

Love At First Night Chapter 181

Chapter 181

Ann, Sherly, and another girl were walking toward Edwin and Judith. The three of them were dressed very fashionably

Edwin's face darkened. Were they the three new employees yesterday? If so, things would get interesting. "Edwin." Ann ignored Judith and smiled gently at Lucas. "You..." Edwin looked at the three of them with a puzzled look. Ann smiled sweetly, "Edwin, we are hired yesterday." Then, she looked at Judith provokingly. She would definitely teach Judith a lesson. Edwin narrowed his eyes. He said coldly, "This is Ms. White. She is your boss from now on." Ann and Sherly looked at each other. They did not greet Judith. The girl behind them was wearing a white dress. She had long hair and looked cute and innocent. She walked in front of Judith with a smile. "Hello, Ms. White! I'm Alaina Kay, in charge of fabric." Alaina smiled very cautiously. She reminded Judith of the years Judith had spent in the Cooper family. Judith smiled back and said, "Hello, Ms. Kay." Then, Judith smiled at Edwin. "Edwin, Excuse me, I have a meeting now." "Go to the conference room on the 23rd floor, we'll have a meeting," Judith said to Alaina. With that, Judith walked to her office. Ann and Sherly looked at Judith's back with a strange look. "Ms. Chaney, Ms. Cooper, you're not allowed to come to this floor," Edwin warned. Ann smiled and nodded. "Edwin..." "Please call me Mr. Young," Edwin corrected Ann with a cold face. Ann froze, and she clutched the black backpack in her hand tightly. "Mr. Young, I will abide by the company's rules," Ann said with difficulty. She didn't expect that Edwin would do this to her Myla was sitting on Judith's desk, looking at her own phone. As Judith came in, Myla immediately put away her phone with a nervous expression. Judith noticed that her desk was empty. She glanced at Myla coldly. Judith became angry, but she tried to hold it back. Instead, she smiled and asked, “Myla, where is the information for the meeting?” Myla avoided eye contact with Judith. “Ms. White, I forgot to bring it back when I got off work last night, so...” “So, you haven’t finished your work?” Judith interrupted her calmly.

Myla nodded. Judith took a deep breath. It was only five minutes before the meeting. Judith walked to her computer, turned it on, and quickly browsed the topic she had to talk about in the meeting. Seeing this, Myla kept quiet. She was very nervous because she had done it on purpose. She had prepared to lie to Judith, but Judith did not blame her. Myla had thought Judith would yell at her. She was envious that Judith became the director so easily.

Chapter 182

Myla had worked hard here for a few years. After Hana finally left the company, Myla had a chance. But Judith came back from the branch company and became the director. Myla refused to accept the truth. Judith quickly browsed through all the topics in her mind. She turned off the computer and walked out of the office without looking at Myla.

Myla was flustered and she followed behind Judith.

“Ms. White...” Judith turned around and looked at Myla coldly. She knew that Myla had done it on purpose. Judith sneered and said seriously, “Myla, remember, you are not working for me. You are working for the Taylor Group. “It’s your job. Before I got off work yesterday, I told you to prepare the information for this meeting. But you said you had forgotten about it. Don’t forget that you get paid by the Taylor Group.”

After Judith finished speaking, she walked towards the elevator. She stood very straight. Myla stood in place, looking at Judith's back at a loss. What Judith said was right. Myla knew she had made a very stupid mistake. Standing opposite them, Edwin had seen everything. Alaina followed Judith. But Ann and Sherly didn't move. Edwin retracted his gaze and glanced at Ann and Sherly. "Your boss has gone to the meeting room. It's your first day at work. Do you want to be late?" "Judith is just a director. It's not a big deal." Sherly couldn't stand Judith's indifferent and arrogant look. After Judith left, Sherly spoke without thinking. When Edwin heard this, he frowned slightly and mocked, "Judith is the design director. I have to rely on her new products to keep my job. So, if you want to quit," Edwin pointed at the elevator, "take the elevator and get lost immediately. The sight of you makes me sick." "Mr. Young, you..." Sherly looked at Edwin and felt a strong sense of humiliation. Damn Edwin, why was he so stubborn? Sherly was confident about herself. She was pretty, sexy, and rich. She was much better than Judith! But why did Edwin dislike her? Every time Sherly met Edwin, she would receive humiliation. Ann did not say anything. She turned around and walked to the elevator.

She could not stir up trouble now.

