

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 338

Melinda began to try to run away, so the doctors and nurses paid close attention to her at this time, not giving her any chance.

Queena almost put down everything in her hands and stayed with Melinda all the time, but Melinda was in a very bad condition.

She was absent-minded and often in a trance. In the past two days, her face, which had recovered, turned pale again, and her figure was as thin as ever.

Queena caught her again, who was trying to get out of the hospital. She looked at Melinda seriously, but Melinda didn't care at all. There was only regret on her face.

She regretted that she didn't run away successfully and couldn't see Jonas.

She really didn't want to see anything at the moment. She just wanted to see Jonas. As long as she saw him, everything would be fine. But why was it so difficult to see Jonas?

"Mommy, can you let me see him? I know you have a way." Melinda had no choice but to hold Queena's arm and look at her with beseeching eyes.

The Gu family must have a way to get in touch with Jonas, instead of waiting for news here.

At the thought that Jonas couldn't get any help from his family in the police station, Melinda felt her heart clenched.

Hearing this, Queena's face darkened. She patted on Melinda's back and said, "Jonas will be fine."

She knew her son well. Even if he went to that kind of place, he would not let himself suffer losses. But if Melinda continued to go on like this, it would definitely have an impact on the baby in her belly.

Queena began to worry about how to stop Melinda.

In fact, Melinda also knew that what she was doing was not good, but she could not control herself. She was also very uncomfortable, and this kind of suffering made her look haggard.

Queena's persuasion didn't work, so she had to think of another way. Not only did she find a caregiver, but also called a servant who was familiar with Melinda to take care of her.

In fact, she wanted the two people to watch Melinda together. She didn't want her to run away when she was not around.

"No matter what she says, don't let her out of your sight. Ask someone to help you with anything, okay?" Before Queena left, she exhorted the two people in particular. 'Melinda is smart. What if these two people are cheated?'

The servant knew what kind of person Melinda was, so she said with a smile, "Don't worry, madam. We will take good care of Young Mistress. If you have something to deal with, just go ahead."

In fact, Queena didn't have anything important to do. She just thought that maybe Vern could persuade Melinda.

an address from Ted. She went to Vern's community early in the morning.

the morning here. Although there were annoying square dances, they always felt full of vitality when they saw those people. There were many people who knew how to take greet him. The two of them hadn't seen each greeted him that he suddenly realized she was the wanted to do, Vern stood up from his seat and said, "It's not far from my home. Would you like to go find a quiet place. I have something to talk with you," said Queena. Her face was changes that would appear at such an this time, she looked like a person in her thirties. Who would know that her son so he took Queena to sit on a bench nearby.

you first. We didn't take good care of Mellie after she married into our family," Queena said with guilt. His daughter, who was held in the palm of him, had suffered a lot in her own home.

once. His daughter suffered in the Gu's fact, he was a ruthless man. Now he stared at Queena, and Queena felt her scalp

Vern came straight to the point. Realizing that he might have misunderstood, Queena in her belly. I hope you can persuade her," Queena said helplessly.

felt sorry for his daughter, but he didn't ignore his son-in-law. He directly asked is tricky. But you have to believe in the moral quality of was afraid that Vern might misunderstand the moral quality of Jonas and take Melinda away.

came back,

kid. Let's go to the Queenena to persuade Melinda. Queenena was happy hospital without any delay. As Queenena said, the caregiver said bluntly that Melinda had tried several times to find a

You can go and have a rest now." Queenena looked at the two people and said with a smile. Vern was behind her. Looking at such a daughter, he immediately felt sorry big palm on her head. He rubbed her hair gently and said in a low voice, "Silly

She didn't dare to tell Queenena the fear in her her father was different. She could tell and supervise you in person," Vern said, looking at the pale and bloodless face of Melinda. She looked thinner than before didn't look like a

Jonas had seen this scene, he would have been heartbroken. He had spent so much time and effort to take

I'm worried about