

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 324

Emily made an appointment with Melinda at a nearby park. Melinda found an excuse and left home perfunctorily.

At this time in the park, there were not many people. Melinda saw Emily at a glance. She was haggard than before. She was no longer wildly arrogant. On the contrary, she looked a little sad.

Melinda thought that it was normal for Emily to look like this now, considering that she got cancer.

Emily turned to look at her. Melinda was wearing a pink maternity dress, with her hair tied up a little. She looked like a 17 or 18-year-old girl. A woman would look like this only when she was happy.

Her belly had become slightly swollen. Although it was not obvious, it was conspicuous in her eyes.

"Emily, cancer is not a fatal disease now. Don't give up." Melinda walked gracefully to the side of Emily and began to comfort her in a soft voice.

She was really a woman with a kind heart. It was easy for people to be attracted by her, but it also easy for people to be jealous of her.

Such as Emily.

"Melinda, don't you want me to die?" Emily asked sarcastically, with an evil smile on her face. She was aware of what she had done, and that she was not so broad-minded.

She would even want to celebrate with firecrackers if Melinda had cancer.

Hearing this, Melinda was silent for a while, and then replied honestly, "Only at a time when I hate you very much."

She hadn't experienced so much then, and was desperate about the world. But under the guidance of Jonas, she experienced the beauty of this world again.

She was softhearted, so she didn't mean anything. Otherwise, she wouldn't have quarreled with Jonas regardless of other people's life last time.

Seeing her like this, Emily could not help feeling that she was hypocritical. She really didn't understand why Jonas had chosen such a hypocritical woman.

She put on a false smile and her eyes were full of devastating light. However, in the end, she said softly, "I'm sorry, I'm not dead yet."

As Emily spoke, she made a gesture to the people hiding in the dark, and soon two men came out from the surrounding, directly suppressing Melinda without saying anything.

Melinda was shocked and struggled, but to no avail. Then, her neck was given a pat and she fainted.

When Melinda woke up again, she found herself lying in a small room with a dim light. She was like a rubbish thrown on the floor. Although her freedom was not restricted by these men, she felt weak all over.

The two strong men who knocked her out just now were standing at the door, which was a silent threat.
