

Love At First Night Chapter 241 – 245

Chapter 241

This was what she felt guilty for her kids the most.

Judith was very upset! Lucas thought for a while and asked, “Mom, are you happy? Why do I feel that you’re very nervous when you see Frank?” Judith forced a smile. “Lucas, no. Why would I be nervous?” Judith thought about it and found that she was indeed very nervous. But she only felt so when the moment she saw him. After an exchange of a few words, her nervousness completely disappeared. Lucas thought about it and asked, “Mom, have you met Frank before?” Judith shook her head. “Lucas, why? I knew him after we came back. I don’t think I’ve seen him before.” Judith thought about it and was sure that she had never seen Frank before. Lucas smiled and didn’t ask any questions. Didn’t her mother find out that they looked very similar to Frank? Lucas thought, “You’re really silly, Mom. You only think about raising us up but never think about yourself.” The air was a little stuffy. Judith glanced at the heavy night sky and smiled faintly. “Lucas, let’s be faster. It’s going to rain.” “Okay, Mom!” Lucas smiled happily. They quickened their steps. But it started to rain when they just walked ahead a little further. “Mom, run. Let’s go to the bus stop.” Lucas looked back at her mother with a smile and pulled her to the bus stop. Judith smiled and followed him. Suddenly, something heartbreaking occurred to her. She suddenly slowed down. She turned around, looked around, and stare into the familiar sky. It looked like this too the night when she was chased out of the Cooper’s by Julissa. At that time, she was nine, with both curiosity and hate for the world.

She walked in the heavy rain as she couldn’t go to the shops or the cafes. The bus stop by the roadside was the only place she could stay. The bus stop at that time was not that good. It was simple, but enough to protect her from the wind and rain. Later, Scott took her back when she drove past the stop. At this moment, a little girl in a yellow dress ran past her. She was alone. Her expression showed that she hated everything in the world. She looked similar to the lonely and helpless Judith back then! Judith fixed on the little girl and felt sorry for her while reflecting on the past. Judith grew up along with ridicule and bullying from others. Especially Sherly, she took pleasure in bullying Judith. Judith bit her lower lip, suppressing the hatred in her heart, which made her feel somewhat uncomfortable. Lucas found something was wrong with her and pulled her hand, “Mom, what happened? Are you feeling unwell?” Judith came back to her senses when hearing his voice. She lowered her head and looked at Lucas’s worried face. Then she gave him a guilty smile. She should not have shown such negative emotions to him. She blinked slightly, restrained her emotions, and said with a smile, “Lucas, I’m fine. The rain is very heavy. Let’s stay here to get out of the rain now.”

“Alright!” Lucas narrowed his eyes. He did not believe what Judith said at all. Her mood fluctuated greatly when Judith came here. It was a sudden rain and many people did not bring umbrellas with them. Now many of them were looking for a shelter. Judith found everything was noisy, including the dropping rain.

Chapter 242

The rainy night reminded her of many bad things. She looked at the surrounding shops, her eyes cold. Suddenly she spotted a familiar figure when her eyes swept across the coffee shop behind the stop. Judith thought she had seen wrong, so she took a few more steps. Sure enough, it was someone she knew. Inside the coffee shop, that man was sitting with a young and beautiful woman, with a little boy of eight or nine years old sitting beside them.

Judith frowned slightly. Could it be... She quickly took out her phone and took a few photos. She zoomed in and found they were not very clear because of the rain. She frowned. No, this was a good opportunity. She lowered her head and glanced at Lucas, saying, “Lucas, the rain won’t stop for now. Why don’t you go and buy a cup of coffee with me?” “Coffee?” Lucas looked at his mother in confusion. When Judith took the photo, he saw that there was someone she knew in the coffee shop. He nodded, “Okay, Mom, I want some ice cream!” Judith smiled and nodded. “Good! Lucas, you finally like ice cream.” Judith smiled and glanced at the coffee shop. It was not far away from the station. She covered her son’s head with her hands and rushed to the coffee shop. Judith had already found the best seat for her. As soon as she entered the coffee shop, she pulled her son to sit diagonally opposite the family of three. Now a waiter came over. Judith smiled and ordered a cup of coffee and the ice cream Lucas wanted. After the waiter left, she casually raised her phone. Then she took a picture of the family of three. She made an excuse that she needed to go to the bathroom and took a picture of them again. Judith zoomed in on the picture of the little boy. When she saw it, she was shocked. How could they be so similar? Could it really be as she had guessed? Judith glanced at the three again. The woman was dressed seductively and charmingly. She leaned into the man’s embrace, very happy. Judith looked around and found there were many customers in the coffee shop. So they would not notice her. She pursed her lips and moved closer to the three.

