

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 142

Melinda followed Yulia to the coffee shop she was talking about.

The shopping mall was filled with so many people. The coffee shop was on the first floor, right next to the supermarket.

The bustling crowd caused Melinda a little discomfort. Meanwhile, Yulia was looking around and searching for something.

At the coffee shop, Emily and Jonas were sitting opposite to each other, even though none of them spoke to each other.

"Jonas, have you been busy lately?" Emily asked as she stirred her coffee.

She was constantly looking down, as if she had no courage to look up to the man sitting opposite to her.

Jonas, as usual, was wearing a suit. This time, however, he didn't wear a tie and combed up his fringe on his forehead.

"Yes," Jonas answered.

There was nothing in front of Jonas because he didn't want to waste too much time here.

The only reason why he was here today was that Emily told her that she wanted to take out the token they talked about during their childhood.

Since the "token" was important, Jonas had to accept it. But even after staying there for a long time, Emily hadn't bring the token out yet.

"Excuse me, I have to go to the washroom," Emily said.

Emily couldn't handle any more of Jonas's skeptical looks. She simply made up an excuse and left.

The coffee shop looked very simple. It had no washroom, so she had to go to the mall's washroom. She also needed to wear a pair of big glasses and a hat so that she wouldn't be recognized.

Although many people didn't recognize her, Melinda recognized Emily's figure.

Melinda's face crumpled into a frown. She had a feeling that something bad would happen when she saw Emily.

"Melinda, what are you looking at? The coffee shop is over there," Yulia said, waving her hands in front of Melinda's eyes. Then, she followed the direction where Melinda's eyes were looking. It was Emily. She pretended to be surprised and asked Melinda, "Is that Emily?"

She instantly covered her mouth as soon as she finished speaking. After all, Emily was a little famous.

As expected, people began to look around.

"Let's go."

At this moment, Melinda calmed down and went towards the coffee shop. The coffee shop was busy at this time. Most of the seats were already taken.

It was so noisy that nothing else could be heard. A loud surrounding in a supposedly quiet place was very irritating.

The boss was going to cry if ever the coffee shop got really quiet.

Melinda actually didn't notice that Jonas was there when she entered. The coffee shop had many entrances. Two of those entrances were diagonally opposite to each other.

on the other hand, was looking around. Soon

another message

seen you," Yulia texted

quickly put her phone away. When Emily received

Emily was headed towards the coffee

fixed her gaze at

was focusing on his work while he was alone in the coffee shop. After Emily left him there, all he had been doing was finishing suddenly lost her balance and embarrassingly fell to the ground. She even bumped into a waiter who was passing

"Ah!" Emily cried out.

Melinda, who was still staring at Emily, was also

when the familiar figure appeared in her sight,

that she was hearing a thousand taunts

too serious. It's just another from him. The waiter stood there at a pair of handsome black leather shoes appeared in Emily's sight. Emily could see her own shadow projected on the ground under the

Emily cried out in help her up,' Jonas thought. He was slowly squatted down. He held Emily up, but he where Melinda was. Not far from Emily and Jonas, Melinda was staring at the both of them with put her hands around Jonas's neck and kissed in shock. Tears instantly welled up in her eyes. Even though she tried to kiss was as cold as it was expected. Before Emily could make another scene, her in disgust and wiped his lips with his hand. Emily's heart sank, and the first thing she did was look for Melinda. But

Emily

I'm sorry,"

and found that she sprained an possibly make Jonas forgive Emily. He just could never like a

regretful, Emily held the seat beside her me off for Melinda's sake," Emily said to pity herself even more. She she couldn't give up. After all, she sorry. I just couldn't help it,"

on top

now on, I won't bother you ever again," Emily

coming in and out of the coffee

down. Sitting opposite to her was Yulia,

you okay?" Yulia

stared at

image of Emily kissing

of them was her husband, the one who said

really did pull tricks on

like this," Yulia

Melinda's arm, trying to talk her out of