

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 156

Melinda was never so calm in the past few years. She used to go after Jonas.

This time, she was going to live for herself.

Melinda looked around her small home, with a soft smile on her face and a touch of relaxation.

She hadn't planned for the future, but now she began to think carefully about what she should do next. First of all, she needed to have a job as a mature urban woman.

After browsing the recruitment, Melinda found that she had no resume. The resume in the USB flash drive was used during her university years as a part-time job. But it was useless now.

"It seems that I need to make a resume first," Melinda sighed with emotion. It was not easy to be a rich lady. Now she was unfamiliar with these, so she finally made a fairly perfect resume with the help of Kent.

That was because she was once a graduate and had no experience in business.

"What do you want to do?"

It had been a long time since Melinda graduated, but she was just like a girl who was just out of college, except for that she looked more mature now for the experience in the past few years.

"I'm watching it. Full time job, but... But it might be a little difficult for me to find a suitable one. Just do it step by step. A bite can't make me fat."

Melinda had read many company's requests today. Most of them want experienced people first. She just had taken part-time jobs several years ago.

As the society was developing, the working content of each profession naturally changed.

Her hesitation just now was because she thought that she had been isolated from the society all these years, but it didn't matter, because she had much time to adapt to it now.

"Full time job is pretty good. You can support yourself here, but you don't need to live a single-time life," Kent replied.

Now what worried Kent most was that Melinda was always alone. The life in Gu family had made her almost disappear in her circle of friends. It was not easy to get rid of it, but he didn't want her to be trapped in it.

"How about I recommend you some companies?" Kent has accumulated a lot of connections over the years, and he can help a lot to find a job in the industry for Melinda.

"Am I using a back door?" Melinda joked. She certainly knew that Kent's recommendation was not simple. But she knew a lot about various rules in the past years, so she would not refuse.

"Yes, don't embarrass me." Kent did not hide anything from her, and then sent a document to Melinda. It contained the information of several companies and he marked the key points to her carefully.

it was easy for Melinda to find a job. She chose a position little nervous before the interview and her indifferent attitude at

She felt happy simply that she could work as an a life would not be monotonous, even if

do you want a have a file to deliver first." Melinda was in the planning department with the proposal of a wine party in her hand.

other colleagues. Melinda had to send the proposal to the general manager's office. As no more than three floors, she walked down the voice. She looked ahead and saw a couple

The man in front of her was her boss, Victor Cheng, and the woman was not a stranger. She mind, Melinda concealed her astonishment and sped up in silence, wishing that soon as he heard the footsteps. Now he was amused to see Melinda lowering the door of the stairwell, her fingers moving around Victor's chest hand, opened the door and

She tried her best

she would be forced out of the company in to the general manager's office, handed over the documents, and left in a hurry. At this time, she went to the elevator from here. It was better to walk for a long time after Victor went back to his office, he finally remembered the person named after work?" Maggie, who was the girl who had helped Melinda to order takeout before, asked

Interesting. A

Melinda returned to her seat, she took a gulp of water. Thinking

Maggie asked. After working with Melinda for some time, she had learnt that Tonight? Okay." Melinda was still thinking about whether she would be resigned before getting off work, but she suddenly forgot about it.

the company had been revised twice before it was finally agreed by the top authority. The rest of the matter was not their concern. In Maggie's beauty in winter was always unbearable. Wearing a dress on such a cold day was really long dress Melinda chose was simple, showing her curvy department." Maggie was wearing a short smile. They went to the cocktail party together, with central heating on. As they Maggie stared at the colorful macaroon with her eyes wide open. It was she who added the macaroon on the list.

the party was to little different this time. Maggie,