

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 194

Nelson was a decisive person. After being persuaded by Queena, and he also missed Melinda, he immediately asked Gavin to arrange a car for him to Melinda's apartment.

After the last dinner, Melinda felt a little uncomfortable in her stomach. She ate light food these two days. As a result, she was caught by Nelson on the spot.

"Why do you eat so casually? You had lost a lot of weight. Now, you are going to be skinny." Nelson's eyes were full of pity. What he said was full of his reproachful emotion.

Melinda wanted to explain, but she feared that Nelson would feel sorry for her if he knew that she had hurt her stomach because of the gathering and drinking. So she just closed her mouth, without saying anything, and listened with her head down to his awkward concern.

Nelson chattered for a while, but Melinda didn't say a word. At last, she stood aside with a glass of water in her hand.

"Grandpa, drink some water." Melinda had a deep and graceful smile, which made people want to smile with her.

Nelson had no immunity to her smile. His pretending to be serious just now disappeared in an instant.

"You naughty girl," Nelson sighed with profound resignation. Melinda helped him to sit down on the sofa, and Nelson took a sip of the water to calm himself down. When the glass of water fell, he hesitated and finally opened his mouth, "Linda, move back. No one dares to make you suffer once I can protect you."

The smile on Melinda's face suddenly froze, and then she said vaguely, "Grandpa, I live here very well."

"Jonas has realized his mistake. He... Please give each other a chance and go home." Nelson sighed deeply at the mention of Jonas. He had been lack of confidence since he tried to convince Melinda to go back home.

Melinda still didn't change her mind. She just shook her head with a smile. Nelson knew her stubbornness, so he didn't expect her to come back to the Gu's mansion.

"It has been such a long time since that happened and all the misunderstandings have been proved to be mistakes. Why don't you two sit down and have a good talk? Would you like to have a meal together?"

Nelson looked at her with hope. This was his last struggle. Although a meal could not represent anything, it at least had two people to clear up all the misunderstandings.

Instead of agreeing to his request or refusing it immediately, she thought for a long time before she nodded and said, "Okay, I will have a meal with him in peace."

They could act as if they hadn't had any difficulties in their relationship for the last several years and they could be just friends.

Nelson breathed a sigh of relief. He had been worried that he would fail when he came here.

The restaurant was reserved by Nelson. It was a private restaurant owned by the Soaring Group, and only people from Gu's family would come to have dinner at this restaurant. If he wasn't worried about Melinda's unhappiness, he almost wanted to prepare the meal in Gu's mansion.
