Chapter 16: Storage Room Desires

How do I fight him? He's much taller and stronger than I am. He was now dragging me deeper into the room.

Lacking any other creative ideas, I decided to bite his hand as hard as I could.

"Shit...Natalia!" my captor exclaimed in pain as I bit his hand hard although I am quite sure that I did not inflict life-threatening damages. Finally, the hand over my mouth and the one around my waist was removed.

I turned around fast in his arm just to come face to face with...Edward?!?

"Hi there, Natalia," he greeted me with a sheepish smile which made him look much younger.

"What do you think you're doing?...I have to go."

Bored of dealing with his nonsense, I tried to walk past him but he caught my arm before pulling me back into his arms.

His hot lips were instantly on mine as he held my head in his hand, kissing me hard. I was panting hard by the time our lips separated again. The mix of our saliva pouring out the corners of my mouth resulting from our savage kiss. One kiss melted my insides as my pussy throbbed with heat and wanting. He carried me in his strong arms carrying me deeper into the storage room navigating the maze of storage shelves. I didn't know there was a storage room here but I am sure various staff had access to this room and I started to feel nervous.

"The door doesn't lock from the inside...so anyone can walk in on us at anytime while we're getting it on in here. Better to keep your voice down, right?" Edward teased as he whispered into my ears. By this time, I was already quite convinced that he could read my mind. Shit. I guess no one needs a storage room that locks from the inside...

With my back now against the wall, Edward sucked my neck roughly as his hand unbuttoned my blouse to expose my lacy bra. He impatiently removed his white lab coat and his shirt as he continued to kiss me on the lips. I moaned with pleasure when his hand returned to fondle my breast then removed my blouse and bra completely to bare my upper body to him, our clothes falling down to the ground. The storage room was cold but our passion made us so hot as the room filled with out lustful moans and panting.

“Tell me what you want me to do to you, Natalia. Where do you want me to touch you?” Edward whispered his seductive questions into my ears. His ripped upper body bared before my hungry sights as I took in the firm beautiful muscles of his torso.

“Touch my breasts...suck my nipples...please,” I pleaded taking his hand and placing it on my right breast where he started squeezing me. I felt my nipples getting hard and erect instantly, waiting for more of his pleasurable touch. Although I hate to admit it, Edward was right, our bodies are very compatible.

His hands squeezed and teased my breasts, slowly at first, and then harder and faster as he groped and twisted them in his hands. I moaned out loud repeatedly as my mind was swamped with pleasure. His fingers pulled teasingly at both my nipples making me bite my lower lip and clench my lower abdomen. Each time he pinched my nipples tightly, I felt it deep inside my pussy causing my walls to clench. The warm fluids are flooding my love cave due to attention he was giving my tits. Zak had made me cum just from teasing my tits alone many times before and I am sure now that Edward has the same ability to do so.

“Ah...harder...harder please!” I begged him as he began sucking my right nipple. He rolled his tongue over the hard nub, sucking and then biting. It felt amazing...I could feel my climax building inside of me. I cradled his head closer to my breast urging him to suck harder as I thrust my chest forward rubbing my soft flesh in his face.

His hand wandered downwards before disappearing under my skirt to cup my wet arousal. My pussy twitched at the feel of his hand through the thin lacy fabric of my panties. I wanted him to touch me directly and I clenched my pussy in anticipation. He began stroking me through the fabric reminding me of the experience in the meeting room earlier today. I moaned even louder and thrust my hips towards his hand, tempting him to touch me more while he continued to suck hard on my nipple.

“Tell me what you want,” Edward prompted me. He was being extra mean today, asking me for what I wanted when he knew full well what I wanted.

“Finger me...hard! Edward, please...touch me directly. I want to cum...already,” I begged him in a sweet voice for my release. My heat gushing out from between my legs, my pussy ready to be fucked.

“As you wish, my slutty Princess,” he replied with a small laugh before removing my panties and screwing two of his thick fingers into my hot awaiting hole. I cried out in pleasure as I came...

“Did you just come from having two fingers inserted inside you? You’re such a naughty princess and I’ll fuck you like one,” Edward teased me with joy. His two fingers started thrusting in and out of me fast and hard as I had begged him. My pussy walls adjusted to take him in each time he pulled his fingers out just to thrust them in full-force inside me once again on repeat. My hips were moving on their own matching his thrusts with my own as my juices rolled down my inner thighs.

He took my hand and placed it against his throbbing hot pole, silently begging me to take care of him there. I wanted to feel his hot heat in my hands...and later my mouth so I quickly unbuckled his belt and unzipped him to grant freedom to his hard-standing cock. His shaft was already big and swollen with bulging veins running along its length, it looked very potent indeed. I clenched my pussy around his fingers as I remembered the feel of his cock inside of me from our previous sessions. I did not have any condom on me and it was obvious that Edward never carried around any. We were going to do it raw once again, I felt in heat as I looked forward to feeling his hot load shooting into me.

I began stroking his cock up and down, molding my hands around him and applying pressure to give him pleasure. He started moaning and panting in response to my stimulation, expressing his appreciation for my efforts. His fingers continued to fuck me as I pumped his cock fast, we kissed deeply as we prepared to move on to the main dish.

“Please stop...Edward, I want to cum together...please,” I begged him to stop before I came again. I wanted to cum together with him while he rammed his dick hard inside me. I don't want his fingers...

“Let me suck you...” I suggested wantonly as I got on my knees, kneeling in front of him. I looked straight into his beautiful green eyes as I grabbed his cock and started lapping at the head with my wet tongue. His cock twitched in my hands, I knew the small hole at his tip is extremely sensitive. I swirled my tongue around his tip repeatedly while my hands pumped up and down the length of his shaft. He started moaning and then groaning impatiently. His handsome face contorted with his lust for me made my heart beat faster.

The sight of Natalia submissively kneeling in front of him while sucking his cock was driving Edward insane. He wanted to ram his full length into her mouth and fuck her. Her tongue on his tip was hot, inviting and it made his body shiver with heat. He began moving his hips to thrust his rod against her tongue as she continued to tease him.
