

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 175

As soon as Kent hung up the phone, he walked into the room inside. Emily was sitting there, but in a condescending manner, she confronted everyone.

"The victim's family is here. You can tell him your problem." The policeman was annoyed by the woman, so when he saw Kent come in, he immediately pushed the matter on Kent.

When Emily and Kent looked at each other, there was a moment of panic in Emily's eyes. In the past, she only thought that Kent was a frail scholar, but she didn't expect that he would be so powerful when she saw him again.

He had an aura of a superior. The position of the editor in chief had made great contributions to Kent's aura.

"Miss Bai, it's been a long time," Kent greeted her with a faint smile. He was still the gentleman, but his eyes were as sharp as eagle's.

"Mr. Jiang, I have a question for you. Why did you ask the police to take me here?" Emily didn't like Kent, just like she didn't like Melinda.

She didn't like anyone who was kind to Melinda. In her opinion, they were all blind that they would be kind to Melinda. Nelson was the most serious one, and the second one was Kent.

"Of course for a serious matter. Miss Bai, have you forgotten that you have threatened Mellie so soon?" Kent pushed his glasses up the bridge of his nose, as if a ray of cold light flashed. Hearing what he said, Emily was in a panic and then sneered.

"Are you making up a story? I know you're a good story teller. But why would I do such things to destroy my reputation since I'm so famous? What's wrong with me?"

Emily said, with her fingers under the table clenching tightly. She forced herself to cheer up and deal with the person in front of her.

She didn't forget that Kent was a smart man. He was eloquent enough to turn the dark into the white.

"I don't know if there is anything wrong with you, but you did do that," Kent said and sat at the opposite side of Emily calmly. The police looked at them and found that Emily was like a clown.

"Stop talking nonsense here. I have no reason to do that. And, where is the evidence?"

said Emily. She believed that the person would not expose her. Hearing her words, Kent frowned as if he thought of a difficult thing. Which made Emily a little proud. She pointed at the police and said, "I want to sue this person for slander and destroy my reputation. I'm a public figure. Do you know how serious the effect is?"

While the policemen looked at each other, a woman came in again. This woman was Emily's new agent, who was in her thirties and was very composed. Hearing Emily's yelling, she frowned.

She wouldn't take over the awful mess if her superior didn't ask her to accept the job.

Although Emily was cleaned up, her agent knew clearly that Emily was just a mess. And she didn't expect that the mess would make trouble for her as she was called to the police just after a few days since she took over this mess.

I

woman was arranged by Jonas, since she was well connected, if she came, she would definitely find a way to was more, Kent had no evidence now.

that. If there was no evidence, would the police station let Kent mess around with her?

had got the evidence from Jonas do you think there is any evidence that Emily could only mutter how famous she was, not that," Kent said said that at a double answer, and he was vague with her. She couldn't help but think whether he had any evidence. If she was set up, what should she do? And the most annoying thing was that she didn't know the truth. She privacy, if the privacy is invaded, we also must pay attention to it." The news? But fortunately, you've been very careful and face darkened as he heard the irony in Kent's words. Those policemen with Kent, but was pressed down by the agent. Kent was still smiling on earth do you want to do?

knew that it was likely to be true, while Kent was the most reasonable one. When was reasonable reported. They had received evidence. Although the case agent realized that Kent had come well prepared, so she looked at Emily angrily. But she knew what to do was the best solution.

that the police have to go through this. It is better to make your superstar, apologize persuade. But his attitude showed that he would solve the problem for sure. Otherwise, Emily be the fainted. Was she still thinking that it was not a big deal? Her attitude was still as expected, the smile on Kent's face froze. "Make the apology public, or we'll sue you.

skillful, it was useless since Kent rejected the negotiation at this time. Thinking take over? Her reputation in the business still. The agent finally compromised and hurt by anything recently, it will be all up to you. You'd better not let me no one would think it was a joke. And now, what was worse, they not only end up like this. She was unwilling to accept this, but she knew