

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 301

It could be said that Jerry only regarded Stacy as his chess piece in this chess step. But he did not know what kind of person David was.

He doted on his daughter, and Stacy also loved herself very much. She believed that Jerry was also a virgin at that time so that she agreed to marry him.

The two of them had sex and Stacy was pregnant now. Didn't Jerry want to force Stacy to get married with him by the baby? David was smart enough to figure it out, considering what Jonas said before.

It would be more difficult to get his consent then.

As far as Jerry was concerned, he was innocent and thought that a baby was a talisman. He believed that David would come to a compromise.

"Of course not," Melinda said firmly. She was eager to see that happen.

In this way, Jerry would have no right to act arrogantly.

"How should we let him know about this?" Melinda frowned and said. In the past, she would hesitate, but now she only wanted to solve Jerry as soon as possible.

What was more, Stacy looked like a good girl, but being used by Jerry like this made her extremely angry.

"He will ask me out,"

Jonas said in a firm tone. Last time he had said so much about Jerry in front of David, so he went to Jerry. It seemed that he would investigate it. He estimated that he would come to find him at about the time.

As expected, David called Jonas in person the next day to ask if he had time to meet him.

The place they met was similar to the last time. However, it seemed that there was much more sadness on David's face compared with the last time.

Stacy fell in love with Jerry. At the same time, Jerry behaved gently in front of him, which made him feel that it was impossible for him to do anything to make Stacy apart from Jerry. At this moment, he was so worried that he didn't know what to do.

"Mr. Gu,"

David greeted Jonas. Seeing that he was in high spirits, he couldn't help sighing deeply. If only his daughter liked such a person.

Jerry looked like a bad man.

"Sorry, I was delayed by some urgent affairs," Jonas said modestly. Probably because Jerry began to pay attention to his whereabouts and tripped him up, trying to leave a bad impression on David in David's heart.

Unfortunately, David had no time to care about these details.

"It was me that made a sudden appointment," David said. He had pondered for a few days at home, but couldn't think of any good way. So he wanted to ask Jonas for help.

"Mr. Wang, we may be a family in the future. By the way, congratulations that you are going to be a grandfather," his words were more delicate, which made David shocked with

are you face faltered, and his brows wrinkled more tightly. It seemed

"Isn't Miss Wang pregnant?"

worse. Thinking of his daughter's unusual reaction in Gu, it suddenly occurred to me that something was left undone. We can make an appointment next time," David said as he controlled his anger. He then turned around and

From the scene, Jonas knew sight, David began to get furious. He had thought it was not good that he hoped that they could break up, but Jerry managed to make his daughter pregnant. He had to be on guard against his cunning.

to ask any more questions as David's face darkened. David ordered with a solemn it wrong. Wasn't Jerry the boyfriend of the young miss?

to follow the CEO's order, didn't know how it

he was kicked by him. This feeling made him feel playing a good man recently, and has spent most of his time was unable to get involved in this matter. Even with the help of Alston, it didn't thing for the time being was to marry Stacy. With his father-in-law as his backer, the company's people would the Gu's mansion. It was said to be a rental house, but it was different from before. It the smell of love. It was the place where he was more furious and asked a group of people to was a little surprised. Then he opened the door and said pretentiously, "Why do you forget to bring the key again?"

he was pushed away by a few people. The people weak. But with so many people present and experienced, he was directly. It was a typical case that they were ruthless.

took two photos of him and waved at his friends. The group left as quickly as they stained with some blood at this time. Jerry was lying on the floor in a mess. He was so painful that every move he be treated at once, but the sad thing was that Jerry did not know who to call to send him to the hospital. He seemed to have returned to the time when his mother died, as lonely as recognized that the person who took the photo was someone

so heartless,

These people were doing it in a proper way, and the place where they be broken and his face twisted. The hatred in Jerry's days when he was beaten up. The pain all over his body was nothing about

Melinda should have been completely relieved. But somehow, she felt that everything was saw a piece of news about Emily in the past, she remembered that Emily, who should have been in prison,