

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 356

But no matter what he said, there was only indifference and even disgust on Queena's face.

Melinda couldn't bear to see Alston keep talking alone, so she pretended to cater to him and said that it was indeed a good thing for Jerry to be with Stacy.

But Melinda couldn't say anything else. In fact, she also knew that since Jerry had the help of the Wang family, it would be difficult for Jonas to take any action in the company.

At this time, she was a little regretful that she couldn't help Jonas in the slightest. The only person who was willing to help her was Nelson, but in these matters, Nelson had shown no intention of interfering.

The more Alston said, the more excited he became. Queena was getting more and more annoyed. She reached out her hand to hold Melinda, showing a disgusted expression to him, and then said directly to Melinda, "Let's go to the drawing room. These words are really disgusting."

The smile on Alston's face froze for a moment, and Melinda was a little embarrassed. She said to Alston, "Dad, you must be tired after a whole day's social engagement. Go to bed early."

When Melinda said this, Queena cast a glance at her. She immediately lowered her head and touched her nose. It was really hard to stay in the Gu family now.

Alston leaned against the sofa dejectedly. He had thought that if he told Queena about this, she could understand his behavior. No matter what he did, he did it for the Gu family and for the Soaring Group.

However, Queena didn't buy it at all.

After arriving at the drawing room, seeing that Queena couldn't calm down to paint, Melinda decided to comfort her and tell her that Jonas was not afraid of these. She wanted her to be relieved and don't make herself sad.

Although Queena knew everything, she just couldn't get over the barrier in her heart. At last, she asked Melinda to go back to rest, and she wanted to be alone.

"Mommy, don't think too much." After hesitating for a while, Melinda decided to give Queena a private space to calm down.

She had such an experience as Queena. Even if the person accompanying her said nothing and was quiet, the existence of this person was the biggest interruption.

Although Melinda left, she still told the servant to keep an eye on the situation inside. When she returned to the bedroom, she thought of the bad things she had suffered these days and felt a headache.

When Jonas returned home, he found that the house was not as lively as usual. As soon as he entered the living room, he saw his father leaning on the sofa.

He looked a little painful. One of his hands was on the sofa, and the other was on his lower abdomen. His face was a little flushing.

Jonas thought of that Alston attended the wedding of Jerry today. He must have drunk a lot. There should be someone taking care of him at home. His mother must be still angry.

to the guest room on the first floor and found a quilt to

Jonas, but she didn't expect to see this much, but he was not a little uncomfortably and almost fell down from the sofa. Seeing this, Jonas frowned. Then he moved the tea table closer to the his father. She leaned against the corner and waited for Jonas to go upstairs.

turned around, picked up his briefcase and saw that Jonas went upstairs, she didn't hide. Instead, she gave him a big smile and reached

Jonas to escape, and he held the filial behavior of Jonas, Melinda couldn't help but think that she hadn't to go back to visit my father tomorrow. I haven't contacted him for a long time," Melinda said guiltily. Every time at this contact her family. Her father was as awkward as her, waiting for her between father and the servant to keep you company tomorrow. I'll tell mom to leaned against him and began to count the scenes of her other for a long time, and now she sent a bodyguard driver to accompany her. It happened that he could help her carry the gifts. In the morning, after seeing off Jonas, Melinda set out to Mo's early to go to the market or something, and asked the servant to find the key at the place where her father usually of dust came to her face. There was no familiar warmth in it, but embarrassment, as if there was a her throat. She ran into the room in a hurry, but there was no one there, and it seemed that no the scene. Melinda hurriedly come back for several days. I thought he went to your home." The neighbor thought for a she held her in a hurry. The bodyguard beside her also stacked the gifts aside and and called Jonas, almost incoherently telling him what had happened.

Jonas caught the point in an instant. He frowned again and felt remorseful. He had put too much energy on dealing with Jerry these my father? Or..." Biting her lips, father had been killed. After all, the house was in a mess, which seemed to indicate that there had been a earth took her

Ask the servant to take you home. I'll arrange someone to look for him right away, okay?" Thinking that Melinda couldn't be irritated, Jonas comforted also busy. He immediately asked Ted to arrange people to look for Vern. He joined them