

Love At First Night Chapter 296 – 305

Chapter 296

“Judy, how could you say so? I am yours now. You have to bring me wherever you go.” After Frank finished speaking, he pointed at his lips. The wound on his lips and the slight pain it caused proved that he was not dreaming. Thinking of this, Frank couldn’t help but smile happily. “You...” Judith was startled by his words. “Frank, have you gone mad? Why do you keep saying silly things? You said you were mine. Do you mean that all your wealth is also mine?” She did not believe that he was so generous. “Sure. Judy. If you like it, I’ll ask the lawyer to transfer all my property to you. In the future, you will be in charge of the finance of our family.” Frank said happily. If Judy was willing to hold the purse strings, they would only get richer! Judith instantly felt that she was shooting herself in the foot. “Forget it. You’d better leave that opportunity to others.” After Judith finished speaking, she looked out of the window. A cool breeze blew, and her beautiful hair fluttered. The sunshine hit her face, making her even more fresh and refined. Frank glanced at her and smiled gently. He would lure her with tenderness and gentleness, like boiling a frog in warm water. He didn’t want anything else but her. The two of them didn’t say another word on the way back to the company. Edwin had asked Myla to leave. When Edwin looked up, he saw the wound on Frank’s lips. He could not help but ask, “Frank, what’s wrong with your mouth?” When Frank heard the question, he glanced at Judith, who was beside him, and said with a charming voice, “I’m fine. I was bitten by a little cat.” When Judith heard this, she instantly lowered her head and turned to leave. Bastard! This shameless bastard! Edwin glanced at Frank and asked seriously, “Frank, do you think you are going too fast? What if she has a husband?” Frank smiled. Looking at the sudden change in Edwin’s expression, Frank instantly felt that he had just made a good decision. “Edwin, you don’t have to worry about this.” Frank stepped into his office. The only “husband” Judy had was him. He had found out what had happened seven years ago. He knew that Jodie was Judy, and she was the woman who had been with him seven years ago. Also, Eric and Lucas were his kids! He couldn’t be happier! “Thank God for giving me such a miracle.” Frank suddenly looked back at Edwin, who was still looking at Frank, and said, “Edwin, find someone trustworthy to be Ms. White’s assistant.” “Alright!” Edwin nodded. Then, Edwin turned around and frowned slightly with a heavy heart. A saying suddenly echoed in his mind, “You’ll find out how difficult it is when you try to let it go.” “Frank and Judith...”

Chapter 297

When it was time for lunch, Judith directly went to the eleventh floor to find Alissa and Eric, and then took them to eat. There were many good restaurants near the company, selling the specialties of Mayfield, and many food bloggers would come over to taste them. Judith heard this from colleagues when she ate in the canteen. “Alissa, Eric, today’s shooting ends at five too?” Judith asked. “Yes! We’ve taken a few looks today. The makeup artists and photographers like Eric very much. Eric did a very good job.” Alissa looked at Eric happily. This little fellow had always been great. “Eric, are you tired?” Judith held Eric's little hand. Eric shook his head. "Mom, I'm not tired." He couldn't tell Judith that he was tired. In fact, it was indeed quite tiring because he had to change clothes frequently. It was even more tiring during the shooting. However, no matter how tired he was, he had to work hard, because his mother was also working hard. He knew that no matter how tired Judith was, she would not say it in front of him and Lucas. Alissa smiled and said, "Judy, this kid loves you so much. Even if he is tired, he won't say so in front of you." Eric smiled. Alissa knew him very well. The three of them walked into the restaurant as they talked. After getting into the restaurant, Alissa said, "Judy, have a seat and take the order first. I need to use the bathroom." "Alright! We'll sit over there." Judith pointed to a seat by the window. "Alright, I'll be there in a moment!" Alissa left with a smile. Judith walked over with Eric, but what made Judith curious was that even though it was dinner time, there was no one in the restaurant. Could it be... Just as Judith was thinking about this, she heard Frank's voice from behind her. "Judy, Eric!" Judith stopped. Damn it, why was Frank here? She saw Frank in his office when she left! Did she have an illusion? She curled up her toes in embarrassment. She did not want to see Frank today! But why would she meet him here?! Judith took a deep breath to ease her emotions. She turned around and put on a smile. "Mr. Taylor, I didn't expect to see you here. Are you here for business? If so, we won't disturb you. We'll sit over there." After Judith finished speaking, she pulled Eric, who was about to greet Frank, to the other side. Frank was somewhat annoyed by Judith's reaction. She was trying to avoid him! Good! Very good! "Judy, you will never be able to escape from me!" Frank said to himself. He got up and walked over. If she didn't want to come over, he could go over. Anyway, he was extremely thick-skinned. "Hello, Frank!" Eric looked at Frank who followed them and greeted him. "Hello, Eric." Frank sat down by Eric's side. His gaze was gleaming as he looked seductively at Judith. Looking at her rosy red lips, he suddenly remembered the kiss and smiled a bigger smile. Judith bit her lips hard, containing the anger in her heart. She smiled and said, "Mr. Taylor, you are here for business. We don't want to disturb you." Frank looked at her big eyes and slowly shook his head, "Judy, I'm not here for business. I'm here to eat. Coincidentally, I met you guys. Let's eat together!" After saying that, Frank called the waiter to take an order.

