseverance were more useful than complaints and grievances. She had already realized that fashion design was the passion of her life. At five o'clock, Judith got off work on time. She walked out of the office with Myla, only to meet Edwin. He came over to Judith with one hand in his trouser pocket. He had a handsome face and thick black brows. He looked at Judith with an elegant smile, "Ms. White, Mr. Taylor wants you to go to his office." He said slowly with his low voice, which was a little hoarse. When Myla heard this, a trace of jealousy flashed across her eyes. Myla knew that it was after work time, so Frank must ask Judith to his office for private issues rather than business stuff.

Judith glanced at Edwin, thinking about the purpose of Frank. Judith nodded with a smile as a reply. Then she walked gracefully to Frank's office with her 8cm high heels while Myla was watching with jealousy.

Judith knocked on the door. “Come in!” Frank’s voice was calm. Yet it made Judith feel uneasy. She took a deep breath, pushed the door open, and walked in calmly. Frank was concentrating on writing. His serious expression made him look more charming. His movements were very elegant. The sunlight that came in through the French window cast a faint golden light over him, making him look as mysterious as a deity. He slightly lowered his head, showing the line of his statue-like handsome face. The nicely-carved frame added more unspeakable coldness in him, yet it still made people want to approach him. It seemed that Frank had felt Judith’s gaze, he suddenly raised his head and caught Judith’s startling eyes, and Judith had no time to move her eyes away. Then Frank’s lips gradually widened. He smiled, and his voice was filled with a rare gentleness. “Oh, Judy, please be seated!” Judith was slightly annoyed by him because she didn’t want him to call her nickname. They were not so family, and she didn’t like him calling her so intimately in the company. She didn’t know why he call her so. But Frank ignored her annoyance and swore in his heart. “If you are really Jodie, then you belong to me. No one can take you away from me,” Frank vowed to himself, Judith had already stolen his heart during the several days they spent together. Judith did not say anything. She walked to sit on the leather sofa, quietly waiting for Frank to finish his work. Frank glanced at her out of the corner of his eye, smiled, and wrote faster. Five minutes later, Frank elegantly closed the document. He looked up at Judith with a smile. He saw her sitting on the sofa quietly and obediently. The coldness in her was nowhere to be seen now, instead, she looked peaceful.

Chapter 102

Judith also looked at him. She looked calm from her eyes but was indeed very nervous. She felt Frank's smile very weird. She smiled politely and asked, "Mr. Taylor, what can I do for you?" Judith still had to go see Adam and then view the house with him! "Yes, come here!" Frank got up and walked to the table next by. He picked up two cups of coffee that he had prepared and handed one directly to Judith Instead of placing it in front of her. Judith smiled and took the coffee. It was at a good temperature but she did not like drinking coffee. She took a sip and placed it on the table. Frank gave a glimpse at Judith secretly. He gracefully sat opposite her and took a sip of coffee. The taste of the coffee remained the same and it was his favorite. It was not too sweet, but not bitter, either. Frank kept silent. His silence made Judith feel a little uncomfortable. However, Judith was still waiting for Frank's next words. But Frank did not speak a word for long. Judith subconsciously raised her eyes and ran into Frank's eyes. He was sizing her up so deeply that he seemed to make efforts to uncover all her secrets.

Judith was shocked. Why was Frank looking at her in that way?

Frank always gave her a strange feeling. Was there something wrong with her appearance? But Judith knew herself well. She would never be too confident to regard that Frank was lost in her beauty. Frank lowered his voice and smiled elegantly. "Judy, I had no choice to thank you for saving my life yet. Let me invite you to dinner tonight to show my thanks."

Judith didn't expect that he was keeping it in mind. Moreover, Frank called her Judy, which made her feel weird.

