Chapter 11: Do You Remember?

"I'm cumming...ahhh...ahhhh! Edward!" I threw my head back screaming his name as I reached my peak. My pussy was twitching non-stop around his tongue and I thrust my hips upwards towards his hot mouth. He hands cupped my buttocks lifting my ass up so he could suck harder just in time for when I squirted out my love juices into his awaiting mouth.

"Don't...eat it," I whispered softly in a daze.

"I play fair...you swallowed all of my seed so of course, I'll eat yours..." he answered after removing his face from between my legs licking his lips to show how he kept his promise. Play fair...my ass. If he was playing fair, we would not be here doing any of this.

He gently carried my limp body into the bathtub sitting me down between his legs with my back to him. The warmth of the water and his firm body behind me feels so relaxing. I was about to drift off to sleep again when I felt his hands fondling my breasts and squeezing their peaks. I moan automatically due to the stimulation while rolling my head from side to side to rest on his shoulders.

"I want to fuck you again, Natalia. Let me cum inside you over and over," Edward pleaded seductively into my ears as he bit my earlobes. He must know by now how sensitive I am there. He thrust two fingers inside my pleasure hole curling his fingers upwards inside to press hard against my G-spot as he shoved hard in and out of me. It feels amazing and I knew that I would cum again soon, the warm water rushing in together with his finger made my pussy even more sensitive.

"Enough...Edward...I'm going to cum again...soon," I pleaded for him to stop. We've been having sex all afternoon.

"Look into the mirror, Natalia. Your erotic face is literally begging me to fuck you. Keep your eyes on the mirror, I want you to see yourself as I fuck you."

Natalia's eyes went wide as she spotted our reflections in the mirror. Her face was flushed from pleasure and the heat of the water with legs spread wide and my fingers buried into her cave. Her breast jiggling as she drew rapid breaths was a very sexy sight. I removed my fingers and positioned her cunt hole on top of my cock before pulling her hips down while thrusting my hips up to meet her halfway, ramming my cock deep into her hot and slippery pussy hole. I grabbed her head to capture her lips in time to swallow her moan of pleasure into my mouth. I was learning about her reactions and I knew that she would cry out every time that I entered her. Her walls clenched around me so tightly as it worked to milk my cum right from my dick. It was hard to move inside of her due to her tightness even though she was slimy and wet from her juices. I moved my hips, thrusting wildly inside her as her pussy continued to suck me in deeper. My patience was wearing thin and I wanted to shoot my load into her very soon.

I could see the scene of our wild mating clearly in the mirror that was strategically placed so that I could see inside the tub as well. I looked like a sex slave, mad and wild for him, as he pumped his cock into my body. I could see clearly in the mirror where we were joined. His big dick thrusting in and then out of me again, burying his shaft into me all the way until his balls slapped against my opening. I watched as he fucked me, grinding our hips together to meet each other thrust halfway to ensure the deepest possible thrust. One hand grabbed my breast while his other reached into the water to stroke and pinch my clit. I bucked against him one last time as I came hard, giving myself over to him and his cock, yelling out his name at my release. If any one was around, I have just announced to them that Edward has fucked me royally.

His two hands clenched around my breast as he fucked me even faster using his last burst of energy to drive towards his own mind-blowing climax. I felt his balls contract against my opening and the rush of his hot semen being shot deep into my womb as he ejaculated.

My clothes were all a mess but since Edward took the initiative to buy me loads of clothes among other things beforehand there were many designer clothing I could freely pick from in the back seat of his car. After we both got dressed, he took my hand and quietly led me towards the lake. Strolling together on the lake bank, I could see that the sun was about to set dying the sky a beautiful mix of orange, pink and purple. We soon found a swing set and Edward gestured for me to take a seat. So, I did, feeling a little surprised as he sat in the one next to mine. Suddenly, I felt like we were kids on a date with our first love...the reality was much further from that.

"...Do you remember this place?" Edward asked hesitantly after a moment of silence passed between us.

"No. I've never been here," I replied without hesitation. I've never been here and frankly, I don't even know where this place is. It's just in the middle of nowhere.

"...I see," he replied without looking at me. There was something in his voice that I couldn't place. A mixture of disappointment, sadness...and perhaps, loneliness? I didn't have time to dwell on it since the sun has set. It was getting darker and darker. The trees and the forest around us were freaking my little-city-girl heart out. I was relief when Edward got up, grabbed my hand in his and dragged me towards the car.

"I'm sending you back home."

Natalia must be so tired from all the sex we had. After 5 minutes on the road she already fell asleep. I let her sleep, I guess I am to blame for dragging her out here...and fucking her non-stop like a wolf in heat. I don't know why I took her to that place. It's been around 10 years since I've last been there myself.

Did I really expect her to remember? ...and am I now disappointed because she doesn't?

vrrr...vrrr A text message?

"Where you are?...Bring her back."

Lucien...if he's texting me instead of calling his sweet daughter, he must be quite pissed.

"On the way back. You and I need to talk," I texted back.

I woke up when the car came to a stop. We've arrived? I guess I was so tired I slept the entire way. I looked out to see my familiar mansion and was relieved Edward did not take me somewhere else. I unbuckled my seat belt was reached for the door when my arm was pulled pulling my whole body backwards. Edward hugged me from behind kissing my hair. He turned my head back towards him and kissed my lips sweetly, at first, and then more passionately using his tongue. I moaned and panted into his mouth...no, we can't fuck again...please no.

"Goodnight, Natalia. Be a good girl and stay away from random men at night. Make sure you get on the pills. You took in a lot of my seed, you could become pregnant," he whispered lovingly as he looked into my eyes.

"ok..." I murmured not sure how to respond.

"Although, I wouldn't mind if you became pregnant. I'll gladly take the blame and responsibility for seducing you. After all, we're not actually related by blood so it wouldn't cause any real trouble. It wouldn't be so bad, right? I'm sure our son will look so much like your beloved Lucien since I do look so much like him," Edward said while giving me a seductive smile.

"I don't want your child," I spat and exited the car.

I instructed the maids waiting in front of the mansion door to grab all the stuff from Edward's car and headed directly to my room. I don't want to face Lucien while smelling like another man.

Edward met Lucien in his study.

“So, what do we need to talk about?” Lucien asked, the usual warmth in his voice gone.
