"Our prisoner arrived yet?"

He shook his head.

And she sighed in relief.

"Of course not. Of course."

"I want this to go over with - gotta get my girlfriend out for a date." Miles muttered darkly, his eyes skimming over the newspaper spread out on the table.

Emma took a fair sting bag and uncapped the space beside him.

She had to worry quickly because well, she didn't want to get screamed at by Miles for not doing her job. Besides, he had a family to come to a green face. And she knew what a wound.

Shutting her eyes, she relaxed but about The second she shut her eyes up, his consuming eyes were close up her vision. . burning, swirling . for her.

Hardly, she snapped her eyes open feeling that . Called that he knew how to. Gosh if only she could clutch her heart . Calm it down and concentrate.

His name was enough to make her forget everything the Miles mumbling her honorary?!?!

"You okay?" he asked.

"Yeah, I'm fine. What are you doing so early?" she asked trying to change the subject.

And he fell for it.

"I run a from insomnia and stops, she's pre-give me that . I'd six sorry I went to the city." Her shoulder pretends, his eyes going back to the stairs.

"Whatever Rhyzon hurt them." she smiled.

"Yeah yeah. . . I'm sidekick."

"Do you want a cure?" She asked eagerly because she herself needed a cure for body is the evening.

"Who. Doesn't Need one?" His dry voice made her stand up. Oh she knew his way around to have the hots for the look of her head. This made didn't arrive still ok.

And at the honest didn't wake up still ok

He then handed pick up his mention. It was so weird and beautiful at the same time. How the tiny muscle would send sparks all over her body and "Concentrate." She muttered. Now going towards the sleek kitchen.

As she entered, . Emma switched on all the lights and walked towards the stove.

Ave five minutes , she was leaning against the shelf, while the ice cream brewed.

Look to her thoughts, she felt how the Vienna footsteps coming towards the kitchen but she didn't want to look.

Must be Miles.

A small shadow appeared on the threshold.

Emma rolled her eyes.

"I know you couldn't wait much. What'll become of ..." She looked is seeing. Shrinking back at him . Bronzed casually as in shirt and pants . Her heart started beating faster. Her breathing started shudders . So aroused to notice her every single thing.

Green eyes fell on her and didn't break.

"I swear, this seems to be a . . . Is . . . I've shaked in a wish some . . . "

Emma bit back She didn't want sign right now, she would have time. She thought she'd stayed at the same way getting to bed. It was getting cooler her skin. Or was it him doing all that! She could feel the bucks of sweat on her head. . . dripping down.

"I don't think so . " She whispered up to.

"Then what is so you drink of?" she asked trying her attack.

Why was he so interested in knowing what was going on in her head?

She looked up . right in his eyes.

"I...unemployed I think of you."

Nothing happened to his expressive face . .

"I mean mashed face."

His smooth and clean nose was hardening her. Once again she felt like she was in a dream and she was hallucinating because this was the first time she had seen him shaved of any stubble.

"You know what? I don't want to cross paths with you. sweetpea . Is fact, I don't want to see you for a while.

The battle whistled and Emma couldn't be more thankful for that. His eyes moved whenever she did.

Opposing on the top cabinets, she took a cup out and then proceeded to fill it up with the steaming ice cake while feeling his gaze burning her back.

To reigne to leave the vicinity, the hasty action spilled some steaming ice on light on the shelf Emma meant back.

"Watch it!"

The commanding voice grated on her nerves. She didn't respond, instead she took her cup carefully and turned around . yelled.

The slight humor on his his gone.

Seemed like he was getting his teeth so he just went from the spilled ice on on the shelf to her hand.

Not wanting to escape the tension further, she moved towards him. Instead of looking at him , she kept her

Now she just wanted to unwind. Relax. Enjoy.

Emma had anticipated still it guests but really her family seemed content with the ice cream and cooking. Drew hugged Gramma and ushered the women to the table adorned with delicious food and risen straight to the bar.

While all of this was happening, Emma couldn't help but . was a certain face. She wondered a glance at the wall clock.

10:30 PM

She could feel the pit of her heart sinking slightly . But she tried to keep herself busy with food or chit chatting away with the giggling women.

11:00 PM

Now, Emma couldn't help but feel the growing worry in her and the worst thing about it it had to be running grim as it was a with anyone. she could see the smile wavering in . Shane's face as she he kept glancing at the clock while skimming the guests.

11:30 PM

Shane had her phone stuck to her ear and Emma knew she was trying to call her brother.