Edwin walked towards Myla. Frank was not here. Now Edwin was in charge. "What's going on? You're Ms. White's assistant. She went to the meeting. Why are you standing here?" Edwin said in a cold voice. He narrowed his eyes and looked serious.

"I..." Myla wanted to say something but hesitated. She looked up at Edwin with grievance and defended herself, "Edwin, I didn't prepare the meeting information that Ms. White wanted. She said it very vaguely yesterday, and I didn't understand what she meant ... So..."

Chapter 183

“So, you didn’t prepare the information of the meeting?” Edwin interrupted her coldly. Myla nodded, her hands tightly clenched together. Edwin took a deep breath and said, “Ms. White is right. You get paid by the Taylor Group.” Edwin returned to his seat and texted Frank. He reported what had happened this morning to Frank. The next moment, his phone rang. It was from Frank. Edwin frowned. Hadn’t he made himself clearly enough? “Hey!” Edwin answered casually as he comfortably leaned against the back of his chair. Frank’s angry voice came from the other side, “Go and investigate this whole thing. Ann is a design major. The position she applied for makes sense. The personnel department knows about my relationship with her family her. As for Sherly, someone must have done something behind her back. And Myla, tell her to fuck off if she wants to quit.”

“Got it,” Edwin said indifferently.

Then, he hung up the phone.

Glancing at the office opposite him, he called Myla. “Hello! Edwin!” Myla answered the phone nervously. “Mr. Taylor asked me to tell you, fuck off if you want to quit.” Hearing Edwin’s cold voice, Myla turned deathly pale.

For such a small mistake, Frank asked her to fuck off. Myla finally realized that Frank treated Judith differently. Myla became the director’s assistant, just to get close to Frank. However, after Hana left, Judith came. Myla’s dream shattered.

Myla thought, “No, I can’t leave.” She apologized to Edwin, “Edwin, I’m sorry. I won’t do this again.” “This is your last chance. You are touching Mr. Taylor’s bottom line.” Edwin hung up the phone. The phone in Myla’s hand fell onto the desk. She was as pale as a ghost. “You are touching Mr. Taylor’s bottom line.” This reminded her what kind of person Frank was. The Taylor Group treated employees well. For the employees, the more they worked, the more they gained. If an employee slacked off his work and affected the progress, Frank would kick him out without hesitation. The company didn’t need trash! Myla quickly picked up the notebook on her desk, trying to rush to the conference room as soon as possible. However, she had just opened the door to the office when Judith returned. The meeting only lasted for ten minutes. Judith didn’t like to waste others’ time. She tried to get to the point, simple and straightforward. Everyone recognized her working attitude. Every department was actively cooperating with her. During the meeting, Sherly refuted Judith, but she was rendered speechless by Laura, the manager of the marketing department.

It just so happened that Sherly was assigned to the marketing department according to her major. Laura had a good impression of Judith, and she knew Sherly’s background. Laura disliked Sherly. In Laura’s eyes, this kind of person had sharp eyes in criticizing others but clumsy hands in doing things herself.

Chapter 184

Ann was assigned to work in the Propaganda Department, and she was okay with it. This saved Judith a lot of trouble. Judith walked toward her office. Myla was standing at the door waiting for her. Myla’s face was pale. Judith didn’t get angry. She said indifferently, “Myla, excuse me. I still have much work to do.” She had to go to the airport to pick up Lucas before five o’clock.

Myla pursed her lips and apologized in a low voice, “Ms. White, I’m sorry! I promise I won’t do this again. I will do everything you tell me to do.” Edwin had told Frank what had happened here. Frank trusted Edwin very much. When Frank was not here, Edwin would take care of the Taylor Group for him. “Alright!” Judith nodded. She knew that Myla wouldn’t change.

After all, Myla was born like this. And Myla worked for the Cooper family. Myla stepped aside to let Judith in...

