

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 287

The servant who was taking care of Melinda felt sorry for her when she saw her like this. These days, the atmosphere between the young couple was intense. Everyone looked anxious. Finally, young lady changed a bit, but young master went wrong again.

It was really a hard time for them to meet each other. The servant gave a sigh, then she told Queena about it.

Soaring Group was very active recently. Besides Aron and his son, Jonas's father also took some actions. Since Jonas had no idea why his father did this, he had to ask Ted to investigate it.

William also made a call to mention this matter to Nelson. Nelson didn't pay much attention to it. Over the years, Jonas's father had not been very concerned about the company's affairs, and his ability was not as good as that of Jonas.

"He was busy with this today and didn't come back home?" Nelson seemed to think of something and asked.

"Half of the reason. There's something wrong with the cooperation with Y country. The president has to attend a video conference to fix it. He's likely to go abroad," William said. In fact, this matter was not so serious at the beginning, but in order to accompany Mrs. Melinda to complete the simple program, the boss delayed.

Of course, as a smart person, William would never say anything about it. He knew that Nelson's main concern was Melinda.

"Okay, take care of him," said Nelson. He was always so concerned about Jonas secretly. Looking at the emaciated Jonas, he felt sad.

When Nelson hung up the phone and went back to the living room, the servant just finished talking with Queena, and a touch of worry came to Queena's face unconsciously.

"What a coincidence that he has to work overtime today." Queena crossed her hands on her legs and clapped against each other.

"Tell him about it. He can handle his wife himself. Don't worry about anything else," Nelson said with pleasure. Hearing that, Queena thought this was the only way.

Melinda didn't sleep well all night. Either because she recognized the bed or because she didn't have the familiar smell, she ran in the morning the next day and went to the company without breakfast.

Jonas arrived home late in the evening the next day. His eyes were bloodshot and looked frightening.

"You are almost in your thirties, but you still don't take good care of yourself. Last night, Linda has been waiting for you by herself after she cooked several dishes. She was in a bad mood since she knew that you wouldn't come back."

Queen's words swept away the tiredness in Jonas's heart. He was a little annoyed that he didn't listen to his mother's words completely yesterday, and Queen would have reminded him yesterday on the phone.

"Where is Linda?"

Looking around but failing to see Melinda, Jonas then realized that Melinda wasn't off duty yet. Even though he wanted to drive personally to pick up Melinda, his mental status was not very good, and Melinda was likely to refuse him.
