

Love At First Night Chapter 19

Chapter 19

Edwin walked into the office and meaningfully looked at Frank, who was immersed in loneliness. Gary told Edwin that Frank had been missing Jodie the whole night.

Edwin remembered Jodie. She was a pretty girl with clear and big eyes. The Chaney family and the Taylor family were neighbors. When Frank was unhappy, Jodie would try to make him happy. Frank liked her very much. However, it was because of Frank that Jodie disappeared. Nothing could relieve his terrible sense of blame. Edwin walked over to Frank and said slowly, "Frank, Miss Chaney called again and asked when you would you be there. She said that the two families were going to discuss your marriage." Frank took a glance at Edwin with deep-set eyes and said coldly, "An adopted daughter wants to marry me in place of Jodie. Don't you think the Chaney family is ridiculous?" Edwin answered, "Since you don't want to go there, I'll call to refuse her later." "Well." Frank became sullen. He knew Gina hoped he could be there, but he would not be obedient to her.

She had robbed his mother's everything, and his mother had disappeared because of her. Therefore, Frank decided to get even with Gina sooner or later. The car accident that happened the day before was not a coincidence. Gary had investigated it. And because of Gina, Frank had lost a lot. Edwin had no intention of leaving. Frank raised his eyebrow and looked at him with displeasure. Then, he said indifferently, "What else?" Edwin continued unhurriedly, "Hana said that she wanted to get married and would not be back. She informed us to find someone to take over her job." Frank smiled and said, "Looks like Hana is serious this time. She even chased after the man and is about to get married. “However, I don’t know if the man deserves her. I had seen him before, and he’s not that good. I hope she can live a happy life. “Ask her when they will get married. She had worked in the company for three years and made a lot of profits. We should send her a present.” Edwin smiled and nodded, and his voice was warm and pleasant. “Sure. I have told her about Judith. She said that she knew Judith and liked her design philosophy very much. She believed Judith would be qualified for the position.” Frank nodded. When he thought about Judith, he had a strange feeling. Especially her eyes, he was fascinated with them. Frank squinted and smiled evilly. “Tell Judith to come to my office. I will talk to her.” He had to admit that he had been attracted and persuaded by her vivid explanation in the morning. Judith was the first person that to be able to get Frank’s approval at the first round of draft reviews. Edwin nodded and did not say a word when he saw Frank’s smile. He turned around and smiled too. He became somewhat excited because he knew the work might be interesting in the future. He walked out elegantly. Frank stared behind him and frowned. He picked up the document on his desk and waved it at Edwin’s back, but he did not throw it out. He wondered why Edwin liked pretending and that why he pretended to be proud in front of him. How could Edwin be less talkative than him?

Chapter 20

After Edwin left, Frank straightened up and said to himself with a smile, “That’s right. He is suitable to be a secretary.” After Judith received Edwin’s message, she cheered herself up and walked to the president’s office. When she stood at the door, Frank’s evil smile came to her mind. Judith was somewhat unwilling to go into his office. She had saved him the day before, but he hadn’t expressed his appreciation to her. She wasn't someone who cared about that, but she still felt uncomfortable. Judith lifted her hand but did not knock on the door. She bit her lip and hesitated whether she should go into the office. However, could she leave? She had to rely on Frank's salary to support her family. Judith took a deep breath to calm down. Then, she decided to go into the office. She knew she would be even more worried if she didn't go in. She knocked on the door. "Come in." There came a cold but pleasant voice. Judith pushed the door open and walked into the office. Frank compressed his lips and squinted at Judith's clear eyes. She was nervous. When Frank found that, he smiled secretly, and there was even a trace of an evil smile in his eyes. "What can I do for you, Mr. Taylor?" Judith asked politely and went straight to the point. She took a casual glance at the spacious and bright office. It was well-matched to Frank.

However...

Judith fixed her eyes on the lollipops on Frank's desk. As an adult, why did Frank like lollipops? It wasn't strange. She liked strawberry-flavored lollipops too. Frank observed her in detail and said peacefully, "Ms. White, you will be transferred back to the head office to be the design director. Your salary will be doubled, and you have a two-day weekend." What Judith had been worried about did happen. Doubled salary and a two-day weekend were so tempting.

However, her family was in Kimshire.

She had already found a school for her children, and she had decided to accompany them. Judith smiled and tried to make it short. "Mr. Taylor, I am afraid I can't do that. My family is in Kimshire." Frank did not expect Judith to refuse him, so he could not help but frown. There should be no reason to reject the job. In order to work in the Taylor Group, the citizens of Mayfield would try everything they could do, but Judith refused the opportunity. However, Judith was indeed a talent. In Frank's eyes, she was the only person who could pass through the design drawings review at the first round. He smiled evilly and said sarcastically, "Ms. White, do you feel that you are not qualified to be the design director of the head office?" Frank's challenging words made Judith combative. With a professional smile on her face, she replied confidently and calmly, "Mr. Taylor, you have been imaginative. My design drawings were passed by you in one go. There is no doubt about my ability. I am qualified to be the director, and it is not a pressure for me. However, my family is in Kimshire." Judith explained her concerns. She would be worthless if Frank kept misunderstanding her. She had suffered a lot for the design. Hearing that, Frank was speechless. He exclaimed in his mind that Judith was beautiful and eloquent. He decided to throw the question back to her. "I won't care about that. From today on, Ms. White, you are a member of the head office. I will send someone else to the branch office." Frank's words were simple and crude.