The plane flew above the clouds. The clouds were as white as snow, forming endless waves. Frank and Gary flew first class. Gary felt bored during the travel, so he went to the economy cabin to do some stretch. As he walked, he suddenly found that a child by the window looked exactly the same as Eric. But when he took a closer look, he was not so sure about it. Lucas was wearing a white T-shirt, a pair of blue jeans, and children’s sunglasses. He leaned against the back of the chair, resting with his eyes closed. Gary looked at Lucas for a long time, but Lucas did not know about that. Gary thought of Alissa, and a hint of joy flashed through his heart. He could finally see her. However, Alissa wasn’t here. Gary was slightly puzzled. No way. Alissa was Eric’s manager, so she should be here too. Gary carefully looked around again, and he still couldn’t find Alissa. He frowned. After catching a glance at Lucas, he turned back to the first-class cabin. A stewardess was handing a cup of coffee to Frank with a smile. Frank had not slept for a day and night. He was very tired. He leaned lazily against the back of the seat and took a sip of the coffee. “Frank, I saw Eric. He is in economy class.” Frank was puzzled. Eric was very popular now, so he wouldn’t sit in economy class.

Maybe Gary found a pretty girl and wanted Frank to go over and take a look.

No, if Gary found a pretty girl, he would not tell Frank. Gary was afraid that the beauty would be attracted by Frank, and this happened a lot.

Gary had walked up to Frank. "Frank, I was talking to you. Didn't you hear me?" Gary only felt that it was particularly difficult to communicate with Frank. Sometimes, Frank was too lazy to look up, let alone answer his question. But Eric was Frank's son. Frank shouldn't be so indifferent. After all, that was his son! Gary was envious of it.

Frank looked up and glanced at him. He was a little impatient. "You must have got the wrong guy. If Eric were on this plane, how could we not know?" Gary was also puzzled. At first, he also thought that he was mistaken. But in the past half-year, Eric had been more than famous and showing up on many screens, magazines, and airport television. So Gary thought that he should be Eric. He pulled Frank up and said, "Let's go. The plane is about to land. If you don't believe me, you can go and take a look. Otherwise, I will suspect my sight." Frank looked at him unhappily and struggled free of his hand. With cold eyes, he beckoned Gary forward to lead the way Gary smiled bitterly. He felt it so miserable to be with such a poker-faced man all the time. It was literally a miracle that he didn't go mad! Soon they arrived at the economy class. Gary glanced at the vacant seat, instantly dumbfounded. He thought to himself. "Is there something wrong with my eyes, or was I hallucinating just now? Where is he? Where did he go? He was just sitting here!" Frank looked at him coldly and said sarcastically, "Gary, I think you're really blind!" After saying that, he turned around angrily and was about to leave. Frank and Gary were extraordinarily handsome. Seeing them, surrounding women began whispering. Some of them even drooled over them. Frank hated it. He had just taken a step when he was held back by Gary. “Gary, would you cut it out, already?” Frank’s face clouded over. His patience was completely used up at this moment. “No!” Gary turned around and shouted at him impatiently. Then, under Frank’s furious gaze, he pointed at the boy walking over. After Gary left, Lucas just happened to go to the toilet. At this time, Lucas had already taken off the sunglasses. When Gary came over just now, he was already asleep. Seeing that the plane was about to land, he went to the toilet. When Frank saw him, he was a little dumbfounded. Frank thought he was Eric, but on closer inspection, he wasn’t.

This child in front of him seemed very calm, and his big clear eyes seemed mature, which was not in line with his age. However, there was always a faint smile on Eric’s face, which was elegant and gentle. At first glance, Eric looked a little mischievous. This child had a completely different personality from Eric. His every move actually seemed intimidating. Frank was shocked to see a child with such an imposing manner. Seeing two men standing next to him, Lucas just glanced at them. His tender tone was slightly cold. “Sir, excuse me!” Frank and Gary were shocked. The child in front of them who looked exactly like Eric actually did not know them, but the two still took a step back and made way for him. Lucas sat in his seat and began to pack up his things, sunglasses, and books. He put them into a small bag. The bag was black, which seemed as dark as his personality. Frank could be sure at a glance that the child in front of him was not Eric, but he looked exactly the same as Eric. Frank’s heart jumped wildly in an instant.

