

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 173

It was at this time that Melinda noticed the man. He had a long scar on his face, looking like a savage.

Thinking of this, Melinda swallowed nervously with her eyes wide open.

The man looked at Melinda angrily. He did not expect that she would be so violent. His anger was even more frightening. Melinda unconsciously reached out her hand to search the things in her bag.

It was not far away from the community, so she should be able to escape safely.

"Why did you follow me?" Melinda still waved the iron bar, as if she was threatening. The man felt a little annoyed that he didn't expect himself to be beaten. The wound on his body reminded him that Melinda was not a woman to be trifled with.

"If you don't tell me the truth now, I'll call the police," Melinda threatened.

When the man heard her words, his expression changed a little. Finally, he said helplessly, "Mr. Gu asked me to protect you."

'Mr. Gu? Jonas?' Melinda began to think.

The fierce looking man in front of her was here to protect her, but she just beat him. Recalling that, Melinda found that he did not fight back, but protected himself from too much harm.

Seeing that she was still suspecting him, the man explained, "Last time, Mr. Gu found out that Emily had put a tracker in him. Then he found out that Emily was looking for someone to retaliate against you."

"Revenge on me? I haven't bothered her recently, have I?" Melinda was puzzled. Why did Emily badger her when she only worked hard?

The poker faced scarred man's face convulsed. Obviously, he was speechless to what Melinda paid attention to.

"Mr. Gu knows that you don't want him to follow and protect you, but he is worried about your comfort, so he arranged me to escort you home after work," the man said. He thought, 'Mr. Gu is such a cold man. Sometimes he is so soft. But this woman is really a little more violent.'

Although he had a strong resistance and had had more severe injuries than this, he felt ashamed to be hit by a woman like this.

Melinda was touched by the consideration of Jonas, but her gratitude didn't last long.

No matter what he did or how well he did now, it couldn't make up for what he had done in the past.

"I don't need his fake kindness." Now that Melinda knew who he was, she was not nervous at all. She crossed her arms and sneered.

The man thought that Melinda was ungrateful. He was annoyed by her reaction and wanted to teach her a lesson.

to revenge for himself. Anyway, he could two days ago, a man followed behind you her about the danger of that day, as if it was just a casual thing. However, Melinda was frightened into a cold sweat. If it had not been for someone protecting her that her back had been wet in sweat.

undisguised at this time, which made again, "Now that you have discovered me, I as Melinda was cautious enough, she would not be hurt. He was hurt seriously. At this time, standing up from the ground, and offered, "How the guilt was obvious. The man stood up from the ground and pulled the corner of his mouth. "No, it's just a small wound. I'll apply walked steadily, except for some improper movements occasionally. Melinda walked slowly towards eyes of him, it was just a minor wound. Needless to say, if this person was really a gangster, her

It was the first time that Melinda had felt so close to danger.

she checked the windows and door three times did been tortured for only a short while by the feelings of fear

Jonas's house. Seeing his

she caught me,"

Even the bastards sent by Emily were not strong enough for him to beat alone, but Melinda, no matter how

"Did Linda hit you?"

no matter how angry Melinda was, she

this, Jonas coughed intentionally and asked to man nodded with a black face, but saw go to find several brothers to practice their martial arts to give pleased Jonas most was that Melinda was still the same woman he knew, who had changed her weapon for send someone else to protect her?" The man replied in detail, including the dialogue between him and Melinda. Hearing this, Jonas thought for a moment, but shook she knows that Emily wants to hurt her." Jonas still had confidence in her. Although he

Anyway, he

However, the bedroom was still bright. She almost

She was thinking about how to deal with the incident this time. Emily fell on her body, Melinda seemed to be covered by a hazy light. However, her pretty face wrinkled. The beauty in her the protection of grandpa, no one dared to bully her.

hidden behind her grandfather when she had made mistakes in her childhood. She had

It was almost 12 o'clock in the night. After she really didn't know who else she could