

Love At First Night Chapter 14

Chapter 14

The morning sunlight shone through the floor-to-ceiling window, illuminating the room. The horns of the cars in the morning were noisy.

Slowly opening her eyes, Judith grabbed her cellphone and had a look. It was eight o'clock and it was not late. She woke up on time and never stayed in bed. Getting out of bed, Judith walked to the bathroom. After washing up, she put on light makeup for but the lipstick was in the style of a queen. Her light makeup made her more beautiful and charming with her good skin. The professional suit, the white shirt and the black skirt she wore set her figure off. Judith took the black leather handbag aside and held the materials needed for today's meeting. She went to the door and put on her black high heels. She looked mature and reserved, exuding the aura of a professional at work. Opening the door with a confident smile, she walked out. There were twenty-five floors in the headquarter of the Taylor Group.

The company arranged her position early in the morning.

She entered the company and went to the front desk to get her card. After clocking in, she entered the elevator and went to the twenty-fifth floor. She took over the position of Hana who was the former design director. She would be responsible for designing only and didn't need to bother herself with other issues. Only chief executives could take the elevator that Judith was taking. Just as the elevator door was about to close, it was opened again. A woman in a white dress walked in. The woman had exquisite makeup and a slim figure. She was like a blooming white lotus, dignified and beautiful, untainted by dust. Judith smiled at the woman politely. However, the woman looked at her disdainfully and lowered her head to look at her phone. Judith didn't mind. Those who could take this elevator were all chief executives. She would stay here for a month and then return to Kimshire. It would be helpful for her to get along well with people here.

They reached the twenty-fifth floor. Neither of them said a word. The woman kept her head down and played with her phone. The decoration of the twenty-fifth floor was luxurious. The two plants at the door grew well. The woman in white walked out of the elevator before Judith. She walked straight towards the president's office. Judith didn't care much. She walked towards the secretary who was doing preparations. The secretary of the Taylor Group was a handsome man. Frank had also tried to find a female secretary. However, every female secretary wanted to sleep with him, so he could only ask his good buddy to be his secretary. When the woman in white walked straight over, the secretary, Edwin Young, stopped the woman in white. "Miss Chaney, where are you going?" Edwin was tall in white shirt and a pair of black trousers. He had a handsome face with short and clean hair. He had determined and sharp eyes. He didn't look ordinary. He appeared elegant and gentle. Ann Chaney raised her head to look at Edwin. She asked with confusion, "Mr. Young, I came to look for Frank. What's the matter?" Ann's said with a gentle voice and a soft smile. Edwin frowned and said, "Miss Chaney, Mr. Taylor is going to have a meeting. He won't see anyone now." Edwin didn't show much respect to Ann. Ann frowned and looked displeased. Staring coldly at Edwin, she said tartly, "Mr. Young, mind your attitude to me. I'll be the president's wife."

Edwin spread his hands and smiled. His eyes were filled with disdain as he mocked, "I suggest that you should say this only when you become the president's wife."