Love At First Night Chapter 186

Chapter 186

Frank's eyes became deeper as his heart overflowed with ecstasy. He thought, "Are Eric and the twins? The night before yesterday, I went to buy the child's daily necessities with Judy. Does that mean that another child is coming over?" "Eric, don't you know me?" Frank asked tentatively, his voice trembling. Lucas looked up and noticed that there was something wrong with Frank's voice. He looked at Frank doubtfully. His eyes were indifferent as he said seriously. "You got the wrong person." His simple sentence seemed to separate them into two different worlds. Frank frowned slightly. This child was as indifferent as him! Looking at this child, Frank seemed to see his childhood. He was like a hedgehog, always on guard against everything around him. "You and Eric..." "Sir, the plane is about to land. Please return to your seat and fasten your seat belt." A flight attendant walked over and interrupted Frank with a smile. Frank and Gary looked at each other and then looked at indifferent Lucas. They walked towards the first-class cabin unwillingly. Frank kept looking back at Lucas. Lucas watched them leave. He thought to himself, "Why is he looking at me so strangely?" After they left, Lucas took out a financial magazine from his bag. On the cover was the image of Frank, the big shot in Mayfield. He looked perfect and handsome. He had a clearly outlined face with sharp features. His thin lips curled into a proud and aloof smile. His dark eyes were cold and his heroic aura was oppressive. It was just a picture, and he looked so overbearing,

This man had the same facial features as him and his siblings. He smiled faintly. He narrowed his eyes and casually put the financial magazine back into his bag. His expression had nothing to do with a child. He was only six years old, but he was always calm, which did not match his age. He sat there, waiting for the plane to land. The plane slowly landed. Lucas bid farewell to the beautiful stewardess. He wore sunglasses and lowered his head as he elegantly walked out of the exit with his backpack and a small suitcase. There were airport pickups all around. Everyone held up their signs. It was very lively. Lucas looked at everyone carefully. All of a sudden, he smiled as his eyes lit up. In the crowd, Judith happily waved to her son. Lucas walked to Judith who was standing on the side. After Frank and Gary got off the plane, they searched for Lucas. Then the two followed him. When they saw him walking towards Judith, Frank's heart actually missed a beat. He was even a little dazed. Time seemed to freeze at that moment. In his world, there was only the pure smiling face in the crowd and the kid not far away. Her smile was so pure, beautiful, and charming. "Mom, I miss you so much." Lucas put down the suitcase and threw himself into Judith's arms. In this world, only Judith could make Lucas look so gentle. Judith smiled happily and rubbed his head. "Lucas, I miss you too. You've been on the plane for so long. Are you tired?"

Love At First Night Chapter 187

Chapter 187

Lucas shook his head. Seeing that his mother was alone, he asked, puzzled. "Mom, didn't Uncle Adam come with you?" Judith smiled. "He has something to do today. He said that he would treat you to dinner tomorrow night." "Okay, mom, let's go." Lucas smiled. He looked happy to see his mother. "Let's go eat delicious food!" Judith took the suitcase in his hand. In the future, with Lucas around her, she would not feel lonely. "Lucas, how is grandma?" Lucas looked up and said, "Mom, she's fine. With me and Emily, grandma smiles very happily every day." "That's good." Judith smiled. She was very happy now. Gary watched as Judith and her son left. He glanced at Frank, only to find Frank staring straight at Judith and her son.

"Frank..."

He called out twice, but Frank did not respond. “Frank, come back to your senses.” Gary pushed him. Only then did Frank look at him excitedly, “Gary, quick, pinch me.” He was afraid that he was dreaming. Gary was, speechless. However, he smirked. What a good opportunity! He gritted his teeth and squeezed Frank’s thigh. Frank cried out in pain. The people around them looked at him strangely. Feeling the intense pain, Frank knew that he was not dreaming. He quickly chased after Judith and Lucas. Gary shook with laughter. The revenge was so satisfying that he wanted to tell the world. He jogged over as well. “Judy.” Suddenly, an excited and clear voice came from behind Judith. This voice was low as if he was suppressing some feelings. When Judith heard this familiar voice, she slowly looked back. When she saw Frank and Gary, she was quite surprised. She smiled and said, “Mr. Taylor, Mr. Powell, what a coincidence!” “Yes! What a coincidence!” Frank smiled at her and pointed at Lucas. “Judy, he looks exactly like Eric.” Judith looked down at her son with a smile. She introduced, “Mr. Taylor, this is Eric’s brother, Lucas.” The guess in Frank’s heart turned into reality at this moment. He tried his best to suppress his excitement. He looked tense and nervous. Gary looked at Frank enviously. Gary thought to himself, “Why is Frank so lucky? He actually has twins! God. This is too much of a blow to me. My wife is still in her maternal family, and I don’t even know her. Finally, I took a fancy to one, but she already has a boyfriend. My life is so miserable!” Judith introduced, “Lucas, they are the president of my company, Mr. Taylor, and Mr. Powell.” “Nice to meet you!” Lucas’s tone became indifferent, and his expression became much colder. Hearing his greeting, Frank came back to his senses. He forced a smile at Lucas. “Lucas, nice to meet you too.” Frank’s low and mellow voice was very pleasant to hear. He tried to suppress his excitement. He actually had two sons, and both were so outstanding. Frank laughed wildly in his heart. And Lucas was the child of him and Judy. How could he not be happy? He was so happy that he wanted to tell the world.

