

Love At First Night Chapter 236 – 240

Chapter 236

“Lucas, come here and say hello!” “Hello, Miss Farrell!” Lucas greeted politely. “Hello, Lucas!” Sarah looked at Lucas’s handsome face with envy. “Lucas, you are so good-looking!” In a flash, she was looking forward to giving birth to her baby. She regretted it so much when having that stupid idea at that time. Fortunately, her baby was fine, or she would never forgive herself. “Thank you, Miss Farrell!” Lucas smiled faintly. He would be polite and gentle in the face of his mother’s friends. Sarah took a closer look at him and suddenly felt that he was a little familiar. She looked at Judith and asked, “Judith, why do I feel that Lucas is a little familiar? I seem to have seen him somewhere before.” Sarah looked at Lucas thoughtfully. Judith smiled. “Sarah, my second son is called Eric White, a child star. He is now in Kimshire.” “Oh, that’s it! I often see him on TV, on bus stop billboards, and even on big screens in malls. He is a handsome boy. In the past six months, he has earned a lot of admiration. He won the first in the piano competition some time ago. The song he performed was rather moving.” Sarah said in surprise, but her gaze was still on Lucas’s handsome little face. Although no one paid attention to Frank, he was very happy to hear others praise his son like this. Judith smiled proudly and said, “Eric has liked the piano since he was a child. He also likes acting. So now he has become a child star.” Sarah nodded her head enviously. “He is really a great boy!” Judith smiled proudly when the topic was about her son. “Eric is filming these days. So he would only come to Mayfield later.” “That’s great. When my baby is born, it will have kids to play with.” Sarah smiled happily. She really liked the strong Judith, who was also the savior of her son and her. She would never forget Judith’s kindness for the rest of her life. “Good! In this way, it has companions when it grows up.” Judith said with a smile. She looked at Sarah’s red and swollen face, feeling sorry for Sarah. She felt that Sarah was also a tough girl. After all, she was still smiling after that humiliation. “Yes! Sit down. I’ll ask my mother to prepare her special for you.” As Sarah said this, she also nodded to Frank and greeted him. Lucas said with a smile, “Miss Farrell, please get me a bowl of rice noodles. I heard that rice noodles in Mayfield are particularly delicious. I want to have a try.” He had always known that the rice noodles in Mayfield were famous. So he wanted to try it this time. “Okay! Lucas, rice noodles in our stall are also famous. I’ll prepare it in a while.” As Sarah spoke, she let them sit in a better environment and walked into the kitchen. Frank looked at her slender back and frowned slightly. She was actually pregnant with Jason’s child. But why would Jason abandon her?

Jason was a good guy, so he shouldn’t have been so ruthless. When Judith looked away, she saw Frank’s thoughtful expression. She thought for a moment and said, “Mr. Taylor, can you not tell the Chaney family about what you saw today? “Sarah committed suicide a few days ago because of this. Now you can see the Chaney family comes for her again. I am afraid that she will commit suicide again if they stimulate her.”

Chapter 237

Frank nodded in understanding and looked at her with a charming gaze. "Judy, I can keep it a secret for you. But what will you offer in return?" Judith frowned and looked at him in disbelief. "You are a profiteer! You will never miss the opportunity to get your interests." Judith said directly. Frank smiled slyly and said, "Judy, a businessman relies on capital to make money. As a businessman, I have to make everything useful." "You are a profiteer, a mercenary. You take advantage of me." Judith looked at him angrily. It was not something very difficult to do, okay? But he wanted to make use of it to get profit from her. Frank laughed d brightly and looked around the barbecue stall. More customers were here now, and many of them looked at them from time to time.

He slowly retracted his gaze and looked at Judith's angry little face. He smiled and said, "Judy, when doing business, you can decide how much you want to invest, but you can't control the results. When you make the right investment, you'll win once. But when you choose the right person, you will win a lifetime!" Judith somewhat agreed with what he said. When one met the wrong person, he would suffer for the rest of his life.

