

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 208

Jonas seemed very happy when he heard his mother praise Melinda, so he was also happy even when Queena was nagging again.

He couldn't wait to give Melinda the best compliment in the world.

"Mommy, help me take care of Linda. I want to buy something to eat for her. She will be hungry when she wakes up."

Jonas put his hand on Queena's shoulder to calm her down. He said these words naturally, as if it was God's truth when it came to taking care of Melinda.

Queenena saw that her son was so aware, and she immediately felt a little emotional. Since Jonas had grown up, he had been indifferent to love. It was rare for him to take care of people in person like this.

"You stay here and be good with Linda. Don't worry about the food. I have asked the servant to prepare it. It will be fine when it is sent here."

Hearing this, Jonas breathed a sigh of relief. He did know a lot about life. It was lucky that he had his mother.

"Thank you, Mommy."

Queenena wanted to pat him on the head like she did when Jonas was a child, but found that the child had grown up and she could not reach his head.

Her hand slid down and covered Jonas's hand. She patted his hand with a motherly soft smile, which was complicated but more proud.

"Linda is our lucky star and your benefactor. This is a good opportunity. You have to seize it." The scene of Jonas being trapped in love frightened many people. Although it was a disaster, it was a rare opportunity.

Melinda no longer held a grudge against Jonas and now she was pregnant.

Many families were forced to have a marriage due to their children. And many women were pregnant before getting married. As a result, she had been entangled with Jonas's father for so long even though she was not happy with him, just because of Jonas.

"I will cherish it." Jonas's eyes were full of sincerity. Now, Queenena was the witness. She witnessed his love for Melinda and his oath.

Before long, they saw a group of people coming in the corridor. Gavin took Nelson's arm and they were followed by two servants who carried many tonics in their hands.

Mr. Gu walked in a hurry than usual, and he was also anxious in his shrewd eyes. When he saw Jonas and Queena standing at the door, his face involuntarily showed a touch of blame.

Seeing this, Jonas rushed to support him.

"Slow down, Grandpa."

"Slow down? You two, why don't you tell me first when you know such an important thing?" Nelson said in a low voice. It was obvious that he was dissatisfied that Jonas didn't inform him in the first place.