Judith apologized to Frank, "Mr. Taylor, I'm sorry. I have an appointment tonight. As for the matter you mentioned, forget about it. I did it for no purpose. Anyone else would make the same decision!" "You have an appointment. What a pity!” Frank looked disappointed. He suddenly remembered that when he came back at noon, Judith received a call. Was it Adam? Frank suddenly felt unhappy at his thoughts. Frank turned his eyes to Judith’s delicate and lovely face. He picked up the gold-gilded pink invitation on the lith. “Judy, there will be a banquet at the Fonta Hotel tomorrow night. Be my plus one and attend the banquet with me.” Frank lowered his voice but showed off his determination. Judith suddenly looked at him and got shocked, “Me? Are you asking me to go to the Fonta Hotel with you?” Judith had painful memories about the Fonta Hotel. If it were not for the banquet there seven years ago, she would never find out the disgusting truth about Julissa and Sherly. “Yes!” Frank watched Judith suddenly turning painful and anxious. He couldn’t help showing his sympathy for her.

It was Judith at the night at the Fonta Hotel. Frank had already investigated it. Gary had already taken Eric’s hair and Frank’s for a test. And he would soon find out the results.

Judith blinked and took a deep breath. She lowered her head and avoided Frank’s eyes. “But attending parties and joining your social life are not my job.” Judith didn’t like to join Frank’s social life. She never joined the social life of the Cooper family. They would only bring Sherly and Baron.

Love At First Night Chapter 103

Chapter 103

Judith was not good at socializing. Frank seemed to expect her words. He put on a faint smile and spoke out calmly, “Judy, you have to go with me.

You are the design director of the Taylor Group, and the people you will meet at the banquet tomorrow night are all our partners.” Frank’s words made Judith silent. Judith sat in front of Frank. She looked delicate and lovely with her thin body. Her wavy hair was lying softly on her shoulders. Her eyes were beautiful and shining. At this moment, Judith was staring at Frank in confusion. Frank also looked at Judith quietly. But they had different feelings. Judith silently withdrew her eyesight. Did she have another choice? Judith replied in a low voice, “Okay! I will go with you for tomorrow night’s banquet.” Judith stood up indifferently after her words as if she was being forced. In Judith’s eyes, Frank was indeed forcing her. In Frank’s opinion, he did it on purpose. Bringing a couple for a banquet? You must be kidding. Frank had attended all kinds of banquets before and had never brought a couple. But this time, the idea suddenly ran across him and Frank wanted to bring Judith along with him. It was the first time they met. One should learn from past lessons. Judith was scared of the memories there but it was another beginning of Frank’s life. Frank admitted that his decision was very cruel, but the strong feeling in his heart excited him. Judith was the one that he had been looking for. “Mr. Taylor, see you tomorrow!” Judith found Frank being lost in his thoughts and turned around to leave. The moment Judith left, Frank gracefully raised his eyes and looked at her back with a mischievous smile. Frank would never give it up once he found something he was fond of. “Judy, Jodie,” Frank repeated these two words silently in his mind and felt extremely happy. He got up and walked out elegantly with his coat in his hands. Edwin was still waiting for him outside. Seeing Frank come out, Edwin just glanced at Frank indifferently and then walked out with the briefcase on the table in his hands. Edwin asked indifferently as before, “Go home? Or go for dinner?” Edwin knew very well that Frank would not return home. Frank was refused by Judith tonight. Was Frank ever refused when he asked a lady out? Edwin found Frank being silent and put on a faint smile. He suddenly challenged Frank with interest, “Are you okay? It’s the first time you've been rejected by a woman. Are you feeling bad?" Frank stood next to the elevator. He stretched out his slender fingers and gently pressed the elevator button. His deep eyes were focused on Edwin, "Why are you gossiping today?" But Edwin's words were true. Frank laughed at himself. Yes, it was the first time Frank took the initiative to ask a lady out, but he was rejected. Edwin smiled, but his voice was still calm. "I am rarely interested in other people's affairs, but I am very interested in your matters. Mr. Taylor, who has never been close to girls, suddenly asked a lady out for dinner. This is indeed the hottest topic!" Frank was not angry. Instead, he smiled elegantly. "Edwin, I remember there is a saying in the book. 'I don't expect a perfect life, but I hope that when I encounter the difficulties of my life, I can be a qualified rival to fight back.' It's my time to fight back!" "Well," Edwin lowered his voice and asked, "is it your time to fight Judith back?"

