

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 245

After Melinda filled her stomach, she vomited up again. Standing behind her, Jonas still didn't know what to do, and he was restraining his anger.

"It seems that the baby is quite troublesome." Wearing a pale face, Melinda straightened up. In a hurry, Jonas walked up to her and held her arm, so that she could exert all her strength on him.

"Okay, I'll teach him a lesson when he comes out,"

Jonas said seriously. Thinking of how miserable this kid had been to Melinda during this period of time, he remembered a lot.

Melinda thought he was joking, and even echoed with a smile, "Right, I will teach him a good lesson."

It was hard and exhausting to have a baby in her womb, but Melinda felt happy. Every time she was uncomfortable, she felt the vitality of the baby in her womb strong and relieved.

Jonas helped Melinda sit down on the sofa. The servant poured her a glass of hot water, and it was the right time for her to drink it.

"Jonas."

Leaning against the arms of Jonas, Melinda called his name with her eyes closed. She still had a stomachache. In the past, she usually slept soundly with her head off, but today she just got enough and couldn't fall asleep for a while.

"What's wrong?"

His tone was a little cold, as if he was at odds with her, but the care he showed could not be concealed, which made Jonas's expression a little entangled.

He seemed to hate himself for lack of courage.

Melinda had noticed that Jonas was in a bad mood, and now she realized that she had made him unhappy.

'I didn't do anything that upsets him recently, did I?' Melinda thought to herself.

"Are you in a bad mood?" Looking at Jonas, Melinda made a certain conclusion. He looked sullen, as if a storm was coming at any time.

If someone else had seen it, they would definitely stay away from him. But this was not the case with Melinda. She had seen the worse expression on Jonas's face before. It was not a big deal.

"Yes."

said Jonas unhappily, and he even looked at Melinda with hidden bitterness in his eyes. Being stared at by him, Melinda felt guilty and almost sweat on her forehead.

"Why?"