Love At First Night Chapter 188

Chapter 188

Although he didn't do the paternity test, he was sure about Judith's identity. This was the first time he had been so firm.

Frank glanced at Gary and said, "Gary, go and drive over. Judy and her son will go with us." Gary looked at him and smiled with envy. He nodded and turned to the parking lot. Judith said, "Mr. Taylor, you don't need to do that. We can just take a taxi back." "Judy, that's fine. I live not far from you. Besides, it's time to eat now. Why don't we go eat first? Since Lucas is here, let's take him to eat something delicious." His voice was gentle but determined as he said with a smile.

Judith looked at Frank and felt that he was abnormal. Men's thoughts were hard to guess. Lucas stared at Frank. Frank was different from what he knew. At least, he was very good to his mother. Judith was in a dilemma. She did not want to have too much contact with Frank. Other than in the company, she only wanted to stay away from him. Lucas seemed to have seen through her mother's difficulties and said, "Mom, I want to go back to rest. I'm tired." Judith looked down at him lovingly, "Okay, I'll take you back to rest." Then, she looked up at Frank with an apologetic expression. "Mr. Taylor, I'm sorry. I'm afraid I'll have to let you down. Lucas is tired. I'll take Lucas back to rest first." Frank was instantly disappointed. He looked at Lucas and tried his best to soften his usually cold face. "Lucas, is tomorrow night okay?" He sounded more than cautious. As a father, he wanted to try his best to have a good relationship with them. Seeing the fanaticism and some complicated emotions in Frank's eyes when he looked at his mother, Lucas was confused. He shook his head slightly. "I'm sorry. We've already made an appointment with Uncle Adam. We'll go to dinner with him tomorrow night." Lucas preferred Uncle Adam. For him, Uncle Adam and Alissa were the best people in this world to them.

When Frank heard Adam's name, he instantly turned cold.

He frowned and knew that he was inferior to Adam to Lucas and Eric.

But he had just started, and he could do what Adam could do.

"Then the night after tomorrow!" Frank did not give up. Only with more opportunities to get along could they become more familiar with each other. Judith was slightly stunned. She did not understand why Frank would insist on this. "Mr. Taylor, let's talk about it when we have time. You are very busy. Lucas is just a child. You don't have to do this." Judith said in a tactful manner. With the gorgeous sunset, she looked very soft and beautiful. With her good figure and wavy hair under the bright light, she looked cold and arrogant. When Frank saw her like this, he was a little stunned. He smiled gently. "Judy, I'm always available. Let's set it for the night after tomorrow. After work, I'll pick up Lucas with you."

"Mom, the day after tomorrow is Saturday." Lucas reminded his mother when he saw that she seemed to have forgotten about it. He knew his mother had two days off on the weekend.

Love At First Night Chapter 189

Chapter 189

Judith seemed to just realize it and said with a smile, “Mr. Taylor, I almost forgot. I don’t work on Saturday.” Frank also smiled. “Me too. So we’re all free on the weekend. Then let’s meet on Saturday evening!” Judith could not find a reason to refuse. It was not easy for her son to help her find an excuse, but luck didn’t help her. After all, it was Saturday. “Alright then.” She could only nod in resignation. At this time, Gary had already come over in his car. “Frank, Ms. White, Lucas, get in the car!” Frank took the suitcase from Judith and walked to the car.

Judith thought that Frank was different from what she heard. At least, he was very nice to her. If Judith knew the reason and knew of Frank’s cruel means, she would never have imagined that Frank would be so gentle. Maybe only Judith could see Frank being like this.

They got into the car. Frank did not sit in the front but sat behind with Judith and her son. Through the rearview mirror, Gary glanced at Frank, who was smiling from ear to ear. Gary was shocked. Frank seemed to have been reborn. Gary thought to himself, “Judith is really charming.

Others could see mountains, see the sea, and see everything in the world, but Frank was different. He could only see her. When he was drunk, he would crazily call out Judy’s name. He looked so painful. Sometimes, he would be haunted by nightmares, and he seemed to have returned to that night and to the world without Jodie. I couldn’t even wake him up. Only when the nightmare ended could he wake up. Every time he woke up, he was very painful and tired, and he blamed himself.