“Dad, buy me a fantasy ninja puzzle when you come back next week. There is a nouveau riche in our class and he has different versions every day. He tries to show off.” The word “dad” shocked Judith. She quickened her pace and returned to her seat. She found that Lucas didn’t eat ice cream at all and her eyes flashed. Lucas did not like ice cream. So perhaps he agreed to come just because he had seen her actions just now. “Lucas, is the ice cream bad?” She deliberately asked with a smile. Lucas smiled and said, “Mom, Emily is the only ice cream lover in our family. She can eat three scoops at a time.” “Yeah!” Judith smiled and nodded. She picked up her coffee and took a sip gracefully. She smiled faintly. With her thick and curly eyelashes, enchanting eyes, and sparkling and tender lips, she would attract attention wherever she was. She looked outside and saw that the rain was slowing. Even the weather was helping her. "Mom, what are you looking at?" Lucas asked curiously. He found that Judith's eyes were fixed on the family of three by the window. Judith slowly withdrew her gaze and said with a smile, "Lucas, I'm very happy today! Really!"

Chapter 243

Judith looked energetic and lively from the bottom to the top, her eyes bright and clear. Now she was smiling at her son Lucas narrowed his eyes, which were bright and shiny. "That's great," he said. He rarely saw Judith like this. When Judith was happy, she was bright and beautiful, which was pleasing to the eye. "Lucas, the rain stopped. Let's go home." Judith put down the cup and smiled. "Alright!" Lucas stood up and glanced at the family of three. When Judith went to the restroom, he also secretly took a photo. He curled his lips into a smile and followed Judith out. Nothing unusual had happened this night...

The next day, Judith took Lucas to the new home. Adam was a man quick in manner, so soon he helped go through all the procedures. They could start the renovation. Judith checked her deposit in the bank and found it was just enough to pay for the house. Knowing that she didn't need to loan, Judith felt overjoyed, as if she bought the house for free. Adam and Lucas had never seen her so happy before. Judith really felt it was like a windfall. But Frank was not happy at all, but very depressed for a day. Because there was no excuse for him to see Judith and Lucas since he had spent a day with them yesterday. The most infuriating part was Gary was actually not at home when he came back. So he got no one to share that good news.

Frank was lying on the sofa, staring at Judith's Line. Her profile was a smiling minion. He spent the whole day browsing through Judith's updates and their chat records. It wasn't until five o'clock that Gary returned with the takeout. Frank glanced at him and quickly sat up from the sofa. He looked darkly at Gary and asked, "Gary, where have you been last night?" Gary rolled his eyes at him and said with dissatisfaction, "Frank, I'm just staying at your house temporarily. I don't want to spend the rest of my life with you. I need to visit my parents on the weekend, okay?" As Gary spoke, he put the food on the table and said, "You're already a grow-up, but I still have to offer you meals."

Although Gary complained, he still put the dishes on the table. Frank watched him do this. Then instantly he forgot all unhappiness when he recalled what happened yesterday He said with a smile, "Gary, good news. I had a good day yesterday. Lucas was communicative." Gary stopped holding his chopsticks and cast a glance at Frank. He threw his chopsticks on the coffee table and said helplessly, "Frank, are you deliberately showing off in front of me? "You show off your affection in front of me every day. "But I've been running around for you. Now I'm almost exhausted. Now that the real Judy has returned, you're happy. "No, I will also try to get drunk one day and see if I am as lucky as you.” Frank furrowed at his words. His deep gaze glared at Gary, his face cold. His tone was cold and hard. “Gary, you better not copy that, or you’ll suffer.” He was not as handsome as Frank, okay? Frank was proud of himself! “Come on! Are you the only one who can do this? You selfish man!” Gary glared at him.

“You selfish man!” Frank roared. Gary’s face was cold and he did not say anything. He just stared at Frank.

Chapter 244

Frank took a deep breath, pursed his lips slightly, and tapped the table with his slender fingers. He roared, “Gary, do you have to make me angry every time? I just want to share with you the happy thing between my son and me.” “No...” Gary cried out in shock as he stared at Frank. Frank looked at him even more darkly. After a long while, he stammered, “Frank... Frank, you clearly know that I am jealous. Do you have to show off in front of me? “My mother spent the entire afternoon nagging about my marriage when I went back. I couldn’t hold it anymore!” Frank smiled with a glare and pride. “You weirdo! Why are you so lucky? Why do you have such a happy life?” Gary muttered in disbelief. Frank giggled happily. In his life, when misfortune came, it also brought good things for him. Looking at Gary’s envious eyes, Frank felt a burst of pride in his heart. Finally he could also show off in front of Gary Gary had never seen such a happy Frank before. He was overjoyed these days. Gary looked at Frank and gave him a strange laugh, squinting at Frank from the corner of his eyes. “Frank, this is the first time I’ve seen you so happy. Just laugh, but...” “But what?” Frank’s tone was not that happy, as he felt that Gary’s following words would dampen his good mood. Gary smiled evilly and said, “No matter how close you were with Judith, you were separated for eighteen years. Besides, in the past seven years, a man always stayed by her side when she was in the most difficult time.” Frank’s eyes flashed, knowing that Gary was talking about Adam. “Judy won’t be with Adam.” His tone was faint, but also firm. He believed that Judy only treated Adam as a friend.