Judith could be regarded as a 'difficulty' in Frank's life. She was no ordinary person!

Chapter 104

"If it was her, she would be my greatest opponent. I will conquer her. She will become my wife!" Frank smiled with joy and even began to imagine that scene. Edwin gazed at Frank and said, "Frank, it's been so many years. Are you still not giving up?" If Jodie was still alive, she would have been found long ago. However, after so many years, no one could find her at all, so the result was obvious. Frank did not care about Edwin's words. He lowered his head and said, "Edwin, even in the most illusory world, people will try their best to find something real from it. They will give themselves a glimmer of hope. The things they want to pursue may be with them.” Edwin smiled and said, “From the moment she disappeared, you have been living in the illusory world. For others, there are many things to do in life, and in your life, you only live for her. “Some people are lost in a forest while you are hanging on a single tree.”

The elevator door opened and they walked in gracefully. The moment the elevator door closed, Myla, who had not left, walked out from the shadows. Hearing the conversation between the two, Myla was shocked! Myla found that Frank had not been married for so many years and had no girlfriend or scandal because he was waiting for the person he loved to come back. Who was the person? Myla only heard the latter part. The previous words were missed because she was standing too far away, and she did not hear clearly. Myla quickly took out her phone and made a call as she walked towards the elevator. “Sherl, I know why Frank hasn’t had a girlfriend for so many years.” Myla narrowed her eyes. “Why? Tell me!” Sherly’s excited voice came through the phone. “Frank was waiting for the woman he loved!” Myla said with both envy and jealousy. “What? Waiting for someone?” Sherly heard it and obviously did not believe it. “Yes, I have never seen Frank so happy before.” Myla’s tone was a little disappointed. A man like Frank was outstanding. If she could marry him, she would have nothing to ask for in her life. Myla recalled the first time she saw Frank. At first glance, he was tall and elegant. He was cold and noble, and his handsome face was mesmerizing. Something in Myla’s heart instantly broke out. She had a crazy obsession with this man. In the end, Myla did not hear what Sherly was saying. Myla was just recalling everything that happened when she met Frank with upset. Frank was the kind of person who would stand out in the crowd no matter where he was. The whole world would be warm if one fell in love with him. Frank walked out of the elevator and waited for Edwin to drive his car over. Under the setting sun, his tall figure was elongated. Frank had one hand in his pocket, and his every move was casual and noble. His deep gaze swept across the surroundings, and he suddenly saw a familiar figure.

The corners of Frank's mouth curled up. Just as he was about to walk over, a motorcycle suddenly stopped in front of Judith.

Frank stopped. His deep, dark eyes watched as Judith got on Adam's motorcycle and left. The person that Judith was meeting tonight was actually Adam. Seeing them leaving, Frank felt uncomfortable.

Love At First Night Chapter 105

Chapter 105

Frank suddenly felt somewhere in his heart was empty, making his entire body feel uncomfortable. Frank took a deep breath and lowered his head. The air around him seemed to become colder. Deep in his heart, it was as if something was about to break out but did not break out eventually. The streets were crowded with people and cars, and long rows were lined up. The lights of the brakes were dazzling. Frank was immersed in his own world, and everything around him had nothing to do with him. His deep eyes were formidable. Especially his sexy thin lips pursed lightly, revealing a lofty indifference and nobility. Suddenly, Frank's phone rang, and the sound pulled him back from his lost world. "Hello!" Frank said with a cold voice. "Frank, good news! I didn't expect that you would have such a day." "Get to the point!" Frank, who was in a bad mood, roared. "Chatting with you is really boring." Gary seemed to have been splashed with cold water. "The DNA test has been identified. Eric is your son, and the accuracy has reached 99.99%." Gary seemed to be even happier than Frank, and his tone was so excited that he couldn't control himself. Frank tightened his grip on the phone. Frank was instantly filled up with something. "Alright!" Frank's deep voice trembled. "Gary, immediately start investigating Judith's background. Don't tell anyone about Eric's background yet. Don't tell Edwin and Patrick about it." Frank's tone could not hide his excitement. "I know. Your family still has an old witch. She has been harming you for many years. You can't let your son be harmed!"

