

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 227

"Wonton is ready. Have some now." Jonas put the bowl in front of Melinda. From the pitiful look on her face, people who didn't know her might think that he was snatching the food from her.

Melinda couldn't wait to eat the wonton. Resisting the urge to knock on her head, Jonas picked up his vibrating phone.

"Mommy."

He was in a good mood, so his tone was pleasant. Queena looked at the number on the screen, and it was his son's. She didn't call the wrong number.

"Why didn't you go back home last night? Did you mess around outside? Linda is pregnant now. If you do this, I won't admit you as my son. I'm going to drive you out and take Linda home. In this way, you won't be annoyed..."

Queena regained consciousness and thought of the purpose of the call. Jonas's face was filled with confusion, but Melinda didn't notice it and quietly ate breakfast beside him.

"Mom, that's enough. You should give your son a chance to speak."

Seeing that Queena was almost exaggerating and she was about to convict him, Jonas hurried to stop her.

"Fine. Tell me where you went last night. You'd better find me the witnesses,"

Queena said fiercely, afraid that his son would make mistakes again.

Her interrogation attitude made Jonas did not know whether to laugh or cry. He glanced at the happy face of Melinda and could not help but smile.

"I took care of Linda and the baby last night,"

Jonas said in a straightforward manner, but there was a cold hum of Queena coming from the other end of the phone. "You're so good at telling lies, do you think Linda will pay attention to you?"

Queena was so angry that Jonas even dared to use Melinda as an excuse. Her son really deserved a lesson.

"Linda." Jonas did not answer Queena's suspicion, but called Melinda, whose mouth was full of wonton, looking up at him, "What's wrong?"

Melinda's voice was highly recognizable. It reached the ears of Queena through the telephone line. She was shocked with her eyes wide open and almost dropped her phone.

"Are you really at Linda's place? Does she finally accept you?"

Queenena asked in surprise, a satisfied smile appearing on her face. It would be nice if that's the case.

"Because your son is so charming." Jonas was in a good mood, and even began to tease his mother.

Queenena thought of the scene that Melinda detested her son, a chill came over her. She had no idea who gave this guy the courage to say such a thing.

But, it seemed that her son was actually very attractive, for those women were proofs.

"All right, I'm relieved that you are together with Linda. Take good care of her. I have to go."

As a good mother, Queenena wouldn't disturb the relationship between Jonas and Melinda at this time.
