

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 282

Carlos' men escorted those men away, and one of his men took Emily to the police station, too.

Jonas hugged Melinda tightly and didn't want to let her go. Only in this way could he feel at ease.

Every time something happened to Melinda, the kind of fear would almost defeat him, but he had to be tenacious, because Melinda needed him.

"Linda." He stroked her swollen cheek affectionately, and didn't dare to touch her too hard for fear that she would feel pain.

At the same time, Melinda was also trembling. It could be seen how serious the wound on her face was.

"Linda, it's okay. Let's go home now." Hugging her in his arms, Jonas walked to his car.

The wind at the seaside was very cold. Jonas used his body to shield Melinda, as if by using this way, he had declared that he would shield her from rain and protect her.

But he forgot that he was the reason why she was hurt every time.

In order not to make the whole family worry about her, Jonas took her back to his apartment and called for a family doctor to treat her wound.

Even though he seldom came to the apartment, he still asked someone to clean it at regular times. It was not a big problem to live in it now.

After the mess tonight, she was very tired, but in her sleep, her eyebrows were still tightly wrinkled.

"How long will it take for the wound to heal?" Jonas asked a family doctor. The doctor frowned with hesitation. Finally, he said it would take at least three or five days. According to her physical condition, she had to take the medicine. In these days, she'd better not eat anything.

Though it was terrible and swollen, there was no blood at all. As for the blood at the corner of the mouth, it was caused by the teeth knocked on the jaw. In addition to taking medicine, there were also many other ways to reduce the swelling. Jonas had been busy taking care of her the whole night.

The next morning, when she woke up, she saw somebody lying on her stomach by the bed. He opened his eyes and smiled at the sight of her.

"Linda, are you feeling better?" "What's going on?" he asked, and then looked carefully at the wound on her face. As soon as he got close to her, she could feel his unique breath. Trembling, she moved backwards.

Feeling a little embarrassed, Jonas smiled and touched her head, "I'll make breakfast for you."

He hadn't slept for the whole night and had been very busy in the past few days. He felt dizzy when he got up. It took him a while to stand up and then walked towards the kitchen.