"Alright! I'll hang up then!" Frank hung up the phone. Edwin was driving the car over. Frank walked over elegantly and was in a good mood. He smiled evilly, "Edwin, drive the car to Era Plaza. Go to that restaurant and order the dishes. I'll be there soon." Edwin looked at him strangely and asked, "Aren't you taking the car?" "No." Frank threw the coat into the car. Edwin didn't ask any more questions. He smoothly turned the steering wheel and left. Frank was immersed in joy, and he clenched his fists slightly. His deep and cold eyes emitted a treacherous light. He put on an evil smile. "You had to pay the price for stealing my DNA." What was the most terrifying thing about people? That was the determination to risk everything, Frank was so seriously waiting for Judith to return, and he believed that she would definitely return to his side. In the darkness that Frank once thought could not walk out, he finally saw a glimmer of light. Frank could not calm down immediately. He ran around the Group's building a few times until he was sweating and exhausted. He then calmed down. At that time, Gary's words echoed in his mind. "Eric is your son." "Eric is your son!" This sentence echoed in Frank's ears a hundred times. Frank had a son. Frank smiled. This was the first time he had laughed so happily in his life! He returned to his office, took a bath, changed his clothes, and went downstairs. He stopped a taxi and went straight to the Fashion Square. Judith and Adam also came to that restaurant tonight. Both of them liked the food there. After ordering, the two of them chatted while waiting. All of a sudden, Adam's phone rang.

Love At First Night Chapter 106

Chapter 106

Adam glanced at the caller ID and his face darkened. When he looked at Judith, his face turned gentle again. “Judy, I’m going to answer a call. I’ll be back soon.” Judith smiled and nodded. “Go quickly!” Adam stood up. Under the soft warm light, his handsome face looked even more dazzling. After walking to the corridor, Adam picked up the phone. “Hello.” His tone was much calmer than usual. “Mr. Haywood, someone is asking about Ms. White!” Hearing that, Adam instantly darkened his face. “Who is doing it?” “We don’t know yet. We are also investigating it. Once we find that guy, we will tell you right away.” Adam’s handsome face was cold, and his voice was cold to the extreme. “Clean all the records of Ms. White. Don’t let that guy find any traces of her living, such as the place she used to live in, and the school she studied in when she was a child. Erase all traces of her existence. Don’t let anyone find out her previous identity.” Adam ordered and quickly hung up the phone. Adam turned around and looked at the woman who was sitting by the window and smiling at him with her bright eyes and tidy teeth. His gloomy face suddenly softened. He swore inwardly, “Judy, I will not let you leave me. No one can snatch you away!” Judith was the one that he was most obsessed with among all the women Adam had met. For other men, she might not be the most beautiful lady in the world, but in Adam’s heart, Judith was the most beautiful and talented woman in the world: Judith’s smile was always so pretty and pure. Everything about her was so bright and made people unable to raise any ill intentions. When working seriously, she was capable and crispy, and her every move made people comfortable. As long as Judith was with him, Adam would feel as if he had the whole world. A gentle smile appeared on Adam’s handsome face. He smiled gently at Judith and walked back. Judith withdrew her gaze and looked at Adam who was walking towards her. At the same time, Edwin pushed open the door and entered. Edwin saw Judith and suddenly understood why Frank wanted to come here. It turned out that Judith was here. Edwin looked up and glanced at Judith. There was a screen with carved carvings on it between tables. Beside Judith and Adam was an empty table. Edwin curled his lips slightly and walked over slowly. Edwin lowered his head. Judith and Adam could not see Edwin. After sitting down, Edwin took out his phone and texted Frank. Frank, who was in the taxi, glanced at the chatting box of his Line and a charming smile flashed across his eyes. <Sure enough, they're there! Since she carries my baby, she should discipline herself. From now on, the man sitting opposite you can only be me!! Frank couldn't help but think this way. This was the first time Frank had the idea of marrying a woman, and that woman would be Judith. Frank looked out of the window, and the warm sunset reflected on his profile. On his handsome face, there appeared a rare gentleness. There was less of his usual coldness. The corners of his mouth curled up, making him look even more charming.

