

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 366

What Melinda said was also what Jonas thought. He remembered that his father was still in the study when he went upstairs, so he said to Melinda, "I'll tell father. Don't worry about it."

At this moment, Jonas was a little regretful to let Melinda keep an eye on Yulia. But in this family, the only person he could trust with all his heart and soul was Melinda.

Melinda also thought that he could ask Alston for the truth. It was inevitable for her to be a little embarrassed. Moreover, Melinda had a lot of scruples about Alston because of the matter of Jerry.

"Okay, go ahead," said Melinda. She yawned sleepily, then consciously lay on the bed and closed her eyes.

In fact, Melinda's idea was very simple. As long as Jonas were there, everything would be fine.

He was her greatest comfort.

After Melinda fell asleep completely, Jonas turned around and went downstairs. The light in Alston's study was still on. He didn't close the door as usual, and there was some cold light in it, which made him look more indifferent.

Although Alston was dealing with something, he was still very sensitive to the changes around him. When Jonas appeared at the door of the study, he quickly looked up and saw him. Then he lowered his head and continued to deal with his own business.

This was the normal behavior when the two of them got along with each other.

Jonas had been used to it. Seeing that the man didn't say anything, he pushed the door open and walked in directly. The style of the study was somewhat cold and hard, but it was very similar to that of Alston. He randomly found a seat and sat down. Looking at the man in front of the desk, he began to hesitate whether to speak or not.

However, before Jonas had a chance to hesitate for a long time, Alston stopped his work and walked to his opposite seat.

Looking at the expression on Jonas's face, Alston was a little proud, but more dissatisfied. He couldn't explain why he was dissatisfied.

"Did you ask Yulia to take the documents for you today?" said Jonas straightforwardly. He maintained the most basic respect for Alston, but when he thought of what he had done, his attitude was inevitably a little different.

But Alston was used to this kind of treatment and didn't think it was a big deal.

"What does Yulia know?" Alston snorted. Although she was his daughter, she was invisible at home and in the company.

Fortunately, she was just a woman.

Hearing this, Jonas knew that Alston didn't know about it. So, if Yulia came to the study, she must help others find something. Who could it be?

boyfriend, or feeling that this matter was getting more and more complicated.

for in your study these times. Dad, you'd better be careful. Her boyfriend seems to be very familiar with Jerry." Jonas thought it was dull. Alston didn't say to do, you can go out first. Don't come here again if Jonas's warning, but

but he could

long as she mentioned Jerry, how could she stand sound of Jonas going downstairs happened to be heard. She wanted to see what was going on between the two, but she appearance of Queena surprised the two, but the expression on Alston's face didn't change at all.

his mother, but he had no choice but to and doesn't need your hypocrisy at all. It's just that he the indifferent attitude of Alston, she became much help but sigh in his heart. It seemed that his parents quarrel again.

He had done what he should say and do, and last, Queena left the study angrily, but no one knew again restless because of Jerry, and at this time, Jerry's heart was also fluctuating. At this time, he unexpectedly the photo about Alice on the Internet, him, Stacy was still sleeping. After Stacy was pregnant, she was drowsy. At this time, she had fallen asleep, but was disturbed by the ringtone. She muttered with dissatisfaction and fell living room outside to answer the phone. Alice was patient in his voice. In his heart, Emily was already dead. When he spoke to her at moment, what Jerry wanted to ask the simply a knot in his heart. Thinking of this question, Jerry felt that said in a careless tone, but her eyes were full of danger. Thinking of the file she had seen in the police station and everything that Jerry had done, she wanted him to taste all the hardships she was already twelve o'clock. It was really not early. Alice asked him out at this time, which made him incredulously, but Alice covered her mouth and laughed. Then she said meet at

He really wanted to Alice could tell him the answer. And ever since he watched the news, he had tried to get Alice's phone number, but in