However, she was still angry. "If you know this, why don't you behave yourself?" Lucas felt her mother's changing emotions. Frank had the ability to make her mad. Frank suddenly shifted from arrogant to innocent. "Judy, I just want you to treat me to a meal and I'll keep it a secret for you. I didn't ask you to do anything else." Judith was speechless... "Well, why didn't you say so earlier!" It was just a small demand. She could meet it. Frank smiled innocently and said, "Judy, you scolded me before I could explain." Judith suddenly gritted her teeth and glared at him. She found that today she had lost all her good temper over the years. The way he spoke could be interpreted in different ways. "Alright, I'll treat you to a meal and you keep it a secret!" She spent a lot of effort to save Sarah from the river and she did not want to ruin them. Sometimes, the hardest choice one had made would eventually become the best thing he had ever done. When she left Mayfield seven years ago, she had decided that she would never care about others' comments. She wanted to be herself. "Alright! I'll make the time." Frank took advantage of this opportunity. Judith instantly felt that Frank tricked her again. Moreover, she didn't try to escape even if she knew that something was wrong. Lucas shook his head slightly. His mother was indeed too innocent to be Frank's match. Feeling her anger, Frank smiled. "Judy, you need to control your emotions. If you get angry so easily, you will age very quickly." Judith really wanted to give him a slap, a hard one. That was the only way she would vent her anger. She said angrily, "I don't need that. You just need to take care of yourself and don't make me angry!" she said word by word with anger. Although he was very good-looking and pleasing to the eye, how could he ruin someone's mood just like this? Frank laughed and said, "Judy, I didn't do anything to make you angry. I just proposed conditions beneficial to myself." Judy was so cute when she got angry.

Chapter 238

He signed He really wanted to take her home and bicker with her like this every day. Then he must be very happy. When Judith heard this, she was furious. She shouted in a low voice, "Shut up. People find you attractive when you're silent. But you ruin everything when you speak." Frank laughed happily. Suddenly, he leaned close to her and said in a teasing tone, "Judy, so you find me attractive?" "No! But after seeing your shamelessness, I find that the world is so beautiful." Her tone was extremely sarcastic. Frank could interpret the sarcasm in her words, but he was not angry. Grumpy as he was, he had never thought of being mad at her. Judy was the person he truly cherished in his life. "Judith, Lucas, here are your dishes. These seafood are the freshest. Today is my treat. You can eat as much as you want." Sarah held a large plate of dishes and said with a smile. Seeing that, Judith said worriedly, "Sarah, you are pregnant now. You can't be so busy. It is not good for you. You should rest more." Sarah shook her head and said with a smile, "Judy, don't worry about me. In our hometown, a pregnant woman can still work in the fields. Even so, the baby is healthy when it comes to the world. Moreover, what I'm doing is just something easy to do. It helps me sleep well." Judith smiled. "Then take care of yourself!" Judith got up and took out the dishes on the table. When she was pregnant, she also worked. She designed clothes every day to earn money. At that time, as long as there was nothing wrong with her belly, she would try desperately to find inspiration. She gave birth to her three children smoothly. "I will. Judith, you guys eat first. There are still three bowls of rice noodles there. I will get them for you." After Sarah finished speaking, she turned and left with light footsteps, looking very happy. Frank glanced at Judith, lowered his head, and smiled slightly. He thought, "Judy, you can care about a stranger like this, If you knew that Sarah is pregnant with your nephew, you must be heartbroken for you." "Mom, hurry up and eat. Let's go home after this. I'm a little tired." Lucas picked up a big shrimp and ate it. He was really tired after shopping for a day. "Okay! Lucas, you should eat more. What do you like? I will peel it for you." Judith looked at her son with a smile. Looking at his tired little face, she was distressed. Lucas shook his head, "No need, Mom. Look at my figure. If I continue, I will be fat. Mom, you need to take care of yourself. Don't worry about me. I have grown up now. I can eat well by myself." Lucas said seriously. His mother was afraid that the three siblings could not get enough food and clothes. "Alright!" Judith nodded and ate gloomily. Frank looked at them and smiled. He felt even more distressed to see their affection for each other.

Julissa didn't receive the call from her secretary even if she had waited for a whole day at home. She couldn't help but make a call, "Hello! Joe, haven't you found it out yet?" Her tone of displeasure filled the room. "Mrs. Taylor, we failed to find the address of this number after a lot of work."