It was in a restaurant. Adam handed Judith a file and said, "Judy, look, these are the shares I bought for you. Although it's just a few, we can take it slow. The Cooper Group has a lot of losses under Baron's leading, and we will easily get the opportunities to purchase Cooper's shares.

Judith took the document, glanced at it, and smiled gratefully. "Adam, thank you for your kindness these years."

"Silly girl, what are you talking about? It all depends on you. You have been working hard for the past seven years. I have been witnessing you managing it step by step." Adam looked at her with a slightly reproachful tone.

Love At First Night Chapter 107

Chapter 107

Judith looked at Adam and smiled sweetly. “No matter what, you and Alissa have been helping me for so many years. I should say thank you.” Generally speaking, Judith would not conceal what she really thought in front of Adam and Alissa. Judith was simple, kind, gentle, and considerate. In this material society, Adam had seen too many greedy and vain women.

Rarely, Judith was never one of these people. It made Adam feel that he had met the destiny that he had been waiting for. He knew what had happened to Judith. When Judith decided to give birth to her three children, Adam did not stop her. Instead, he supported Judith and accompanied her all the time. Adam knew how much Judith had been longing for a warm home. Adam had believed that if he worked hard, Judith would fall in love with him. The waiter served the shrimps, which were Adam’s and Judith’s favorite. There were overall four dishes on the table, but the two were only keen on the shrimps. Adam grinned. He picked up the water on the table and took a sip. Adam looked at Judith and smiled. “Judy, if you really want to thank me, why not treat me to dinner tomorrow night?” Frank, who had just sat in his seat, happened to hear this, Judith smiled and raised her eyebrows. “Adam, I’ve treated you many times. If I keep doing this, my salary for this month will be over.” “Miser, I’ll treat you to a meal then. You just have to eat with me!” Adam glared at Judith. However, after Adam treated her to a meal, Judith would have to treat Adam back, so that she would not owe Adam too much. Adam knew it clearly. At the thought of this, he felt uncomfortable. He then picked up fish for Judith and put it on her plate. Adam urged, “Eat quickly. I’ll take you to see the house later. I’ve checked that house. It’s a very good one. You just need to renovate the place, and you can move into it before Eric starts school.” “Okay, but I have to go back to Kimshire next week. Emily will launch a painting exhibition there. I lost the handkerchief she gave me last time. If she knew it, she would definitely be very unhappy.” Judith suddenly thought of Frank’s face with blood all over. She sighed inwardly. “Forget it. I won’t be able to get it back.” Adam said with a smile, “Judy, I’ll go back with you. Emily will get first place this time too.” “I hope so. Lucas said that Emily had been working hard during this period. She even locks herself in her room every day.” When Judith mentioned her daughter, her bright eyes shone with a soft light. Judith gazed at Adam for a while with her clear eyes and said, “Adam, it’s not that you are coming with me this time, but you have to. Don’t tell me you really want to stay in Mayfield.” Adam elegantly picked up a piece of fish with a fork. After eating it, he slowly said with a smile, “Judy, I’ve said it before. Wherever you are, I will be there. If you go to Mayfield, I will go with you.” His voice was faint, while it sounded serious and firm.

Judith paused for a moment. Deep gratitude rose in her heart. “Adam, if you’re going to work there, you naturally have to stay. But if you stay for me, that would be too much for me. You shouldn’t do that!” Judith and Adam never hid anything from each other. Judith had never given Adam any hint that she would have a feeling for him. Judith had raised three children by herself, and she didn’t want to hinder Adam from looking for his soul mate.

Adam understood what Judith meant, and pain arose in his heart. No matter what he did, Judith had been refusing him. Adam was unable to go to her heart. He knew Judith’s concerns and what she was thinking. But so what? Adam still could not go into Judith’s heart.

