

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 374

"I just want to ask you something about the protagonist of the novel. I really like that role," Alice said coquettishly, leaning in Colson's arms.

She knew that Colson must have done something, but it was not easy to deal with Melinda, so she felt a little helpless.

But now, she could only make use of Colson.

Although Colson gave her a lot, she didn't have enough sense of security. What she needed was a sense of security that she could stand at a high place and have a high position.

Although she knew better than anyone that the higher she stood, the more painful she fell.

"Hasn't this matter been settled yet?" Colson said in surprise. He had already told the director and released the news. This was just how the entertainment circle worked.

Hearing this, Alice had no choice but to repeat the current situation. Colson finally knew that there was a woman called Melinda in this matter.

Melinda was not the kind of person who could be sent away casually.

"Honey, you are the best to me. Please help me," Alice said coquettishly, clinging to Colson.

She knew that this was her last chance and her last capital.

Since the first time Colson saw Alice, he knew that he could do everything for her, so even if it was a little difficult, he didn't want to disappoint Alice.

"Okay, I know. Don't worry." Colson didn't look old, while Alice looked at the man holding her.

She had mixed feelings in her heart. This was a man who was very good to her. It could be said that she felt all the pampering from him, the feeling of being treated as a little princess.

This was different from the feeling of being loved by her fans before. The man in front of her was really good to her like a father and an elder brother.

Alice really didn't mind being with such a person. If she knew him before she met Jonas and Jerry, she would feel that it was her greatest happiness.

But now it was too late. Her heart was filled with hatred. These love was no longer suitable for her. In her eyes, there was only the value of these people, nothing else.

you are the best to me," make things difficult for himself anymore.

The secretaries in the much for a role, which Melinda could not understand but was who was "full" now, was obviously in a good mood, and paid more attention to what Alice had mentioned. First, he asked his secretary to investigate it in person, and then found out the director in charge of it last time, and blamed him for not do everything Alice wanted, but this time he made a mistake, which made him feel very guilty.

said to the secretary. He knew that whether the matter could be successful or not, the key was exactly Melinda. Although she was the Puppet entertainment company was a little famous, it was obviously of the Soaring Group's CEO?" the secretary said in a trembling voice. She couldn't help thinking of the assistant who had just been fired. She just felt that nothing good irritable in the company. It could only be said that he more. But it was not easy for her to get Melinda's phone felt strange when she heard that it was the CEO needed to use the actors in his company, there was no need to let a CEO contact her in the servant reminded her that Alice was now relying on Colson, the in confusion. She didn't think she had any who contacted Melinda. Hearing this, she by him, and it was unreasonable for him to let her go to his company. Victor appreciated her attitude and said that he about the place that Melinda arranged, but he had no choice, so in his opinion, small. It was nothing servant by her side. When Colson saw her body, he had the course, Colson was polite too. Having been in the entertainment circle and business for so long, everyone was smart. Colson was one of them.

I came to you today. I don't like to waste time talking too much nonsense," Colson said and walked down opposite to Melinda. The secretary arranged mellow smell of coffee soon filled the meeting room. It had been a long perfectly set off her temperament. She looked gentle, but there was no trace of cowardice in people. He immediately realized that Melinda was not the kind of person who could be sent heroine of this play, I now he came to her for

"Yes,"