

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 331

After hanging up the phone, Emily was still immersed in her own smart ideas, completely unaware that she was just a pawn of Jerry from beginning to end.

Living in her own house, Emily was afraid. So she asked the sugar daddy to change to another place for her, but she was still afraid. She asked Jerry to hire a bodyguard for her, and was caught again in the night when she thought she was fearless.

Emily woke up with cold. She thought her temperature hadn't been adjusted well and was about to catch the remote control in a daze, but she didn't expect a handful of sand from it.

Only when she opened her eyes and looked at everything in front of her did she realize that she was so naive. Everything seemed to go back to that night.

Around her were several tall men, wearing tight waistcoats and showing their bowing muscles. The bright colored tattoos on their bodies were so clear even at night.

Emily was still haunted by the question earlier, and now she had to face it again, she was really dumbfounded.

They tied Emily up with a rope and tried to find something heavy to make her sink into the sea. "Mr. Gu said we should tie her up. Otherwise, the body will float on the sea."

Mr. Gu? Emily's eyes widened in an instant. Looking at a few people, the few people were all frightened. This woman was still silly just now, how could her eyes be so frightening all of a sudden.

"It was Jonas Gu who asked you to do this?" Emily asked in a low and hoarse voice. Hearing this, those men looked at each other with a guilty conscience. At last, one of them pushed her away violently and said, "What Jonas? Behave yourself, or we'll teach you a lesson."

Seeing this, Emily was more sure that it was Jonas who did it. She did not expect that Jonas would do such a crazy thing for Melinda.

No, she couldn't die in this way. Emily began to struggle with all her strength.

However, all her efforts were futile and she was finally forced into the sea. The dissatisfied and angry eyes of Emily scared those men in black.

Suddenly, the sound of police whistle sounded from the beach, which scared the men immediately, but when they thought of what Jerry told them, they looked flustered but actually stable.

They were not in a hurry to escape, but reminded each other, "Remember, at that time, no matter what, tell them that it was Jonas who asked us to do so."

The policemen came very soon. They were confused when they received such a report, but when they saw the cars parking on the road in this side, they realized that perhaps someone was really here.

They walked in a hurry.

As for the call, it was also made by Jerry. After arranging the men in black, he thought of a good plan with two advantages. It could not only solve the threat of Emily, but also let Jonas suffer.

a good calculation of the turned on the lights and saw several men in black from a distance. They shouted in an instant. "Stop them up. The few men in black did nothing but hurt people. In a situation like this, running on the beach was naturally not caught, but they still man in black who had been trying to resist and said fiercely. There were only a police baton directly pressed on that man's shoulder. That man was finally a little on there?" He was the captain of the team, who felt something strange about what had happened tonight, but he could not tell what was strange.

to find

who have committed crimes are here. They didn't the police, coming in and out of the police station from time to time. It was easy to tell that this person was not go of me!" Suddenly, there was a man roaring in the quiet atmosphere. He was squatting, but at this time he suddenly stood up and tried to take was quick to react. They dodged quickly and subdued the man and buckled him with their partners.

now?" asked the policeman, who was almost attacked, while looking at the captain of policemen. In such a situation, the person who was pushed down was most likely to save everyone. Even if there was no hope, they could not easily them up and take them back," the team leader said and quickly took the several men began to fight back again. They were not as strong as the policemen, but they of me! I'm not a criminal, how can you take me to the police station?" one of the gangsters shouted loudly. This sea area was the best place for crime, there was no monitor, and it was dark tonight. No one saw what are you struggling?" one of the police said. After the other took control of a man in black, he said violently, "No crime? What you did just in front of me." The young policeman pointed at a familiar face and said.

must be locked up for a month." The police captain looked at these people and said. The five people immediately became quiet. The police station was not a place what kind of situation they were in. Once they were sent to a prison, they many people away. Finally, the captain had someone check the cars of were handcuffed, they on you!" A man looked at the policemen and said contemptuously.

a long time, they thought they were the king. They could frighten many people or beat them up, but every police force of A City were not joking.

the police are two charges combined. You will have enough," said the policeman, driving.

of

like children did exactly the devil things.

much darkness in the world. Some