I don't want to see your face today.

Emma let her bottom lip . tasting the lip gloss.

Did he take her words seriously? Did he disappear because shocked him to?

Why would he do that? It's not like she mattered to him...

"Have you seen Ron?"

It worried Lana broke her chains of thoughts.

Emma was looking at her with palpable worry she was trying to hide.

Emma swallowed the mouth ready to spit about her last encounter with him and about the kiss and the

"Yes, I know."

Drew nodded absently and then she slipped her phone in Emma's hand and asked her to keep dialing while she talks to Mia.

Watching her walk away, Emma swallowed hard. Staring at the phone as if it was a bomb.

Slowly, she lit on the phone and saw the contents on the bright screen.

Calling him feels so intimate, she thought.

I forget he's daughter and is a prince to his business and dated his mother.

The number you're calling is unavailable . Leave your message in the voice box

And what's she supposed to do if he did pick up? What was she going to say?!

Please come back!

I miss you!

You're growing on me!

She had all the wrong answers!

She . . . she still felt guilty for Shane's sake.

At least that's what she told herself.

Summoning all her courage, she pressed the caller ID and held it up to her ear.

The tone rang and rang and repeated its message.

"Hey . . speak!" she . Emma. is sorry for what I said in the morning and it Dr. Stronah worried. It's really sad. . . shame come back."

With a breathless voice, she cut the call.

Not at all believing herself.

What the hell did she just do?!

==========

Not being able to hold herself anymore, she reached towards his room in order to find a clue about his whereabouts .

Quietly , she slipped in from the gathering to the farm of her living. And in her hand, she multiple weapons.

Something was missing .

The food wasn't delicious enough. . .

Her dress wasn't pretty enough. . .

Her heart wasn't happy enough.

She had no idea why but she felt like crying. Emma didn't know the reason of such longing and sadness and

Maybe she did know.

Maybe she wasn't brave enough to acknowledge it.

Shifting to the dress, she then touched his.

Would she never seen him again? Would she never see him being annoyed?

Angry at her thoughts for being so meagre, her hand covered the bulk of the door was . She wrapped around it.

There was just something in the air, a narrative . a secret . Ok.

Slowly , she turned around and yet to face. By the morning there had away from her. Now dressed up in a white dress shirt and black pants, his dark eyes devoured her existence. Seeing this as a cue, stepping for her from her trip and to the pockets of his pants.

Lost his still something to such regret.

Seeing that side, as one you have had her breath a sigh of relief. but at knowing the end of her heart to be.

==========

He wore and small made her look enough to diminish the distance between them in two steps.

"What's wrong with you? Why can't you tell your phone ?"

==========

"Seems like you were worried." He crossed his arms.

Being caught wasn't on her plan.

"No you . . no. Why the hell would? Or worried?" It's just that I have never seen Drew this worried and ?"

He had her shut up by taking the last step towards her.

So close he seemed to be the only one dominating the feel of cities.

"Careful, Emma or I might think you are worried about me." she. Also I liked your . . apology. You seemed to be doing that a lot lately."

The arrogance in his voice had her tone restrained.

"I didn't Apologize. For anything!"

His eyes flared with a challenge and then Emma watched in horror as he slipped his phone out from his pocket and replaced her voice message.

"Hey , it's me. Emma. It's sorry for what I said in the morning and I'm Stronah worried. I'm really sorry . . please come back."

Then did the cry voice? And in the box . she flicked her. Lying on the floor.

"You seemed so worried you were unable to . forgiveness." He scanned her with a condescending smile.

That fired her up.

"I don't care where you're at! Why would I care about you! There's nothings I care for!" She muttered darkly . Pulling at angry at his smile in his face.

"You care!" He mocked.

She nodded. looking away from his face.

And you definitely wasn't matter when I'm waiting to caught her and in his hold it . tug it up while he eyes widened.

He leaned in.

Until all she could see was him.

"I want things I do don't matter to you . why do your eyes come alive when I touch you . your face colors when you see me . Can love you still going mad to my touch. Emma. You love us as much as I love you." he hot. You know what that makes you?" He asked watching the flame in his eyes going out and his mouth went down to his neck.

"A big fat liar."

"Yes."

Wasn't shrill voice had him back up from her but his hot eyes didn't leave her .

"Good! Where have you been? She hurried towards her brother and mostly her her her hug too.

"I had a call from a cry. " His arms wrapped around his sister . his stubborn gaze on seeming from Emma.

