

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 275

After a loud cry, Melinda was finally willing to speak, a good phenomenon, which gratified Nelson and Queena.

When Jonas came back from busy work, he saw Melinda's red eyes and immediately felt sorry for her. He had just left for a while, but she had been wronged.

"Linda, why are you crying? Your eyes are swollen. Are you feeling well? I'll find something to apply on your eyes," Jonas asked her several questions in a row.

Although Melinda didn't say anything, he still liked to ask her. He would be very happy even if she only gave him an expression.

Jonas found that since he realized that he had fallen in love with Melinda, he didn't expect much to be happy.

Melinda shook her head. Then, she opened her mouth and said in a hoarse voice, "I'm fine."

Her eyes were full of smile, and Jonas was completely shocked and did not react for a long time.

Looking at the silly look on Jonas's face, Melinda could not help laughing even louder. All of a sudden, Jonas pulled her into his arms with strong force and full of gratitude.

His Linda finally opened her mouth.

"Well, let's eat. Linda's eyes had been cooled. They will be fine soon." Queena couldn't help teasing him when she saw the two people embracing.

Melinda felt a little embarrassed and left Jonas's arms, but her hands were firmly held by him.

The whole day's dinner was filled with laughter, as if the sky had cleared and the rain had past.

Jonas happily took Melinda to have a reexamination. However, the result was that Jonas was splashed with cold water and Melinda hadn't recovered yet.

According to the instructions of the doctor, Jonas had her a psychological class. But Melinda began to fight back. She felt that she had broken through the psychological barrier.

Now she was willing to speak, and everything would gradually be better in the future.

"Linda, the psychology class is not necessarily accessible for those with mental disease. Many people who like cultivating will go." Jonas had even mentioned a lot of examples to convince Melinda.

These examples were typical of businessmen around him. They were so stressful that they needed classes to calm themselves down.

"Do you think I need to cultivate my character because of my bad character?" However, Melinda misunderstood him, thinking that Jonas was talking about her temper.

of her stubborn personality now, she didn't want to listen to Jonas most of the time, not like Emily, she think she wasn't good what was going on in Melinda's mind, under a lot of pressure. The psychological class is just in a flustered manner, but Melinda didn't to this kind of

Jonas. For a moment, Jonas missed the silent Linda.

she be so doctor had said that the situation of Melinda was a dangerous omen. She was mentally ill, but she was unwilling to admit it, and she desperately denied that you need psychological guidance now." Jonas told himself to calm down to tell Melinda, but Isn't it reported on the news? Nine out of ten became more and more anxious, almost crying in the end.

her and comforted her for to deal with in the company recently, so I every day. Now hearing what he said, she looked at the class with me?" Since both of them had classes, it was not a was very worried that it was because of her own situation as well as the company's affairs that made Jonas feel sudden, she didn't look as stubborn as she had been a moment ago. Instead, she looked like a was very happy. Even so, Melinda was still have a try. Can you go with me?" Jonas touched Melinda's head gently with infinite love in his eyes.

circle, who were at a better soon. I don't like that kind of place," Melinda said sadly. Seeing that she compromised for him,

Linda. My

After getting along with her for a long time, Jonas was three times a week, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday separately. After Jonas registered for him and Melinda, he took her to the class.

bright and made the heart bright. Everyone was sitting cross legged on the carpet. The teacher who was painting skills. The teacher asked them to sketch the first scene in their mind, where Melinda started to flowers in a garden, as red as blood. Inside the painting took Melinda a long time. Even and had no interest in the outside world were simple but abstract, which made it hard to tell what he was

She let them