

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 352

David had just heard the conversation between the two people, so he knew that Jessica didn't like Jerry. After a greeting, he came straight to the point and said, "do you also think Jerry is unreliable?"

"I think he has been taking advantage of your daughter." That was how she was like. If she had something to say, she would speak it out. Now that David had asked, she would naturally speak out her thoughts.

This time, Jerry really made her feel uncomfortable. Such a calculating and bottomless person was definitely not a good person.

"Although I haven't seen him before, I can be told from some things what kind of person he is." David felt depressed at the thought of Jerry.

Although Jerry always looked like a promising young man in front of him, the information he had investigated and the information he had learned from Jonas were almost the same as that of Jessica.

"It's a pity that my silly daughter trusts him." David said with a sigh, as if he was older and older. Because of Stacy, David had aged a lot these days.

"Uncle, she will know who is good to her one day." At this moment, she felt that she was too stupid to say anything to comfort him.

"I know, I just worry that she will suffer losses in this period of time."

David said. After thinking for a while, Jessica fell silent. But then David expressed his hope again. He hoped that Jessica could help him persuade his daughter, or perhaps let her see the true face of Jerry as soon as possible.

The two of them had been stopped many times, but David's attitude had not been changed, which made Jerry more and more uneasy.

However, he had done several schemes against Jonas, which made Jerry more worried about everything. He thought that he had to marry Stacy to make everything an established fact.

By that time, David would not stop himself anymore.

"How about you steal your household register and we get married directly? Dear, I really don't want to wait any longer. I want to marry you immediately and let you be my most beautiful bride."

Jerry said emotionally. Hearing this, Stacy felt a little sad but moved. It was undoubtedly a very sad thing that love was not recognized by her father and friends, and her love was also questioned again and again.

It was their plan to get married, but it had been delayed for so long. Stacy only thought for a while and agreed to that.

"Okay, Jerry, wait for me. I will work hard for our future." Stacy had made up her mind.
