

Love At First Night Chapter 231 – 235

Chapter 231

She had always known what friendship and love were. But why couldn't she do this these days? Marilyn took a deep breath. She found Judith remained noble and elegant even though on her body were cheap clothes. Each of her movements showed her innate charm. Usually, Marilyn would like this type of girl, but she would feel a string of repulsion when she saw Judith. Marilyn would not be nice to someone taking advantage of her. Now she was wandering the relationship between Judith and Frank.

She felt more repulsion against Judith if she couldn't figure it out. Ann stared at her with anger and went upstairs. Looking at the luxurious and dazzling room, she put on a faint smile. Money could take away everything bad in her heart, especially her inferiority. So, she wouldn't let Jodie return to this house. She thought, "Fortunately, Judith is not Jodie." If Judith was, she would definitely kill Judith. Since she couldn't get things she wanted, she wouldn't allow Judith to get them. She was born to live in the rich Chaney family. As Ann thought about this, she felt excited. "Jason, are you okay these days? Is Sarah still bothering you?" As she passed by Eric's room, Ann suddenly heard Aiden's voice. "No, She never called again after she called me two days ago. Probably she won't call me again." Jason's disappointed voice sounded painful. Ann then knew why Jason had looked down recently. It was because of his girlfriend. She frowned slightly. Sarah? This name was very familiar. "It would be the best. It would be even better if she doesn't call you anymore. Mom doesn't allow you to marry her. So you just forget it. If she continues to see you, I'll talk to her for you." "Enough. That is not what you think. Aiden, why are you the same as our mother?" Jason's uncontrollable roar echoed in the room. Even Ann was shocked. "Jason..." "Get out!" Jason's cold voice scared her. Ann turned around and left when she heard the heavy footsteps. She quickly went downstairs and found that her mother was not in the living room. She quickly rushed out and made a phone call to ask for Sarah's address. She went to the garage to get her car and went straight to Sarah's barbecue stall. Just like Sarah didn't want to see Jason have a happy life, Jason also didn't want to see her happy. Ann still remembered that Jason was so cold when she tried to comfort him. He said coldly, "It's my business, not yours."

Jason had always loved her and seldom spoke harsh words to her. But now he would speak to her strangely. Ann drove directly to the opposite side of the Farrell family's barbecue stall. Now Frank, Judith, and Lucas were also here.

The sound of Ann closing the car door caught Judith's attention. Judith had a bad feeling when she saw Ann and glanced at the barbecue stall. She glanced at Frank and Lucas, "Lucas, we'll eat at the barbecue stall opposite. They have already opened the stall. You and Frank go to the supermarket opposite to get some drinks. Bring me Diet Coke. I will go and order first.” Lucas nodded and looked at Frank. Frank also smiled and nodded. “Alright! Judy, we will be back soon.”

Chapter 232

“Alright!” Judith smiled and nodded, her focus already on Sarah. As soon as Frank and Lucas turned around, she chased after Ann. After a while, Frank and Lucas stopped at the same time. Looking back, they saw Judith rushing across the road. Frank smiled at Lucas and asked, “Lucas, why did you stop?” Lucas glanced at Frank who seemed to understand everything. He smiled, “Frank, didn’t you stop as well?” Frank smiled evilly and said, “Your mother was obviously trying to get us out of the way.” “Yes! There are a lot of beverages in barbecue stalls. We don’t need to go to the supermarket to buy them. Why don’t we follow her and see what is going on? Her anxious face showed that she was very worried.” Hearing this, Frank nodded in agreement. “Lucas, I think so. Let’s go!” He held Lucas’s little hand and stepped forward elegantly, his innate noble temperament attracting a lot of attention.

Lucas suddenly stopped and looked at Frank with his arms crossed when they were about to cross the road. Frank looked at him and smiled, “Lucas, what are you doing?” Lucas frowned slightly and said faintly, “Frank, why do I feel like you are here to snatch my girl?” He walked for a long time before he reacted. Frank was speechless. “Kid, what do you mean?” Frank was somewhat anxious. How could Judy be his girl? Lucas calmly said, “Since you want to pursue my mother, you’re trying to take away my girl. She is our girl, the most important girl. Why should we allow you to pursue her?” Lucas said quickly. Frank’s heart was heavy, as if a heavy hammer suddenly smashed into his chest. Lucas had agreed to help him! But why did he suddenly go back on his word? “Lucas, you are not loyal. You can’t do this. “Besides, don’t you want a father?” The last sentence went a little bit too far. “No! It’s enough for us to have our mother and a grandma. Besides, we don’t know who our father is. What’s the point of finding one?” Frank was slightly stunned. It turned out that they had never thought of looking for their father... Frank suddenly felt bad. He wanted to say that he was their father! However, it was not the right time. So it would only backfire if he said that. Frank took a deep breath and maintained his gentle smile. “Lucas, let’s put this aside. You can’t go back on your promise!” As the high-spirited boss, the promising CEO of the Taylor Group, he believed that he would win the support of his son. Lucas said with a smile, “Of course! I am a man. I mean what I say. But why do I feel that you have bad intentions towards my mother?” “Bad intentions?” Frank was rather helpless. Did he show that? Why did Lucas say that? He felt an indescribable feeling of unease.