Chapter 298

Judith did not believe him. She smiled coldly, "What a coincidence." Judith's aloofness didn't irritate Frank. Frank had exclusively booked the restaurant because he knew that the three of them would come here to eat. Judy had been a little foodie as a child. She was still one even though she had grown up. Sure enough, one's personality and preferences tended to stay the same. "Judy, it is my privilege to have participated in your past. I hope that I'm lucky enough to take part in your future!" Frank said in his heart. Frank's flashing eyes reminded Judith of that kiss. She blushed immediately. The waiter served water. Judith picked up the teacup and poured a cup for Eric before unwillingly pouring a cup for Frank. "Eric, if you are tired, you can rest on my shoulder for a while." Judith smiled and gently rubbed Eric's head. Eric was now the little breadwinner of their family. Eric blinked his big bright eyes and said, "Mom, I'm not tired!" Suddenly, Eric's phone vibrated. It was Lucas calling. He picked up the phone. "Hello! Lucas." "Eric, are you with Mom?" "Yes! I am with Mom, Frank, and Alissa. We are eating." "Is Mom okay?" Lucas asked worriedly. The launch of the Gita Group was stopped, but he was still worried. He remembered that Eric was at the Taylor Group, so he decided to make a call and make sure everything was okay. Eric looked at his mother puzzledly and said, "Lucas, Mom is fine. You don't have to worry." "That's good! I'm hanging up." Lucas happily hung up. He quickly ran to the refrigerator, took out all the delicious dishes, and placed them in the microwave to heat them up. He was starving! "Yay!!" Lucas made a victory gesture excitedly. He was happier than ever to be able to help his mother. Eric hung up the phone, but he was very confused. He lowered his head and thought, "why is Lucas worried about mother?" Last night, Lucas had been busy with his laptop. As for what he had been doing, Eric really had no idea. "Eric, what are you thinking about?" Frank asked with a smile. Eric looked up and smiled. "I am thinking about how to deal with the problems I had when I was shooting today so as to improve myself." Eric found an excuse. "Eric, it's fine. Take your time. You are so cute and handsome. Everyone likes you." Frank said as he looked at Eric's shining eyes. At this time, Judith was looking down at her phone, and she did not pay much attention to what Frank said. Judith had no intention of finding the children's father, so she would never bother to compare Eric's appearance to Frank's.

