

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 368

Alice seemed to see the hope of her own life when she saw the man. The woman who behaved like a queen just now immediately approached the man with a sweet voice, "Daddy."

The man was Colson. He happened to have something to do with his friend in the club today. Then he heard that Alice came here to meet a man.

He couldn't wait to look for her, but he found that there was something wrong with the atmosphere here.

"Mr. Zhang." The moment Jerry saw Colson, his expression became unnatural. He couldn't afford to offend him, so he had to be careful.

Jerry once again regretted that he didn't have any real power. What was the use of a director of the human affairs department? In the eyes of these big shots, he was still so humble.

These people were willing to associate with people who had the same decision-making power as them.

"Who are you?" Colson looked at Jerry with disdain. Although he was old, he had a good memory. If he had met someone who was young and promising, he would definitely remember him. But he really didn't remember Jerry.

Alice looked at them with a mocking smile on her face. Colson was her greatest backer now, and Jerry wouldn't dare to do anything to her.

"Daddy, this man always asks me if I'm Emily. It's really annoying," Emily said and rubbed her body against Colson's. They didn't look like a father and a daughter at all, but the people in the club were not surprised at all.

On the other hand, when Jerry saw the coquettish Alice, he felt depressed, but could not say anything.

Alice was taken away by Colson under his watch. Jerry was at a loss and stood still.

At the same time, the more Stacy thought about it at home, the more aggrieved she felt. She couldn't be with a man like Jerry because of a child.

She wanted to abort the baby and stop thinking about it.

Before Stacy knew Jerry, she was a straightforward person, so she could become friends with Jessica. Therefore, at this time, after making a decision, she decisively went to the hospital.

When Stacy opened the door and saw that Jerry was no longer outside, her heart sank.

At first, Stacy was a little hesitant, but now she made up her mind. She took the car key and drove directly to the nearest hospital.

would find that her hands were trembling, baby in her belly, but Jerry's attitude and behavior made her feel scared. She thought of what many people around her had said, and didn't want the baby to become the last at the hospital, she was almost in a calm mood. To her surprise, when she walked into the hall of the hospital, little older than hers, and she was even more frightening when she walked.

It

his tenderness to a woman called Melinda.

love between the two made Stacy envious. Before this, she had thought that Melinda was just a

Stacy saw this scene, she realized how naive she was woman, he would not let her carry his own child. If one did, he would probably have such a purpose like

Looking at other people's happiness, she felt like stabbing a knife in her heart. She couldn't bear it anymore around and saw Stacy. She pulled Jonas's arm and asked him to help her not familiar with Stacy, but as a pregnant woman, her relationship with her was subtle. After thinking for a while,

Jerry seemed to have gained a firm foothold in the Gu family, his surname hadn't changed so far. It was embarrassing to say that. In the past, Stacy would definitely feel

Stacy's answer, Melinda realized that she didn't recognize the

and the baby in and happy smile of Melinda made Stacy feel sad again. At last, she said with self-mockery, "It's not a prenatal check-up, so I don't need so many here today only to have an abortion. If know whether she should ask or not. At last, Jonas remark. When Melinda was about to scold Jonas, she found that Stacy's smiled, but it made people feel very uncomfortable. Then she said something that shocked Melinda, "Yes, with difficulty, but she was a little shocked

she had lost her child, she knew how precious the child was. Although she didn't know what Stacy had experienced, Melinda felt that it was also written all over Jonas's face. He exchanged a glance with Melinda and if Stacy had an abortion, it would be the most beneficial to his own

see him ignore other people's lives something, but she felt that she had no stand. She became a out her phone from her handbag and called Jessica, but no one answered the phone. At last, and death, please," Melinda said anxiously. Jessica's agent had heard about Melinda several times, so