And of course, he was rather sad. After all, his son treated him as a bad guy. “Yes! Mom is right. Why are you pursuing a married woman?” Lucas looked at him with a serious gaze.

Chapter 233

Frank suddenly laughed. "Lucas, you just said that you didn't know where your father was. So your mother is single now. How is she a married woman?" The corners of Lucas's mouth twitched. He had forgotten about that. "Anyway, I still need more consideration about it." As soon as Lucas finished speaking, he walked forward. As for their father...

Well...

God would know where he was. Frank felt helpless when he looked at the little boy in front of him. He didn't expect that Lucas would change his mind. Frank followed Lucas. Judith followed Ann into an alley and found that it was the back door of the Farrell's. She took out the phone and was about to call Sarah. But suddenly she saw Sarah coming out from the corner and standing in front of Ann. She quickly stopped and looked at them. Ann crossed her arms around her chest and looked at Sarah overwhelmingly.

Judith started videotaping this. Ann had come with ill intentions, so Judith wanted to record it as evidence!

"Who are you?" Sarah looked at Ann. She did not know Ann. "You don't have to know that. I am just warning you to stay away from my brother. Otherwise, I'll make you sorry for that!" "Your brother?" Sarah frowned slightly. Her heart suddenly ached and she sneered, "Are you Jason's sister?" "Yes. If you continue to disturb him, our family won't let you go. He asked me to tell you this." Ann became increasingly contemptuous when she saw Sarah's cheap clothes. Her words saddened Sarah. She had not called Jason again recently, as she had made up her mind to stop seeing him. "Don't worry. We've already cut off our ties. It won't affect the reputation of your family. You can leave now." Sarah looked sad and was about to turn around when Ann suddenly slapped her in the face. Judith suddenly widened her eyes and wanted to rush over, but Frank stopped her. Judith frowned and looked at him in confusion. Why was he here? "Why are you stopping me?" Frank looked at her and said, "Judy, you will make it even worse if you go." She sneered and said, "Mr. Taylor, you really have a good fiancée!" When Frank heard this, a look of disgust flashed across his deep eyes. "Who told you that she is my fiancée?" "She told me that she was the wife of our future president on the first day I went to work. Isn't she your fiancée?" Judith rolled her eyes at him. Didn't she ask them to buy drinks? Why did they follow her? "But I didn't say it's true." Frank immediately felt that he was wronged. "Why did you slap me? I told you that I didn't see your bother anymore. You're going too far." As Sarah's angry voice came, Frank and Judith looked over again. Lucas stood behind them with his hands folded. He never liked to join in the fun, nor did he like to meddle in other people's business. "If I don't slap you, will you be able to learn your lesson? You better remember this. You're not the girl who could match our family. It's best if you give up completely. If you still dare to see Eric, I won't let you go. "This is my first warning. But if I know that you call Eric again and make my parents sad, I'm sure that you won't find a job here." Ann had a vicious smile on her face and her tone was harsh.

Chapter 234

Judith looked at Ann. She was completely different from the seemingly gentle girl that Judith had met for the first time.

What a difference! "I told you that I wouldn't call Eric anymore. You can leave. I don't want to see anyone from your family." After Sarah finished speaking, she turned around and left. But Ann's voice sounded behind her again. "Wait!" Sarah stopped and turned to look at Ann, her eyes red as she was trying to hold back her tears. She could face things without much fluctuation now that things had become like this. She wouldn't shed tears for anyone, including Jason, her beloved man. "What else do you want?" she snapped. Ann took out 1,600 dollars from her limited edition bag and waved her hand with a smile. "This is for you. Just treat it as a break-up fee!"

