

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 379

Felix was a poor good actor in the entertainment circle. He hadn't made a representative work for so many years and had always been not famous.

During this period of time, he finally got a role that was deeply rooted in the heart of people and made people remember him, which made him very popular.

As a result, many of her previous works were found out by his fans. In the past, nobody paid attention to him, but now everything about him was exposed except for his home address.

The entertainment circle was always cruel. Felix had seen too many people. What impressed him the most was that when he was not famous at all, he lost a small role because of a famous star.

A small role might not be worth anything in other people's eyes, but in Felix's eyes, it is very important.

At that time, he had to fight for any role and any part of the play by himself.

That was so important to him, but it was because that female singer was too famous and lost her temper on the film set. He became the innocent scapegoat, so he lost his role.

So over the years, what he wanted to see most was that there was bad news about that person. But to his disappointment, there had been no dark news about that person all the time.

There was just a rumor not long ago, and it had been clarified before it was stirred up.

It could be said that he and that female singer had been in a bad relationship many years ago. The other party might not know who he was, but he had a deep memory of this person.

Felix also thought that his acting career might be so ordinary and better than the extras, but he didn't expect that the modern science fiction drama he had acted a few days ago would be popular.

It was a hot topic on major websites. The style of the play was bold, but Felix didn't think too much. He thought the role was good and novel, so he studied it for a long time.

He was so serious about every play that he finally got his own popularity.

He had acted the role very successfully. With an outstanding performance and a handsome overall image, it was hard to tell that he was a man of more than 30 years old.

Because of his age and experience, he was different from others, mature and steady. His charm was exactly what young girls liked most nowadays.

He was immediately chased by those young girls, changing his previous tepid popularity.

The company also began to pay attention to some of his activities. They would carefully consider what kind of program he would take part in. Unlike before, when someone invited him, they would agree.

He was so tired even without fame before.