At the bathroom door, Gary, who had come with Frank, also came to the bathroom, As soon as he came out, he saw the woman he had always wanted to see, Alissa. She was wearing a tight red skirt and looked quite charming. Alissa didn't see Gary with her head lowered. Gary looked at Alissa excitedly and wanted to greet her. Alissa suddenly slipped. She exclaimed Gary quickly held her. Alissa thought that she would fall to the ground hard, but she fell into a strong pair of arms. She raised her eyes and suddenly saw a magnified handsome face. When she saw that it was Gary, she instantly became embarrassed. She blushed slightly, making her cheeks rosy. Gary looked at her beautiful face and swallowed. He knew that Alissa was beautiful, but he didn't expect her to be even more beautiful at such a close look! His heart thumped. He smiled nervously. "Ms. Haywood, are you alright?" Alissa quickly recovered herself and left Gary's embrace with a red face, "I'm fine!" She lowered her head and ran a hand through her hair. "Thank you for just now!" The moment Alissa lowered her head, she managed to restrain her emotions. *That's good!" Gary gave a gentle smile. What a pity that such a beauty, such a capable woman had been taken. However... Gary wanted to give it a try. He liked this woman. He never believed in love at first sight, but since he met Alissa, he believed it. "Is Ms. Haywood also here for dinner?" In fact, he and Frank were here because they knew that Judith, Eric, and Alissa would be here. "Yes! What a coincidence!" Alissa smiled charmingly, Alissa was born with a foxy temperament. Her every move was seductive and sexy. But she was clearly a thorny rose. People would have to risk being hurt if they wanted to pick this flower. Gary smiled and said, "Ms. Haywood, how about having lunch together?" After saying that, he winked at Alissa. Looking at his eyes, Alissa frowned and narrowed her eyes. But she did not say anything and calmly walked out. At the table, Frank was sitting there comfortably and drinking tea. He chatted happily with Eric. When Eric saw Frank's face, he unconsciously thought of his father! Frank raised his eyes and saw Gary and Alissa walking over. He could not help but smile. "Gary is falling for Alissal" Frank thought to himself. How nice! This bachelor indeed had to find himself someone. However... Frank looked at Judith with a meaningful gaze. He was the first one among the four of them to find a mate. When Alissa saw Frank, she was also puzzled! Why were Frank and Gary here?

She looked around and saw that there were no other people. It seemed that someone had reserved the whole restaurant. "Alissa, the dishes are all served. Come and eat." Eric shouted. "I'm coming!" Alissa smiled and walked over. It was a long table. Frank, Eric, and Judith were sitting on the same side, so she walked over to sit opposite them. Gary sat down next to Alissa. Gary looked happily at Judith and Alissa and said, "Ms. White, what a coincidence. Since all the dishes are served, let's eat!" After saying that, he looked at Eric, who was smiling cheerfully. "Eric, our little star, shall we?" "Thank you!" Eric smiled and picked up his knife and fork. In order to be more efficient, he hadn't eaten anything other than drinking some water this morning. During the shooting, he had been focused on thinking about different poses, which was pretty exhausting. He was now hungry and tired. "Eric, the fried pork ribs here are especially delicious! Have a try." Frank picked up a piece of pork ribs and placed it in Eric's bowl.

Chapter 300

"Thank you, Frank!" Eric looked at Frank and smiled. Eric had met Frank a few times and he felt that Frank was too kind and good to him. Eric thought, "I should discuss with Lucas tonight about looking for Dad. Since we are now in Mayfield, we should try to find Dad even though Mom has never mentioned him." Alissa cut in, "Eric, you can't eat anything too salty. Otherwise, you'll need to drink a lot of water later and go to the toilet frequently. You can have it for dinner." "Okay." Eric put the rib he was about to eat in Judith's bowl. When Frank saw this, he frowned. He looked at Alissa and said, "Ms. Haywood, there's no hurry for shooting..." Alissa interrupted him with a smile. "Mr. Taylor, you may not be in a hurry. But we are. Eric still has a movie to film." If Judith had not refused her help and insisted on earning her own money to buy the house, she would not have signed the contract with Frank. Eric was still a child, and it was really tiring to commute back and forth. Frank looked at Eric and felt bad about watching Eric work so hard. Judith glanced at Alissa and lowered her head, feeling ashamed and guilty. Judith put some light food in Eric's bowl, "Eric, dear, you eat!" "Okay!" Eric smiled and nodded. He lowered his head and ate his food quietly. Eric was so well-behaved. So much so that Judith felt distressed. Frank looked at Judith and Eric, feeling quite bitter. Gary glanced at Frank and knew what he was thinking. However, the fuss they had made at the Gita Group would make Gina hate Frank even more. He looked at Judith and Gary, feeling sorry for them. They were supposed to be the richest and happiest people among all the people he knew. But now, both of them were living a very painful life. Frank's family was fragmented, and Judith couldn't return to her own home.

Alas!!

Destiny was so cruel! They had been separated for so many years! If Jodie and Frank could grow up together, if Jodie had never left the Chaney family, Frank would definitely marry her and they would live a happy life together. After all, back then, no one cared about Frank's feelings, even though he had lost his mother and sister all of a sudden. But Jodie knew that Frank was unhappy. She would keep him company and cheer him up. Jodie was the only one who had shown Frank any warmth. The five of them all had different thoughts during lunch, and Frank was in the most solemn mood. In order to lighten the atmosphere, Gary had always been looking for topics to talk about with Alissa. And the two of them actually noticed that they were hitting it off. “Mr. Powell...”

