

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 307

"Can we leave now?"

Alston looked at Melinda and found that she nodded despite her pale face.

He drove here by himself, he returned to the Gu's mansion with Melinda. Sitting on the back seat, Melinda was in a very complicated mood as she looked at the familiar scenery along the way.

Melinda was the happiest to see that Melinda came back to home. After a long time of Nelson's care, Melinda felt the first bit of warmth in this somewhat strange home.

"You are a stubborn girl. You always go without a word. But you are taken good care of by him." Nelson said with a pleasant smile on his wrinkled face.

He hadn't felt so happy for a long time.

During this period of time, Melinda had been living outside. With the company and care of Jonas, and being pregnant, she was finally put on some weight.

That's why Nelson praised that she was being taken good care of by Jonas

"Grandpa, we are not kids anymore."

She felt a bit sorry for Nelson who always worried about the younger generation like them at such an old age.

"In my eyes, you are all kids." Nelson said. Melinda smiled and stayed beside him obediently.

Jerry had been watched by David recently. He seldom saw Stacy, always wandered in the company and returned home if there was nothing important.

When he just entered the living room, they saw Melinda. Surprised, but with a smile on his face, and he walked towards them slowly.

"Grandpa, I'm back." Jerry greeted Nelson politely at first, and then looked at Melinda with respect.

"Good evening, sister-in-law."

Suddenly, she felt a fit of disgust, but did not say anything. She just nodded, but through the subtle sight, they could see that she was trying to keep herself away from Jerry.

Nelson was a sensible person. He patted Melinda's hand as if to tell her that Jerry dared to do something here.

"It's been a long time, Melinda. You and brother decided to move out. It was really unexpected." Jerry tried to change the subject, and brought up the old issue again, about the resistance of Jonas to the state of Alston.

"I heard that you are a writer, can I want to ask for help about that?" Said Jerry in a graceful manner, looking dignified.

However, his posturing was really disgusting for Melinda.

"The air at home is contaminated by poisonous insects. Let's go out and avoid it." It seemed that there was indeed a poisonous insects in their house and they were not mocking Jerry.

smile, and with so many people looking at him, he would never show his weakness.

house a few days ago. Now I hypocritical look on his face.

work today. When she came into the main hall, he heard Jerry's annoying voice. He came close and saw Jerry's hypocritical respect to Melinda, putting on an air.

Then he held the hand

Jonas worried about Melinda very come back. I knew it!" Nelson said

Jonas, he still gripping

was referring to their home,

he said this, the people in the living room all had different expressions on their faces. Jerry looked at them as if he was watching a

Alston was the most agitated. He didn't expect that things would be in this beginning. Jonas came to pick her up after work, and Melinda to go home, she followed him. It light blue suit, Jonas looked like a gentleman. Unexpectedly, she walked side by side, It seemed that they were at the most beautiful scenery in and was about to say something when he door for Melinda, Queena rushed up to own plan no matter what he did, but this time, but Jonas was making a mistake what's wrong? Are you going back with us? " Queena, although she wearing high-heeled shoes, she was still shorter. And Jonas asked her, looking at would lower his body and close the distance between them. But today,

Melinda gave him a push, indicating him not to transfer the flames of war like Jerry. But your behavior isn't impeccable. You did disgrace your said. Although she didn't like him, she admired him for his ability to shrink and stretch.

least, he had hidden his

it was all Jonas's fault.

put on a lofty and aloof posture, which made Melinda want to none of my

was so stiff that he didn't need to care about it. Moreover, he hated maintained a fake marriage with Queena making the family be complacent?" Queena really wanted to open her son's head and see if there was full of a smart man, but he became very stupid when it came to relationship.

he would become childish in front of the people to his senses. He did this now he moved out,