He could see this. His thin lips were tightly pursed and his edges were cold and hard. But sometimes feelings were strange. Besides, he would not allow that to happen. He was the kids’ father and Judy could only be his. Gary nodded and said, “Frank, I hope that as you wish. But from now on, you must treat Judith well. After all, feelings can change.” Gary straightened his body slightly and handed Frank the chopsticks. He said, “Frank, you eat first! Judith is by your side, so no one can take her away!” Frank glanced at him, took the chopsticks, and started eating slowly. He felt not that happy now. Gary narrowed his eyes and looked at Frank. It was really worrying. When Frank couldn’t find Judy, he was worried. But he now he was more worried after finding her. The world was full of pain, deception, and betrayal, which were what Frank feared the most. “We come at the right time. You are both at home.” Patrick opened the door and came in, smiling like a playboy Edwin followed behind him. Edwin was dressed in white casual clothes, radiant, and he rarely spoke. But his three good friends would understand him from his glance or movement. Gary raised his eyebrows and looked at the two of them.

“Why are you here? And it’s two of you?” “It is the weekend today. I finally finished my work. So I bring delicious things to see the two of you. What? You don’t want this?” Patrick raised his eyebrows and looked at Gary with an expression, as if saying that he would go home if they didn’t want this.

Chapter 245

He felt that his three bros didn’t like him now. They were very unhappy to see him. He didn’t know how he had offended them. He felt like he was about to be isolated!

He almost wanted to cry. “Alright, alright. I didn’t eat much at home, and Frank just had dinner.” Gary shifted his seat to let the two of them sit down. Frank gave the two a faint look, still silent. He continued his dinner. He did not eat much in the morning! When he was in a bad mood, he wouldn’t feel hungry! Patrick glanced at Frank, took out all the takeaway barbecue, and put them on the table. Frank shared with them without hesitation. Gary got up and got each of them some beer from the fridge.

The four of them would be together on the weekend and chat. Edwin raised his head and drank a mouthful of beer. Then he put the can on the table and looked at Frank casually

He found that Frank seemed unhappy. So he smiled and said, “Frank, I met Judith at the mall yesterday. Mrs. Chaney and Ann were bullying her.” Frank paused for a while and looked at him. “Yesterday?” “Yes!” Edwin nodded. Frank narrowed his eyes. No wonder he found that Judy spent a long time in the restroom. “For what?” His tone was low, cold, and his eyes were narrowed. He thought, “Mrs. Chaney, you gave up on Judy first.” However, for the sake of Judy’s safety, he could not tell them the truth now! Edwin recounted what had happened. After that, Gary smiled, “It seems that Judith is not someone to be bullied.”

He glanced at Frank. If Mrs. Chaney knew that she insulted her own daughter, would she regret it?

However, for the sake of Judy’s safety, they couldn’t tell Marilyn the truth. Edwin smiled “I have the honor of seeing the whole story. Judith is quite interesting.” Frank suddenly looked at him with his black eyes. Edwin rarely smiled, but he smiled so gently because of Judy Gary asked in amusement, “Edwin, are you interested in Judy?” Frank’s entire body tensed up as he listened intently. Patrick also joked, “Edwin, you’re rarely interested in a girl. Judith not only has beauty. She leaves the impression that she is innocent and great.” Frank’s face became more and more gloomy. “Yeah, I’m quite interested.” Edwin elegantly curved the corners of his lips and lowered his head to continue the food. Gary’s heart skipped a beat. When Edwin was interested in a girl, it meant that he had developed feelings for her. He quickly glanced at Frank and pursed his lips in fear when seeing Frank’s increasingly gloomy face. With a blabbermouth like Patrick here, who knew what shocking words he would say? Gary felt the atmosphere become cold and dull. But Patrick did not feel anything wrong. He put on a strange smile and looked at Edwin's face. "Edwin, I've never heard of any girl you've been interested in since you were young. So it seems Judith is charming! You must work hard."

"I won't consider it now," Edwin responded casually and lowered his head to eat. Patrick had always been a carefree person. With a good family background, he enjoyed a good life without any worries. Being gossipy was his only shortcoming.