“Ms. Haywood, from now on, we will be working in the same company. Don’t call me Mr. Powell. Just call me Gary!” Gary smiled and interrupted Alissa. Alissa smiled and coasted along. As a manager, building relationships with people of all levels was exactly what she wanted. She did not stand on ceremony. She smiled and said, “Then Mr. Powell, you can just call me Alissa!” Gary looked at her with a smile and a playful expression. “Alissa, you just called me Mr. Powell again.” As Gary spoke, he took out his phone and handed it to Alissa. “Alissa, for more convenient communication of our work in the future, let’s befriend on Line!”

Chapter 301

Judith looked at Gary and could tell that he was into Alissa. “Okay!” Alissa also took out her phone and the two of them befriended each other on Line. Gary was so happy that he almost jumped up. He tried so hard to suppress the joy in his heart. To Gary, Alissa was basically his goddess! He then changed Alissa’s remark on Line into “Alice”. He couldn’t wait to go through Alissa’s Timeline and see what his so-called boyfriend looked like. But he resisted the urge since they were still having lunch. Gary looked at Alissa and asked with a smile, “Alissa, aren’t you planning to go back to Mayfield? You can have much more opportunities in Mayfield than in Kimshire.” Alissa suddenly glanced at Judith and smiled. “Maybe.” Her answer made Gary inexplicably excited. If she could go back to Mayfield, he would have more chances to ask her out! “It’s good. After all, Mayfield is the largest city in Acean. Eric can develop better in Mayfield.” Frank suddenly said. He also hoped that Eric and he could be in the same city so that he could take care of the children together with Judy. Alissa suddenly looked at Frank with a meaningful smile. She remembered that Frank had always been indifferent and cold. She asked playfully, “Mr. Taylor, you seem to be very concerned about Eric.” However... Alissa suddenly noticed something. Eric looked somewhat like Frank. Even Judith did not know who the father of the three kids was. Subconsciously, Judith did not want to find the children’s father at all. Alissa had always liked this kind and strong girl. Frank smiled elegantly and his gaze landed on Alissa’s face. He said, “Ms. Haywood, both Judy and Eric can bring great benefits to the Taylor Group. Of course, I am very concerned about them.” “As expected of a profiteer. If that’s what Mr. Taylor is thinking about then I don’t mind taking Eric back to Mayfield. After all, the environment here is good. There is no doubt about this.” When Judith heard this, she smiled excitedly and asked, “Alissa, are you really willing to go back to Mayfield? What about Mr. Weston?” Edward Weston was Alissa’s boyfriend and had a place in Kimshire. He had been in a relationship with Alissa for three years. Alissa narrowed her eyes and smiled at Judith. “Judy, you are innocent, so I am always worried about you. You are easily deceived. I don’t know what will happen to Edward and me in the future. Besides, he also has business in Mayfield. He is in Mayfield recently.” After saying that, Alissa glanced at Frank strangely. Frank was also looking at her calmly. He knew that Alissa was referring to him. But even so, Alissa could not stop him from winning Judy’s heart. Judith smiled resignedly. Why did they always treat her as an innocent girl? She wasn’t innocent at all. She smiled and said, “Alissa, don’t always think of me as naïve and innocent, okay?” Judith was a little embarrassed in front of Frank and Gary. "Okay, okay. Our Judy is as cute as Eric." As Alissa spoke, she looked at Eric and saw that Eric was a little drowsy as he leaned on Judith. She looked at Eric lovingly. She would definitely do her best to make Eric the most popular child star!