Love At First Night Chapter 108

Chapter 108

It looked like Judith was delicate and needed protection, but Adam knew how strong she really was. When Judith was having her meal with her head down, Adam glanced at her and said with a faintly disdainful smile. "Judy, you flattered yourself. I stayed for work, not you. Who do you think you are? Kuth food in her mouth, Judith looked into his smiling eyes, as if she was trying to figure out if he was telling the truth. But in his eyes, there was nothing but a smile. In the end, she nodded and smiled. If that's true, I will feel much easier!" Adam's hand paused on its way to fork the dishes as he looked at her. He couldn't help but ask Judy, "have you ever felt stressed for I stay here?" His tone was solemn and he looked like a wounded beast trapped in the abyss of despair. People said that if you fell in love with someone, you would get better at the end of the day, even if you couldn't get love. Adam never wanted anything back in this relationship. With a serious face, Judith looked at Adam. Her honesty was so palpable from her clear eyes. "Adam, you know that's not what I meant. Hurry up. We'll check out the house later!" Every time this question was mentioned, things would turn out like this. "Alright! I knew you couldn't wait to go there. But just take your time. The house is right there. No one will snatch it from you." Judith didn't know what to say. "Was I gobbling up the food?" Judith wondered. "No, I ate elegantly, she told herself.

Judith said jokingly, "How do you know? You always 'snatch' shrimps from me?" As Judith spoke, she put on disposable gloves and looked as if she was ready to pig out.

Upon seeing this, Adam also took disposable gloves and put them on. In fact, he didn't like to 'snatch' any food from her and enjoyed being with her. But playing tricks on her would make him happy for several days. Judith peeled a shrimp and put it in her mouth. "Adam, you are rich and well-respected. I've treated you to nothing but shrimps. You must be upset about it, right?" "Yest" Adam said firmly, but the smile on his lips was wide and warm when he worked hard on peeling shrimp shells Judith looked at him and was amused. “A shrimp shell is enough to wear you out “Even with all my strength, I can’t peel it off. This one is quite big and has a perfect texture! Adam said as he struggled with the shell. Finally, he succeeded but handed it to Judith’s mouth, “What are you doing?” Judith looked at it and got a bit nervous! This made her feel like they were a couple in love. But this was how Adam, Alissa, and Judith got along since they were close “Oh! Judy, why are you being shy today? Did I miss something?” Adam teased and his eyes fixed on her lit up Judith did not say anything and lowered her head to eat the shrimp Judith mumbled, “I’m not. Actually, I appreciate your hard work!” Adam found her adorable and beamed with delight. The joy he felt from spending time with Judith would last a few days.

Love At First Night Chapter 109

Chapter 109

The dishes were served but Frank didn’t try any of them. Sitting opposite Frank, Edwin tasted them gracefully and checked his phone from time to time, as if no one else was around Through the hollowed-out partition, Frank could watch Judith and Adam closely. Frank’s angular face darkened and grew terrifying. Frank acted as if someone had snatched his treasure. “Eat! You have no reason to do anything, no matter how mad you are.” Frank heard Edwin’s tepid voice. Frank collected his thoughts and looked at Edwin indifferently. However, Edwin’s words reminded him. Frank forced a smile, got up elegantly, and walked towards Judith. Judith and Adam were chatting happily. Suddenly, a black shadow cast over Judith and she looked up. Under the warm light, Frank wore a charming smile on his perfect face. His dark deep eyes and the unfathomable look in his eyes added to his mischievousness. “Mr. Taylor!” Judith sounded a bit surprised and wondered why Frank was here. "Judy, what a coincidence," Frank said in a low voice and glanced at Adam from the corner of his eyes. As Adam's expression turned gloomy, a tinge of pleasure of revenge flashed through Frank's eyes. Frank knew that it was because he called Judith Judy. "Mr. Taylor, are you here for dinner too?" Judith asked with a polite smile. Frank could tell that the way she smiled at him was different from that at Adam. She smiled happily and sincerely at Adam while the smile on her face now was out of courtesy. With this thought, Frank faked a smile and sneered. It turned out that Judith had turned Frank down for dinner with Adam. "Judy, we agreed to have dinner together. Why did you get off work without waiting for me?" Frank asked flatly, others found a deeper meaning to it. Frank looked deeply into Judith's calm eyes. With this eye contact, his unrestrained temperament was on full display Judith glared at him, thinking when she had agreed to that. Judith was about to speak but Frank said, "Judy, I've been too busy to remember things. It's tomorrow night." With that, Frank sat next to Judith with composure. The sofa chair was long. Judith was slender and looked petite next to Frank. When Adam saw this, his gaze turned cold. "Judy, he is..." Adam's tone hardened as he looked at Frank. Adam knew Frank, but Frank's behavior was strange. Judith's face darkened, and she moved slightly further from Frank. Frank noticed her reaction and glanced at her. Anxiety was written all over her face. Judith looked up at Adam and said, "Adam, he's president of the Taylor Group. Mr. Taylor, this is Adam." "Judy, I've heard of him. He is the richest man in Kimshire, the president of the Haywood Group. Nice to meet you, Mr. Haywood!" Frank looked at Adam with a phony smile. "Mr. Taylor, nice to meet you, too!" Adam stretched out his hand for a handshake. Under the light, his alabaster and slender fingers were noticeable. Frank smiled and unhurriedly shook it gently with his rather bony hand.