That mocking smile seemed to tell Sarah that it was the price of their love. Sarah felt humiliated and heartbroken when seeing the cash. But she still told herself that she was now a mother. She must protect her baby. She sneered and said, "Alright, I will take your kindness. But things from your family are dirty. So I won't take the money. "Now I'll give it to you. You can buy some snacks! But remember to get something light. Your mouth smells so bad after you eat expensive meats." With that, Sarah gave her a confident smile before turning around. She straightened her back and left with composure. "Wow!" Judith stood in the same place and looked at Sarah's confident back, making a "victory" gesture. "Sarah, well done!" As long as she learned to fight back, no one else could hurt her. Ann stood there in a daze, angry. Looking at Sarah's confident back, she was at a loss, and angrier. She was here to humiliate Sarah, but now she was the one being humiliated.

Ann stood where she was and sneered. She would definitely humiliate Sarah even more in the future. "Sarah, wait and see." With that, she turned and left.

Judith smiled at Ann who looked helpless and angry. She looked up and suddenly met Frank's smiling eyes. There was a faint smile in his deep eyes, which shone with brilliant light. Unconsciously, he got a lot closer to her, and his imposing power had reached Judith's heart. Now Judith found herself fluster. Her expression turned serious as she glanced at Frank. He still looked noble. Frank watched her with a wider smile. Deep in his eyes were unfathomable emotions. The smile at the corner of Judith's mouth gradually froze. She had forgotten that Frank was just beside her. Thinking of her behavior just now, she was embarrassed. Frank's beautiful lips curved slightly. This was Judy's nature. When she was happy, she would jump up and down and put on an innocent smile. "Mom, do you know that woman?" Lucas asked.

Judith looked up slightly and saw Ann walk towards them. "Let's go, Lucas. We need to leave this place." She quickly turned around, pulled Frank and Lucas, and walked deeper into the alley.

Chapter 235

Ann would do something crazy if she saw that Frank was with Judith. Frank looked at his hand that was clenched by Judith and smiled happily. "Frank, I will take you to bask in the sun. It is very warm today. Look at you. You are depressed all day. You will be in a good mood when you get warmth from the sun." Frank suddenly recalled that little girl who pulled him to the roof. Even if he didn't want that, she still pulled him to the roof. When they reached the alley, Judith stopped. She saw Ann leave angrily. Only then did she realize that she had unconsciously grabbed Frank's hand. She blushed and immediately let go of Frank's hand. She explained with a red face, "Mr. Taylor, I was too anxious just now. Sorry for that." Frank looked at her blushing little face and smiled meaningfully. "Judy, are you into me? Otherwise, why would you subconsciously hold my hand?" Lucas was stunned. Sure enough, Frank wanted to snatch his mother from him. Judith was speechless. She felt a little flustered. She thought that Frank must be mad and egomaniac! "Interesting..." She couldn't help but laugh. "Frank, have you always been so confident? Are all the women around you interested in you? But I'm afraid you're wrong. I'm not." Frank looked at her angry little face and put on a beautiful gentle smile. He lowered his head slightly and his lips were next to her ear. His pleasant and low voice was full of temptation. "Judy, are you sure?" Judith glared at him. "You arrogant man! Lucas, let's go!" But just as she moved, Frank suddenly stretched out his long arm and pressed it against the wall, blocking her way. His deep eyes stared at her deeply.

Judith quickly took a step back and looked at Frank cautiously. Lucas frowned unhappily, "Frank, are you trying to bully my mother?" His tender tone carried a strong threat. Frank's expression changed, and he quickly withdrew his hand. He lowered his head and smiled at Lucas, "Lucas, no. I just think that your mother and I are very compatible." "Compatible..." Judith looked him up and down, her eyes full of disdain. "Frank, what nonsense are you talking about? Hurry up and leave. I'm hungry." Judith said unhappily and pulled Lucas out of the alley. Frank smiled and followed her. He looked at the hand that she just held. He could still feel a faint warmth from her hand. Looking at the slender and tall girl in front of him, he smiled. His girl had really grown up into a beautiful lady, as beautiful and adorable as the one he had imagined. Unfortunately, they had missed out on eighteen years. How good would it be if they hadn't? Ann had already driven away when the three walked out of the alley. They came to the barbecue stall. Sarah was there to offer some help. When she saw Judith, she smiled happily. "Judy, what are you doing here?" she asked with a smile. Her slapped face was still suffused with a faint red, and it was obviously swollen. Judith narrowed her eyes. Ann was really ruthless! “I wanted to eat your barbecue. This is Lucas, my eldest son.” Judith pulled Lucas to take a step forward.