Chapter 302

Judith glanced at Eric and touched his head. She checked the time and said, "Time to go. I still have work to do." She got up and picked up Eric. She wanted him to have some sleep on the way back. Frank quickly said, "Judy, let me carry him, please. You'll get tired." "I'm fine." Judith refused and walked out with Eric in her arms. She was not tired at all. She felt very happy when holding Eric. Frank looked at Judith's slender back. She looked fragile, but she walked fast in her high heels. Frank felt pain. He stared at Judith as she was gradually disappearing into the distance. He thought, "Judy, please wait for me. It will end soon." Alissa glanced at Frank. Her suspicion was growing bigger and bigger. "Alissa, let's go!" Noticing Alissa's expression, Gary reminded her in a slightly raised voice. "Oh, okay!" Alissa regained her senses and walked out. Frank was one step faster than Gary and Alissa. His gaze fell directly on Judith and Eric. Eric was really tired. He hugged Judith's neck and slept soundly. Judith was indeed struggling to carry Eric in her high heels. But she gritted her teeth and endured it. Life was always difficult for them. Sometimes Eric had to film the same advertisement over and over again. She felt very sorry for him. Judith gently patted Eric's back with a smile. Suddenly, her face darkened as she saw Marilyn, Ann and Sherly standing in front of her. They all looked at Judith with a strange look. Marilyn walked toward Judith with a strange smile. Judith pursed her lips and slowed down. Marilyn's gorgeous peach red suit and pure pearl necklace made her look noble and elegant. But she stared at Judith, full of contempt. She stopped in front of Judith. Ann and Sherly stood behind her. Marilyn mocked, "Are you bringing your son to gain sympathy now?" Frank had quickly stepped forward and heard Marilyn's words. He put on a cold look. Gary shook his head resignedly. Why did Marilyn find Judith an eyesore? Marilyn had been looking for her daughter for more than ten years. How could she not know that Judith was her daughter? Afraid that Marilyn would do harm to Judith, Alissa quickened her pace. "Marilyn, what do you mean?" Judith looked at Marilyn coldly. "Well," Marilyn glanced at the child in Judith's arms, "why do you have to take your child with you when you seduce Frank?" "Mrs. Chaney, shut up." Frank stood behind Judith and glared at Marilyn. Marilyn looked at Frank with a frown and said earnestly, "Frank, listen to me. Judith doesn't know how to behave. She has a child out of wedlock, and now she wants to seduce you..." "Shut up!" Frank shouted and clenched his fists. People around him felt terrified.

Chapter 303

Judith covered Eric's ears when Marilyn spoke. But Eric had woken up and heard Marilyn's words clearly. He tried to look up, but Judith stopped him. Eric could feel Judith trembling. His heart ached. Judith glared at Marilyn and pursed her lips. The pain in her heart grew. Nobody had said such words to her. Frank looked at Marilyn coldly. "Mrs. Chaney, you are also a mother. How can you say such hurtful words? It's not what you think." Eric turned red from anger. Seeing this, Frank felt great pain. Eric was trying his best to protect his mother. Under Ann's malicious remarks, Marilyn had a bad impression of Judith. Marilyn sneered, "Frank, what did Judith do to you? Before Judith, you had some affection for Ann. But after Judith appeared, you have become a totally different person. "Ann just told me that Judith had a child out of wedlock..." "What does it have to do with you?" Judith suddenly interrupted Marilyn with a cold smile. She felt a great pain deep down. But she managed to hide it away. Her aloof and cold appearance was her defense. Hearing Judith's words, Alissa held her words back. "Ridiculous..." Marilyn looked at Judith and smiled coldly. "Judith, you're so proud of yourself, aren't you?" – Judith smiled, "Mrs. Chaney, you've got me wrong. I'm just saying that it's none of your business. Don't try to judge me." No one should casually judge others' life.. When she decided to have children, she was not afraid of others' malicious words. If she couldn't even stand such words, how could she protect her children? "I am not trying to judge you. But I can't let you ruin Frank's life. He has to marry Ann..." "Mrs. Chaney, I've never agreed to marry Ann. It was your idea. Judith has never ruined my life." Frank interrupted Marilyn and glanced coldly at Ann. "Mrs. Chaney, you've always wanted to control me." What did Ann tell Marilyn? Ann knew that Frank was investigating Judith, so she deliberately spoke ill of Judith in front of Marilyn. Marilyn looked at Frank in disbelief. "Frank, did you mean I was always controlling you?" Marilyn was concerned about Frank. Frank's mother had died, and he had a hard time living alone. Frank looked straight at Marilyn. "Yes, Mrs. Chaney. You shouldn't have done that. Don't just listen to only one side. Don't judge people when you don't know them."

Judith was Marilyn's daughter. How could Marilyn say such awful words? When Ann heard this, she felt humiliated.

All the time, Sherly was watching them quietly. She was happy to see Judith suffer.

