

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 270

This matter was perfectly solved because of the help and explanation of Jonas. After that, Queena began to regret what she had said these days.

Because it was Jonas who tried to be the peacemaker, the conflict between Melinda and her was finally solved.

Melinda was so infuriated that she rested at home for a long time. But when it came to the matter of going back to work, Jonas always changed the topic.

Melinda was weak after she got pregnant. Therefore, Jonas didn't want to let her go to work at all, but Melinda felt that staying at home made her mind wander.

Because of her previous experience, she didn't want to stay at home like a person who was good for nothing.

"I want to have my own career."

Melinda's eyes were full of determination. Many people would be a little bit weaker when looking at the chilly eyes of Jonas, but she said firmly, word for word.

She wanted to have her own career, not to waste her time. Every day she woke up, she only thought about how to spend this day, as if she was suffering hard.

She liked the working atmosphere. Although many colleagues of the company were not very friendly to her, she still liked this society.

It made her feel that she was not isolated from the society, and she did what she wanted to do, which made people feel happy.

So Melinda didn't want to lose her job.

"Linda, the doctor advised you to have a good rest." Jonas was frightened by her stubbornness. As soon as Melinda took the medicine for miscarriage prevention, she began to make a fuss about going to work.

"But you know, staying at home all day makes me have blind and disorderly conjectures."

Melinda blinked her eyes innocently. Jonas could see what she wanted to say but did not say from her bright eyes.

It was easy for her to be depressed and doubt her value if she stayed at home. She didn't know why she appeared in the world, whispering a lot. Jonas had heard it for a long time.

"I'll take you out on weekend, and you can stay online for half an hour more. Didn't you say that you wanted to learn how to make pastries some time ago? I have asked Ted to find you a teacher,"

Jonas said with a smile. And then he added that she could read a book and talk with the baby, play chess with his grandfather, and even deal with the plants and flowers in the greenhouse. In a word, she could do a lot of things every day without thinking too much.

just want to go back to work now." Melinda blinked her so much," Melinda said, but she saw that Jonas's face suddenly turned gloomy, and she quickly covered her mouth with her hand. Her big eyes instantly became shouldn't was a very possessive person. It didn't matter if she missed her colleagues. The key

Seeing that he was a little angry, Melinda was anxious and thought about welled in held her in his arms, wiped her tears and anxiously asked, "Why hard to understand how pregnant women were thinking. Maybe they were just smiling to each other now and began to be sad and dejected the next go back to work, okay? It's so boring to stay at home," Melinda said in a in a pettishly charming manner in front of Jonas. Her cute behavior had stunned Jonas and made him stare at her in a daze for a while. It was fun to see a trace of shock on Jonas's face, so Melinda continued to pester him are busy with the company's affairs every day, going out early in the morning and returning late in the evening, while I stay at home a little child, Melinda swung Jonas's arm and acted in he say you are a loser! I will throw him out!" Jonas stared at her belly with scared of the baby in her to have a word. Will you allow me to go to work or not?" Melinda threw Jonas's hand away and was angry. "If you don't allow me to go to work, I won't at Melinda's action, which was in the style of a shrew, the corners of Jonas's eyes twitched, and if you feel anything smiled and looked like a child who had won the game of snatching a toy, which was childish but also got to work. She got up much earlier than Jonas. Half asleep, he gave her a quick hug and said, "It's still early. Go can't sleep. It's far from the company," live in a place not far away from the company, but the Gu's mansion was different. Hearing this, Jonas opened his eyes helplessly, and an impulse was generated a certain distance between the two companies, to hear any rumors from the people in the company. Hearing that, Jonas was speechless. 'Now you know that it's o'clock, but today he was unusually early at eight o'clock. William was shocked to see his arrival, almost knocking over a was very familiar with this road as there were already many people just turned the corner, someone suddenly patted her on the shoulder. She turned around and few steps. Touching the position of her heart, she felt her whole look in Emily's eyes became much fiercer, as if Melinda was insulting didn't expect you dare to be out of the Gu family," said Emily arrogantly, with her hands around her chest. However,