

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 279

Jonas kept silent when he heard what Melinda said, and then drove the car silently. Melinda didn't know whether he listened to her or not, and she was worried and helpless.

Melinda was well aware that he may call to care about her, but he was indeed interrupting her work.

The two silently drove the car into the mansion. When they arrived home, Melinda, who was very hungry, suddenly lost her appetite. Seeing this, Jonas had no choice but to compromise. "I'll pay attention to it in the future," he said.

He could pay attention to it, but it didn't mean that he wouldn't call her again. He was in a complex mood now, but Melinda didn't think that much. She was a little happy to hear that from Jonas.

"What are you two whispering about? Come here and have dinner." Queena saw them standing at the door for a long time and couldn't help but greet them.

"Coming." Jonas held her hand and led Melinda back to their bedroom. After they got changed, they came back to the dining room. Nelson was still sitting in the seat of honor. All the dishes were placed on the table by the servants.

Melinda noticed the time on the wall by chance, and felt a little guilty. She was the one who caused the whole family to have dinner so late.

"Why did you work overtime on the first day? You must be tired." Nelson asked a servant to make a soup for Melinda. The steaming soup was slowly placed in front of her.

"I'm fine. Time flies fast when working."

If she stayed at home for a day, she didn't know what she would think. But as long as she was busy with work, she had no mood to think about those things.

"But you should also take care of yourself," Queena said and Melinda nodded quietly. Sitting aside, Yulia watched them, and felt more and more incompatible with this family.

At this point, she suddenly began to question herself why she wanted to stay in such a family with no feelings.

But she knew better that she didn't want to live a miserable life like her mother.

Melinda was really tired after a long day. She didn't even dry her hair after washing her face and rinsed her mouth. She just leaned on the bed and fell asleep. Seeing this, Jonas sighed in his heart and felt that Melinda was like a child.

He would protect her.

The next day, Melinda got off the bed early due to Jonas's call. With the tension of the previous day, she did not stay in bed today, but was in a trance.

Jonas was really worried that she might fall down.

"Cheer up. Do you still know where the company is?" Jonas patted gently on Melinda's cheek. Melinda shook her head and pointed at the company.

"Here we are."

her seat belt and was about to get out of the car. However, Jonas looked straight in the eyes of her,

I can't pick you up. Don't forget to hadn't shown up in the dinner for a long time, there was inevitably a lot of gossip outside. And the big customer got out of the car. With a somewhat gloomy expression on the face of Jonas, he felt that she is a little different, ' he thought to himself. Then he saw Melinda turned around. Excitement appeared on Jonas's face.

ordered seriously as that she was going to be late. She rushed into the company in a hurry, leaving Jonas there in a total mess. Then he had a feeling situation had rarely happened before and she felt a little depressed.

office became quiet as soon as they saw Melinda come in. After walking to her seat, Melinda found a bunch of flowers on the the bouquet of flowers before her cellphone rang. The man who had just left was gently asking on the

"This is from you?"

such an interest. Hearing what she said, Jonas pulled a long face and pretended to the bunch of baby's breath, the much happier he sensed the banter in Melinda's words. He rolled his eyes and said, "I am your admirer, flirt. It made her the flowers. Don't call me if Melinda got a little worried. Jonas enjoyed the feeling that he was cared by versions of the news about the the office. She was in a good mood these days. Her inspiration was also good. As a result, she wrote an efficiency, Melinda was very worried about the quality so he had warned those people from the very beginning that did not find fault with Melinda's catching up on homework. Every day, Melinda thought those articles

After cleaning up, Melinda left the company. Before she left, the street. After walking that way, Melinda called the driver.

minibus began to fast drive towards Melinda. Before Melinda could take are you? Let go of and held Melinda towards the minibus. Melinda struggled watching this scene with satisfaction, and the person made a gesture to the people outside. Then the hands were already tied on the ropes.

darkness, a sense of insecurity overwhelmed her. Those men's words had an accent, and were even obscure, and familiar in the darkness that Melinda couldn't help clenching her fists. She