Chapter 304

Myla had been kicked out of the Taylor Group today. Sherly had lost another helper. This was all because of Judith. Sherly hated Judith's guts. Judith did not drink mango juice. Sherly now suspected that Judith was from the Cooper family. She had a big surprise for Judith. Marilyn did not agree with Frank's words. In her heart, Frank was the best candidate for a son-in-law. She always thought that Judith had ruined her daughter's happiness. Ann said that Judith was pestering Frank. "Frank, you're a steady man. Don't be fooled by Judith." Marilyn glanced at Judith with disgust. Then she sneered, "Judith, Frank is too good for you. He won't marry someone like you." Eric could no longer stand it. He spoke before his mother could. He looked up at Marilyn with a smile, and his voice was soft and moving. "Madam, I know that you live a rich life. But what you lack is morality." When Marilyn saw Eric's handsome little face and his bright smile, she felt a sense of guilt. What had she just said in front of a child? She had been too impulsive just now. Judith looked at Eric with admiration. Eric had grown up, and he knew how to protect his mother. "Great, Eric. When you grow up, remember to respect people instead of hurting them." Alissa smiled and walked to Judith's side. She gently stroked Eric's head. "Mommy has always taught me to respect the old and cherish the young." Eric smiled back at Alissa, but there was some kind of bitterness behind it. Marilyn's face turned red. Ann sneered, "How can you say that, Eric? Judith, you really know how to educate children. He is not respecting the old. You guys are just being jealous." Ann knew this kind of people. They were poor, so they were jealous of rich people. They would do anything to become rich.

She had seen many of these dirty things. "Miss Chaney, don't blame me for what you didn't get." Judith sneered. "Well, suit yourself, I've got work to do." Judith held Eric and left. Ann felt humiliated. Judith walked fast. Ever since she woke up seven years ago, she had warned herself that she would never surrender. If she fell, no one would help her. She had to help herself. Frank followed Judith without saying anything. Alissa walked to Marilyn's side. She was much taller than Marilyn. She looked at Marilyn and smiled coldly, "Mrs. Chaney, I know you're rich, but don't you dare to bully a single mother. Judith is kinder than any of you. "Do not judge a hard-working woman with bias. "Your straightforward words may hurt others. Marilyn, please save your words." Alissa said rudely. Then she left and went after Judith.

Chapter 305

Marilyn stood there in a daze. She had never received such great humiliation before. Gary looked at Marilyn with disappointment. Then he looked at Sherly and Ann coldly. "Interns, do you want to be late?" With that, he quickly left to chase after Alissa. He looked at Alissa's back. Thinking of what she had just said, he slightly smiled. Was Alissa a good woman? Gary was praying from the bottom of his heart. He wished that Alissa could love him back. Sherly smiled, "Mr. Powell, we'll go back to work now." She held Ann's hand. "Mom..." Ann looked at Marilyn worriedly. "Go to work. I'll go back and rest." Marilyn looked down and left. She didn't even look at Ann. Marilyn's staggering steps made Ann feel very upset. Ann knew Marilyn very well. Ann could not control Marilyn. And she could not control anyone in the Chaney family. Only Marilyn would listen to her. But Ann was not so important to Marilyn. In Marilyn's heart, Jodie was the most special one. Ann could never win Jodie. "Ann, hurry up. We will be scolded again if we are late." Sherly left. She was ready to watch a good show. Ann turned back with a gloomy look and left with Sherly. "Judy, are you alright?" Frank asked after following Judith for a long time. Eric had jumped out of Judith's arms and walked on his own. Judith and Eric chatted as they walked, hand in hand, completely unconcerned about what had just happened. Hearing Frank's words, Judith turned around and glanced at Frank. She shook her head with a smile, "Mr. Taylor, don't worry. I'm fine."

Judith could understand why Marilyn had done that to her. But Judith would never forgive Marilyn. Frank looked at Judith worriedly. He wanted to defend Marilyn, but he gave up.

He was reluctant to let Judy suffer anymore. Frank knew it in his heart. So he didn't explain anything to Judith. Frank took a step forward and said guiltily, "Judy, I'm sorry!" Judith shook her head. "Mr. Taylor, I'm really fine." She was smiling calmly. However, she still felt a little uncomfortable deep down. Perhaps she was thinking too much. Maybe if she could leave for a while, she would be able to get over it. People were not always good to others. When someone was indifferent to Judith, she could see the truth better. .