Chapter 239

“What? How is that possible?” Julissa didn’t believe that she couldn’t even find the address. “Mrs. Taylor, we tried in different ways, but we really couldn’t find it.” “Alright! I see.” Julissa hung up the phone in anger. There was no light in the room, but she could still see the shapes of things in this room. Julissa stood up from the sofa and walked around restlessly. Who was the sender? Was it Judith? Julissa thought about it and suddenly went downstairs. Downstairs, Sherly sat on the sofa in the living room. She was teaming up with her friends to play games on her phone. Hearing the footsteps downstairs, she looked up and asked casually, “Mom, the maid said that you were not well and didn’t even come down to have dinner. Are you feeling better now?” Julissa glared at her. “You knew I was not very well, but you didn’t even come and look after me a little. The only thing in your daily life is about games. Why can’t you spend more time reading books?” “Mom, again! You keep nagging every day. Since I’m already working at the Taylor Group, it means that I’m a capable girl. What are you worried about?” Sherly said unhappily, but she did not look up at her mother. But Julissa became even more furious. “Don’t forget why you can work there! We have cooperated with them on an important project. You must keep an eye on it, especially Judith. The company thinks highly of her designs. “Since you are working over there, remember to tell me everything about her actions, including her phone call. You have to pay attention to everything about her and tell me.” As Sherly listened to her mother, she played the game. This game was over when she suddenly lost and her teammates had no time to save her. She threw her phone on the sofa and looked at her mother gloomily. “Mom, didn’t you say that she was not Judith? But why such a fuss? Are you hiding something from me?” Julissa frowned and looked at Sherly unhappily. Sherly had never been smart at the right time. “I didn’t say that she was Judith. I just think she is capable. Since Frank also thinks highly of her, she will definitely have a promising future. “If we have a good designer who can help our company go public, we don’t have to rely on other companies. We can have our own designs. It is unique. Then we won’t be in such a dilemma.” Julissa was very angry. Sherly was also a designer, but a bad one! So she wouldn’t bring any benefits to the company “Mom, the clothes I designed two days ago were very beautiful. But you just dislike them. Now you are thinking about other designers. What is going on? “Why do you always think of other designers’ works? “As long as we use all kinds of methods to do promotion, like e-commerce and magazine, my designs will be unique. But if you don’t like my designs, so I can only go out to work.” Sherly’s tone was sarcastic. It turned out that her efforts in schools were in vain. “Sherl, don’t ask me why. Why don’t you ask yourself? Are you qualified enough? “Is there any difference between your designs and the ones in the market now?” Julissa did not want to embarrass Sherly like this.

Chapter 240

But she felt worried when seeing Sherly’s arrogance. She feared that Sherly couldn’t have the strength to remain so in the future. “Mom, everyone has his goal. I don’t need to compete with others. I just want to have my own style.” Sherly looked at her mother angrily. She had said this many times, and now she did not want to continue this topic. Her mother always dampened her confidence. “Have your own style? Interesting...” Julissa smiled sarcastically as she looked at Sherly with a mocking gaze. Sherly’s happiness shifted into anger when knowing that her mother was going to mock her again. She was about to throw a fit when her mother said. “Sherly, go and take a good look at your own style. So you call the imitation of famous foreign designers your style? That luxury design is the one you like. “Not everyone will like it. Do you know what the consequences will be if our company sale that kind of thing? I'm a seasoned woman in this industry. I know well about your little tricks." Sherly's red lips opened slightly as she looked at Julissa in disbelief. It turned out that her mother had already known it long ago. She had worked for a night to modify it, but it still looked like a copy. She sneered, "Mom, as long as I make a little change, it will become our own design. It will only bring benefits to our company. How can there be consequences?" Sherly did not understand what her mother was thinking. Since there were countless copies in the market, why couldn't she do it? "Forget it, I don't want to talk to you about this. I will find a good family for you to marry into so that you can live a carefree life." After Julissa finished speaking, she stood up and walked upstairs with a gloomy expression. Sherly looked at her mother's back with an unhappy expression. She was furious. Her mother had always looked down on her designs. And now her mother even wanted to hunt for a husband for her. If it was a man like Frank, she would say yes without hesitation. She looked at her mother, who was about to disappear at the entrance of the stairs, and smiled. "Mom, if you want me to marry someone, it must be Frank." When Julissa heard this, she stopped. She turned around and looked at Sherly with a strange smile. "Sherly, aren't you working at his company right now? You should understand you have an edge over many women, right?"

"But you can't be like this anymore. You have to learn to be smarter. Ann is also in the company. With her here, I only hope you don't suffer." After Julissa finished speaking, she turned around and went upstairs. Looking at the dark room, she felt down. Scott would not come back tonight. Frank, Judith, and Lucas had finished the dinner. Frank didn't drive them home as he had something to do. This was exactly what Judith wanted. They decided to go back on foot to help to digest. They walked hand in hand on the sidewalk. Under the neon light, their shadows looked long. Judith smiled gently and asked, "Lucas, have you had fun today?" "Yes!" Lucas nodded. He did have a good time today. "That's great!" Judith looked at the smile on his little face and smiled back. In the end, she still could not replace their father and give them a complete home.