Adam's and Frank's eyes met and gleamed with the same emotions, which might spark off a row. And both were arrogant and deep. More than that, it showed anger between love rivals. The atmosphere instantly became oppressive and strange. Frank withdrew his hand, looked at Judith, and asked with a smile. "Judy, you and Mr. Haywood seem to have a good relationship. Have you known each other for a long time?" Frank sounded very relaxed as if he was closer to Judith than Adam. Judith looked at Frank with her clear eyes. "Why does Frank become so strange all of a sudden?" she wondered.

Judith looked composed, but she was sensitive by nature and got alert. Adam was furious at Frank's intimate actions and tone. It was what a man would do to his girlfriend. His eyes swept past Judith's expressionless face and suddenly fell on Frank, who was smiling. Adam said with deep affection, "Mr. Taylor, Judy and I have known each other for a long time. She is my girlfriend!" Judith and Frank were speechless at Adam's jaw-dropping remarks. But there was a difference. Goggling at Adam, Judith was more than shocked. Frank, on the other hand, had an angry and cold expression on his face. Adam had been refraining himself until Frank came. Only then did Frank feel that what he had done was impulsive, which just helped Adam. But there was no other way. Today, Frank knew that Judith was his son's mother, and she was very likely to be Jodie. He didn't allow Jodie to flirt with other men.

Adam looked at Frank's face and felt the pleasure of revenge. No one could take Judith away from Adam. Frank was not interested in women but suddenly acted intimately with Judith. Anyone could tell that Judith was a dazzling pearl. Adam smiled, "Mr. Taylor, my girlfriend is shy." He meant that Frank should keep some distance from Judith. Adam, in fact, was simmering with rage, since Frank was serious about his feelings for Judith. Judith looked at Adam again, but Adam had a bright smile and stared at Frank intently rather than her. She had this feeling that Adam wouldn't be easier on Frank if Frank did not move. Adam was cold, aloof, and domineering. Though Adam looked like a gentleman, his aura was not inferior to Frank's.

Things were a little intense, and even Edwin sitting afar felt nervous. The silent Frank was fuming!

As Frank looked up slightly, his eyes lit up and his face was calm. His abnormal response surprised Edwin. Frank said evenly, "Judy, so Mr. Haywood is your boyfriend. I thought he was Eric's..." Frank held back on purpose. Frank emphasized the word "boyfriend". Of course, what Frank didn't say in the end astonished Adam. Adam should have holden his tongue. Eric was a model of Adam's company. Now Adam was literally telling Frank that Judith was unmarried Adam was so mad at himself! However, what was done was done. Adam and Frank met for the first time. Adam had thought he would have the upper hand in the rivalry. However, in the end, Frank won.
