

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 137

Melinda thought that she might have overestimated herself. How could Jonas care about her at all, especially since Emily was already accompanying him?

'Jerk!'

Melinda cursed in her heart.

"You still look pale," Queena said. "The doctor also said that you are too weak. You need to rest."

Queenena felt Melinda's forehead to check her temperature. It felt funny because her forehead was still covered in gauze.

"Right, have a good rest," Nelson also said.

Both Nelson and Queenena felt guilty for Melinda's injury, even though Jonas was the reason for it.

"Mom, Grandpa, please don't worry so much. I'm fine. After I eat, I could probably run around the hospital," Melinda joked.

Melinda didn't want them to blame themselves for Jonas's mistakes. She smiled so that Nelson and Queenena would calm down. She wished she could squeeze her own face in the dark so that she could get some color back in her face.

"If you run like that, people will think you escaped from the top floor."

Queenena and Melinda were now familiar with each other. They teased a lot. The top floor was for the patients who were mentally ill.

Nelson and Queenena accompanied Melinda in her ward at the hospital. Her head was still hurt. She badly needed more rest. After dinner, Queenena urged Nelson to go home and that she could handle taking care of Melinda.

When Jonas got home, Gavin told him that Nelson said that he wasn't allowed to visit Melinda. Instead, he should just stay in the company for the following days.

There were always tasks that awaited him at the company. Nelson troubled him on purpose and assigned him a lot of tasks. This was all exhausting for Jonas.

In the company, Jonas was very anxious. He couldn't stand William. He called Nelson three times a day to ask him when he could visit Melinda.

Melinda wasn't badly hurt, but Nelson still wanted her to have an unbothered rest. He refused all her requests for returning home, no matter what kind of excuse she had.

The next morning, all the senior executives of Soaring Group were in a sullen mood. They learned that Jonas, Soaring Group's CEO, was claimed to be a wife beater.

The company seemed to be in trouble. Everyone was stressed and in a bitter mood.

William didn't hesitate barging in. The stock was continuously falling. The company's entrance was already surrounded by the media.

Aron also took advantage of this chance and wanted to give Jonas a hard time during the shareholder's meeting.

"Because of our CEO's private affairs, the company's image is damaged! Our stocks are falling! Our CEO really needs to give us an explanation!" Aron said during the meeting.

He directly attacked Jonas. Only Aron had the guts to say those in front of other people.

of the other people have to deal with this matter as soon as possible. The company's

Jonas took office, he had been depriving them every time as acumen and brought the company numerous benefits, the board of typical uncontrollable man. No one in the board could control him when this scandal comes out. I think we should deal with it as soon as possible—avoid the rumors as much as possible. Even though this happens often, arouse everyone's resonance. He was already excited to stand up from his chair, but he was stopped by the person at the shareholder with a sneer. He had a cold face. His eyes showed no at Jonas's eyes, their

Even if you don't on Jonas's side, but this could also be an opportunity for Jonas to bad for the company's image to that care about my personal relationships," Jonas sarcastically mood, with everything that happened. The last thing Jonas wanted

They had no idea who released the news about it, or who even took the

with her forehead bleeding.

meeting was arguing. No still spending her time in the hospital. All she did was read, so she saw the news as soon as it came cried as she saw wondered who would write a piece of news also affected by the news. Melinda farce, but even so, it affected Jonas greatly. This matter was worse was he even insisted that about to leave the company, despite the William was extremely worried.

"Yes," Jonas answered.

after all, and it provided a special passage for him. He

are people in was blocked by security guards. Someone was also trying to walk through different they divulged their CEO's information, they wouldn't have a chance to stay in A City the

his own parking lot. Jonas didn't use his special passage all the time. But today was special, so he directly went to the exclusive parking was a large space. A dozen cars could easily fit there, but only three of four cars were parked there. Jonas already had was looking for chance to get to Jonas's special clearing up, it was much easier for Jonas to leave. He quickly drove home. When he got there, Nelson and Queena were sitting in the

as soon as