Judith, you must be Jodie! In this way, Frank could live. Because Jodie is the malediction in Frank’s heart. Everything in the world can be obtained with effort. But when he is hopeless, no one can wake him up.”

“Where are we going to eat?” Seeing that they did not speak, Gary felt that the atmosphere was a little depressing, so he spoke up. Frank said expressionlessly, “Drive Judy and Lucas back first. Lucas is tired.” “Not going to eat?” Gary’s voice was a little out of control because he was about to starve to death. When he went on a business trip with Frank, he was always not full and could not sleep well. “I’m sorry, Mr. Powell. After we go downtown, we’ll take a taxi back. You guys go and eat first.” Judith heard the tone of Gary and she said apologetically. Frank glanced at Gary and a sharp look flashed across his eyes as he thought sullenly, “What was Gary doing?” The chill coming from the top of his head startled Gary. He smiled and said, “Ms. White, you must be joking. I’m just surprised that we don’t go to eat together. I will drive you and your son home. Besides, I am not hungry.” Gary said against his heart. He was starving! Besides, if he wanted Judith and her son to get off halfway, Frank would have to peel him. “Thank you!” Judith knew that he was hungry. From his tone, she knew that he was very unhappy. But there was no other way. She had already gotten into his car. What she said just now was just to be polite. It would be troublesome if she got off and took a taxi back. Lucas glanced at his mother. In fact, he was not tired. He deliberately said that because he knew his mother did not want to go.

Chapter 190

On the way, no one spoke. Gary drove the car carefully. Frank was thinking at this moment, “What should I do to make Judy accept me in the shortest time? How can my two children accept me soon?” Judith ignored Frank and occasionally whispered a few words to Lucas, thinking about what to eat with Lucas tonight. “Ravioli, or something else?” Suddenly she had a flash of inspiration in her mind. She thought of the barbecue that she went to eat with Adam last time. Although she had met Marilyn there, it wouldn't happen every time. After finalizing everything, Judith heaved a sigh of relief. An hour later, Gary parked his car outside Judith's apartment. Judith smiled and said, "Mr. Taylor, Mr. Powell, thank you. Go back and rest." After she finished speaking, she took her son out of the car. Frank also got out of the car and took Lucas's suitcase out of the trunk. Lucas looked at Frank's actions and warmed slightly to him. "Thank you, uncle!" This time, he was not as indifferent as before, with a faint smile. Frank gently rubbed his head. "You're welcome. Be good." Frank said and looked up at Judith. Judith was looking down at the phone, and a flash of disappointment flashed across his handsome face. He turned around and got into the car. Gary drove off. Judith was checking the route to the barbecue. When she looked up, she found that Frank and Gary had already left.

She looked at her son who had been looking at her and asked, "Lucas, what's wrong? Why are you looking at me like this?" She knew her son very well. The look in her son's eyes clearly meant that he had something to say. Lucas smiled, "Mom, don't you think that Mr. Taylor is different from what the rumors say?" Judith immediately smiled, confident and beautiful, like a rose in full bloom. Her temperament made her very special, "Lucas, rumors can't be trusted, and sometimes the eyes will deceive you. Frank is the big shot of the business. People know him from magazines and gossip. "Let's go home first. I will go out and buy you something delicious later." "Okay!" Lucas looked in the direction where Frank left and narrowed his eyes. He wondered, "Didn't Mommy notice that Eric and I look very similar to Frank? Is that because Mommy doesn't know who our father is?" She had been greatly hurt before, and her children had never mentioned their father in front of her. As time passed, they did not want a father, so they did not ask about it. However, when Eric went back and told him about Frank, he got to learn something about Frank. When he saw Frank in the magazine, he was a little stunned.

They two looked really like each other. What was even stranger was that he found that in his grandmother's room, in the cardboard box under the bed, there were Frank's magazines and some gossip news. When he came here, he took a financial magazine with him and studied it on the plane. When he saw Frank in person today, he felt that they really looked like each other. Perhaps, subconsciously, her mother did not want to find their biological father. Since his mother didn't want to, he could look for their father secretly. At least, he wanted to know who he was. Lucas's emotions were complicated. He could pretend to know nothing when he found his father. He always knew what his mother was worried about.
