

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 316

During the breakfast, the atmosphere became a little dull and Melinda had a bad appetite. Seeing this, Jonas felt worried.

He really wanted to take her to the hospital, but he had to be there for something very important to deal with in the company today.

"Have you contacted the hospital?" Alston put down the chopsticks in his hand and asked Queena. His eyebrows wrinkled tightly, as if they had never stretched out.

He always cared about too much, letting himself live in a state of tension at every moment. So he stood together with Queena, was a couple but were brother and sister. He looked a little old, but it was fortunate that he had a good appearance.

Queena enjoyed her breakfast in a leisurely manner. After a long time when Alston was about to explode, she replied slowly: "I made a temporary decision last night. I haven't made an appointment yet."

There was a hospital in the Soaring Group. Queena thought they would be there soon.

But he didn't think so. When the Gu family went to have a check, they needed the best doctor to wait there. At most, there were only some doctors on duty.

It was not the case for those experts.

"Gavin, make a arrange." He ordered the Butler, leaving no time for him to react.

Sitting quietly next to Jonas, Melinda ate what he was trying to get into her bowl.

"I'll come to you when I'm done with my work in the company, okay?" Jonas lowered his head and whispered to her. His voice was very magnetic and gentle, like the black record of the past, every word felt like a story.

"Yes."

She was a sensible woman. Only when Jonas was there could she feel safe. If he could accompany her to face these things, it would be the best.

She was very clear that she was not pregnant with depression, but now her condition was really like depression.

She was confused. After the breakfast, Gavin arranged a car for them, and a servant followed them.

Queena and Melinda sat in the back seat of the car. After they entered the car, Mo Lian began to be in a daze again. As the car went away from the Gu's mansion, she even began to get nervous, She was really worried. The car stopped suddenly and said what had happened there. It was a pity that the victims were children.

"Honey, take it easy. We just need to have a check-up." She comforted her with soothing words, but Queena felt more certain that she was ill.

a tough task for all women. As long as you get through it, also nervous when she was pregnant with Jonas. At that time, as if to frighten herself, she watched numerous news about the pregnant birth to the baby through her uterine cervix to be dilated to ten fingers brought

Being a mother was the most proud thing for every woman. It was a super happy overthink it, was not in a bad

himself and being good to her in her way.

felt that it had been a lifetime. In fact, Queena loved time, she felt very happy, even if so stressed. She was worried that something out and held Queena, feeling the warmth hadn't acted like a spoiled child with her family for a long time. At this time, she really couldn't control herself. She wanted to go up to hug her Melinda's body slowly, a smile appearing on her lips.

She believed that it must be prenatal depression, or else why would by Soaring Group was very splendid, and the Gu family, the smile, but there was no intentional flattery or flattery, which so she must give a face to the director.

and you came to pick me up in person. It's all my pleasure." Queena said. Then she held 's hand way for them. There was an elevator in the hospital, and she also wanted to get the investment from Soaring the director of the hospital led them out was passing by suddenly stopped by the director. She stood still and finally told the situation. "A began to feel dizzy. What did familiar figure in the corner of a deal with it as soon as possible. Don't make it a big deal." The director said with a worried. If she went back and said something bad to Jonas, he might not be able to be a qualified the Gu family, almost everybody call. His task was very simple today. As long as he could examine