

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 303

"You're pregnant, but why do you still take these heavy stuff? Why don't Jonas ask the servant to buy food for you?" When Melinda saw Queena, Queena also noticed her. She frowned at the thing in her hand.

She wouldn't blame Melinda now, so her son was the one to blame.

She went over to help Melinda carry the things. Melinda didn't refuse her and asked her to share the things. She took out the key from her small bag and opened the door.

"Mommy, why didn't you tell me in advance? Have you waited for a long time at the door?"

There was a middle-aged servant living in their apartment, but since they both liked the feeling of spending time with each other, the servant became an hourly servant.

The door opened, and Melinda found a pair of shoes for Queena, and skillfully classified the things she had bought. Queena knew that she had done these things quite often from her skillful movement.

"I didn't expect you to be not at home," said Queena. She handed the things in her hand to Melinda, who tidied them up, washed her hands and poured a glass of water for Queena. Then she sat quietly beside her.

"Jonas is quite busy in the company recently," Melinda explained. Queena nodded and did not blame Melinda for letting her to wait.

After all, it was she who came to visit unexpectedly. She had thought that the young couple may go out for a date, so she did not call to urge them. However, it was out of her expectation that Jonas was busy in the company while Melinda was busy shopping.

Their way of life was so simple that she didn't know what to say.

"I'm here to persuade Jonas to go home. You can't just live here all the time," Queena said in a worried voice. Recently, she had quarrels with Alston for many times because of this matter, and her hair was almost white.

"Mommy, I have persuaded him, but Jonas... You know him well. No matter what I say to him, he won't listen to me," Melinda said. Sometimes only women understood women.

Queena and she didn't think it was appropriate for Jonas to do that, but they was unable to persuade him.

"Well, that kid..."

Queena said in a hopeless voice. Then she didn't mention it again. She cared about Melinda's health, but after thought for a while, Melinda still mentioned what happened today to her.

"How dare she come to you, that executioner!" Queena got angry when she heard this, thinking of his grandson who could not come to this world.

"I don't know what she is going to do," Melinda said. Though she was arrogant at that time, she was also a little afraid.

"Don't worry about it. I'll talk to her later. As for Jonas, please try to persuade him," Queena comforted Melinda. She was afraid that Melinda would be emotionally influenced, so she accompanied her at home until Jonas came back home.

Queena was a woman of action. She said she was going to meet Emily and she contacted her the next day.
