

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 328

When Melinda arrived at home, it started to rain again. She felt weak and it was very difficult for her to get off the taxi.

When she came out, although she did not bring anything else, her cell phone was still with her. She called her father, and it was picked up after ringing for a while.

When Melinda heard the voice of her father on the phone, her nose became much sourer. She almost choked, "Dad, I'm downstairs. Can you come down and pick me up?"

"I miss you, Dad."

Hearing what Melinda said, Vern raised his eyebrows in an instant. Yesterday, Jonas called him, which made him feel that the young couple were at odds, but now it seemed that she was not in the right state.

But, in any case, Vern would not refuse Melinda. He told her that he would go downstairs very soon and told her to wait and not to hang up.

Melinda could almost hear the sound of her father's anxious running and the movement of changing shoes at the other end of the phone. Her father had been waiting for the elevator for a long time. He could not help but tell her that the elevator was a bit old and slow.

She could no longer hold back her tears. The driver wanted to say something, but he shut his mouth. The girl in the back seat looked very sad. She seemed to have just come out of the hospital. Was she seriously ill?

While the driver was still lost in his thought, Vern had arrived downstairs. The window was open, and he saw his daughter with tears on her face.

After paying the fare, Vern took Melinda home and finally noticed that there was something wrong with her. She looked very haggard, without any vitality.

"Is it because Jonas has mistreated you?" Vern was very angry and asked directly, but Melinda did not answer this question.

She calmly said to her father, "Dad, I want to divorce him. I am really tired. I want to have a sleep. When I wake up, I will be fine."

As Melinda spoke, she felt dizzy again. She walked into her bedroom and shut herself inside.

Although she didn't come back often, the bedroom was still neat and tidy. Melinda knew that all this was the care and missing of her father.

She lay down on the bed and fell asleep. She even wondered why she was so silly to leave this selfless man who loved and cared for her, to come to Jonas and suffer all of these.

Vern saw that Melinda was not very calm, so he gave her room and time to calm down. But he was surer that it was Jonas who made Melinda suffer.

Seeing that Melinda was asleep, Vern made an appointment with Jonas, who followed Melinda all the way, and appeared soon after he proposed to meet.
