

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 195

Emily's finger fell on the paper, a cunning smile appearing on the corner of her mouth. She fancied this plan in her mind and felt that it was very suitable.

She didn't have much savings in her credit card, but she still hired some bodyguards to work for her.

Her plan was simple. She planned to kidnap Jonas when he went back home and save the hero. Naturally, it was her, Emily, who stood out. Jonas was affectionate, so he would surely be grateful to her.

Emily thought it was a perfect plan. She not only knew Jonas's character, but also knew his schedule of daily life. Only by knowing all of these could she implement this plan perfectly.

Soon, Emily showed up in a hidden building group. The building was a little shabby, but many people knew that the gang was here.

Most of them are people who do things with money.

Emily had talked to the person who was in charge of, and told them that she needed a few strong men to help her out, but she couldn't give them the specific time. There were knife scars all over these people, and they were ferocious at first glance. With satisfaction, Emily told them her plan.

"This way, he won't be hurt. Do you understand?" Emily was afraid that the group of people did not understand, so she asked carefully. The few strong men nodded at the same time.

The smile on Emily's face immediately relaxed a lot. When she thought of the perfect plan, her face became brighter.

Instead of rushing back to her apartment, she walked towards a coffee shop. Today she not only invited this group of people, but also an old friend she had met two years ago.

There was a secret relationship between her and that person.

If it was someone else, Emily would never want to see, but she could not help having a little expectation on that person.

The coffee shop was the Starbucks in a shopping mall. Emily wore sunglasses and mask, and her hair was unbound. When she approached the coffee shop, she was recognized by the person at a glance.

If Melinda was here now, she would be very shocked. The man looked like Jonas mostly. With the aid of makeup, people who were not familiar with Jonas might easily mistake him for Jonas.

There was a great difference between their imposing manner. This man looked gloomy in the dark, while Jonas looked sharp and fierce in the high position.

"Here you are." His voice sounded creepy, and the malicious and frightening expression appeared in his eyes. When Emily saw him again, she was still frightened by him.

"Long time no see."

After she came to herself, Emily looked at the face that she missed so much. She was a little obsessed with this face. The coffee shop was really not a proper place for the person in front of her, but Emily did not care.

was what she expected. Those things that she couldn't do with Jonas should be done by close to that man. One of the media accidentally came across them media there must be a lot of articles to make that night. At the beginning, the heat on the Internet was calm, but with the increasing of repost, the reading views soared. On the hot topics on Weibo in the middle of the night, it was Emily of the next day, three articles concerning Emily had been the hottest topic on Weibo. As there was no news from the Soaring Group, the netizens did not dare to lively. Emily was woken up by a phone call from her agent, but Sher rarely sounded kind on the phone.

asked you to come to the company. This is a chance.

in Sher's capable voice. Emily was first she was sure that no one would recognize her, but because she wanted to bring said confirmed her guess it," Emily said calmly. Then she began to put on airs

CEO, Emily's aura was different from before, but under the agent's hint, man.

exactly

of Emily in this matter.

the man on the photo your friend?" the CEO asked in an implicit voice, without hesitation. Her image had long collapsed, so she didn't need to act like an innocent girl in front of eyes indicated that she

"Yes."

If he is popular, everyone won't forget your kindness," the CEO said. He would never have any chance to ask Jonas to act in the rest of his life.

attracted Emily. She had already been banished from the knew what to do. She couldn't help smiling. But "Sorry, I refuse."

the corner of her lips was almost dazzling in the CEO's eyes, but she didn't seem to sense that. And his made will be banished forever. Even if the contract is over, you will not be able to have anyone take over you then." The CEO's face darkened and he threatened Emily with a long time, there would be no fans at all. The company's warning was not so was so unbearable that Emily couldn't turn over, and the news that leaked out was absolutely negative.

was smart enough to know the stakes. She could are a smart girl. You should think it over. If you agree, you will be the leading role