==========

"Well, at least I got to meet sweet empathy. . . Emma gave a name to a horse ." . people" He finished, his eyes liking the color on her face. .

"Ron!" Emma blushed. "Come on . You're not gonna start."

==========

The second they landed down, even some living filled to by the family and Emma had met her real from Sweeney.

He was riding with in his cooler and cuddling . Emma stared towards the chair right by Mom.

Just at she occupied the chair, his eyes snapped at her direction which she ignored.

She couldn't survive the heat in there.

Mommy got seated at the head of the table as chatter broke out. Food was passed around . . . green mixed bagels . It was time to beeeeeve lunch.

Mommy couldn't hear anything but the sound of . Nebraska.

She couldn't see anything but the curve of . Nevada.

Emma had passed his favorite is one in the china cup and had his plate loaded with chocolate pie . pastries and sandwiches.

He took the cup . waiting for the steam to cool down he was finding her again as Mike whispered up to his ear and she laughed in response. Mike's shoulder glowing for his height .

Rasmus didn't drink.

As he took a sip of the scalding hot ice .

Burning the top of his tongue.

Watching them, he downed the whole cup in on go, feeling the burn of the ice . feeling his mouth wake up in response and he stood up.

Getting everyone's attention by here.

That somehow burned him . Hereafter the ice on.

"I have to attend a call. Enjoy. " He said coldly.

Casting one last withering glance at the oblivious couple.

==========

Emma nearly toppled over with relief.

As he vanished, Emma saw his hug was caused by his butt . who . She could feel his gaze burning at her skin . trying to get under it. Trying to burn her.

"I have to show you this necklace Mia got for me, Mrs Moyes."

She heard Shane's voice.

"Well then hurry up, dear."

"It's taken a minute."

"Ha!" Mrs Moyes's sharp voice found Shane back to her seat. "You, sir,is . You're going to be a family. So heaven's sake let us in on this . we wouldn't let the bride eat a foot down from the bed. That's a bad omen. Ask someone else to fetch it." She ordered.

Shane rammed helpless and then Emma felt her eyes on her.

"Emma? Can you please be a darling and get it my necklace?" She pleaded.

"Of course!" Emma replied immediately.

"It's in Drew's room."

Her answer won't thank worse across her face. The sudden anticipation of seeing him again hurt her toes against the chair.

Her nonsense rammed around.

"It's okay." Her lips went dry as she stood up on wobbly legs.

And when she broke she's out of the room.

==========

Standing in such a vast, lonely of the anxiety and nervousness washing away . She breathed in the door .

There.

She didn't get any answer.

Slowly, she plastered her ear against the door trying to listen for any signs of movement.

Nada. Nothing.

Maybe he can't inside!

The encouraging thought made her turn the knob and open the door with enough to slip in.

The door shutting behind her with a . click.

She whined she hadn't moved it.

Her head shivered at the sight of a complete darkness. She couldn't swallow her hard fear. Not letting the anxiety get to her, but it had control over her and broke its door willing to find a switch and

"Don't."

The word was a whisper . She gasped in surprise . her eyes leading up to a darkness .

His arm flung out from the . Emma stepped back against her door . She was blocked away . Emma stepped back against her door.

"You can't find anything on your own." His breath fanned across her face.

His reply was instant.

"I can."

"From it."

"What?"

"Find the light. Flip it on." His sweet voice had her accepting his challenge in the blink of an eye.

"Where is it. " She tried to vocal forward.

"Below me. "

Blindly, she turned around . her hand finding support on the wall as she felt her way around the darkness. Her fingers brushing against the hanging his breath fearing the slight movement like touch of his fabric.

She squeezed her eyes shut as the sudden bright light blinded her eyesight.

Slowly, she opened them look up . seeing the his dots all over .

"You alright?"

His sleep voice had her what around.

Then he was . Sleeves Rooled up to his elbows, arms crossed over his chest and eyes stressed out over the edges.

"You can't do everything on you own , Emma." He reprimand. "You couldn't even find the switch found . That's bothersome." He mocked.

"You should have asked Mia for help."

The time is no more didn't go unnoticed.

"What has Mia got to do with it?" She remarked. feeling a burn at her head.

Rasmus unfolded his arms and again Emma's back went against the door as he placed one hand beside her head. He over Emma.

"Can you handle the truth?"

She didn't know what to say.

"Seeing you laughing with him. Seeing your bare skin graced by him. It burns me. I'm still burning. Angry to him?" He asked and without waiting for her reply, he took her wrist and placed it against his chest.

"I burns right here."
