

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 372

"How can you be sure that Jonas would do that?" At first, Melinda wanted to have a sip of milk, which was one of her habits these days, but it was ordered by Alice.

She didn't think she was that careless since it was the milk that the once Emily ordered for her.

The servant knew Melinda best. She opened her canvas bag, took out a vacuum bottle and poured a small glass of honey water for Melinda.

"Because I know him too," Alice said with a confident smile on her face. Although she had doubted whether she had a wrong understanding of Jonas for so many years.

But she found that most of the time, he was still the one that was familiar to her.

Hearing this, Melinda's face darkened. She thought Alice's words were a provocation.

But her expression was so sincere that Melinda didn't know what to say.

This novel was a cooperation with her company. In fact, many things were handled by Victor. Melinda believed in Victor, but she still wanted to check it by herself.

As she became more and more famous, the chances of making the novels into movies or TV plays also increased. At present, there were two novels in progress, and what Alice chose was the one that cooperated with the company.

Melinda didn't expect that there was such a mistake. There was only a rumor on the Internet that Alice was going to participate in the TV series of her novel, but she didn't say exactly which one it was.

The director didn't know the situation and misunderstood. He was worried that he couldn't refuse Colson's request at all.

"If you want to take part in this play, does it go against your goal? It's basically the responsibility of the company. Jonas won't interfere," Melinda said. Alice nodded her head.

"I believe in my own judgment. This role is an opportunity,"

Alice said confidently. Melinda thought that she had really changed a lot, and she was determined to get this role, which made Melinda a little flustered.

However, everything of Alice now was given by Colson. Melinda wanted to ask Alice about the rumor of her being a mistress, but she finally felt that she could not say anything about it.

What's more, she also thought of that. Wasn't that the way Emily used to be?

"Well, it seems that you are still unwilling to give up," Melinda said helplessly. But recently, she had a better choice for the heroine in her heart.

However, this sentence did not come out from Melinda's mouth, and Alice was still so determined to get this role. She even felt that this matter was settled.

Alice said with a confident smile,

But now she seemed to come no longer relied on Jonas, but on that there was no need to continue the conversation. Alice looked at Melinda, curious about her next move, but did much calmer than before.

that's all for today's chat. I can think about the cooperation after I go back to said. Then she asked the servant to hold her in the coffee shop disappeared. At first, Melinda wanted to look time and didn't expect to go company were all excited to see her coming back with a big belly. The news of Melinda coming back spread quickly from top to and ran out of his office in a hurry. As soon as the elevator arrived, he saw Melinda, Victor was frightened. He wanted to go up to hold her, but he said with a smile. She hadn't been to the company for a long time, which made end, Victor gave up the idea of holding her. He thought that it would be better for her to have the servant to take care of her, and if he went up to help her, it might be a were all outside at this time. Those people were still very curious when Melinda went in, but they refrained themselves if they didn't want was much quieter. Victor's style was more mature and steady, so the still many documents on the desk. Looking at the mountain of documents, a glass of water for her and a cup for the

she just let the servant sit aside and wait today to talk about the casting, right?" Victor drank coffee. Others said coffee could wake one of news outside recently." Melinda didn't want to beat around the bush with Victor. Moreover, in her heart, Victor was her very realistic. If Colson really put be destroyed," said Victor. Then he walked to his desk and began to the document to Melinda. She opened it and found that it was a general list.

were not only the protagonists, but also supporting roles. Moreover, Victor people

for this role, so when she saw the temporary actor and actress on happened outside, Victor still took at it again, Melinda was very satisfied, especially the heroine, with him. When he was about to say something, he heard a knock on the Victor, Melinda seemed to ask who he was. Victor's face turned a he had already guessed who